HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be seen, and tried, to be put into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing, or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child (twelve years old) can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alternating, in less THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who shall think, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded, if the machine proves unpatisfactory in any respect.

LET THE PEOPLE PLANT CORN, was Sam Houston's advice to the Texans,—some years ago. It is good advice now, in all our free and quiet States. In New Hampshire and Maine let the people plant corn, on as much ground as they can dress and take care of,—and not forget to plant plenty of beans, which will grow on even very poor land, though they, too, like a rich soil.

A D V E R T I S E!

Advertise!

IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers of the business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business to withdraw their advertising when their business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says "it is the time for the few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their hooks out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in fabulous advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one insertion or one thousand sold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation, or however long it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is as constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

Advertising Agency

—OF—

S. R. NILES,

1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston,

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Agricultural and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canadas, for which he is the duly appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, comparative value of papers and situations, are respectfully invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr4 tf S. R. NILES.

The subscriber having disposed of his stock, stand and the good will of the PAINTING Business so long conducted by him in Chestnut Street, to Mr. EDWARD O. COFFIN, would cordially recommend him to the large list of patrons who have so long favored me with their orders, as a me change who will not fail to give satisfaction in any department of his business.

MARCELLUS BUFFORD.

Portsmouth, Jan. 24, 1862.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,

House, Ship, Sign and Ornamental Painter,

Having taken the commodious and eligible premises,

No. 2 Chestnut Street,

as above, is better prepared than ever to fill all orders in his line of business; and while returning thanks for past liberal patronage, would respectfully solicit a continuance.

Particular personal attention given to HOUSE WORK, SIGN and CARRIAGE Painting.

All sorts of PAINTS, OILS, VARNISHES, GLASS, PUTTY, &c., for sale cheap for cash.

E. D. COFFIN.

Portsmouth, Jan. 24, 1862.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience, of the most extensive kind, Dr. D has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Persons who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1ytaw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

BALLOONING IN THE ARMY.— A letter from Yorktown says:—General Fitz John Porter ascended in the balloon, for the purpose of making a reconnoisance. When high up the rope broke, and off floated the balloon, directly over the enemy's entrenchments. The officer was considered to be inevitably lost. The hearts that were wrung with the hardness and strangeness of his fate, were suddenly cheered as well as amazed with the spectacle of the return of the balloon over our own camps. It had ascended to a counter current of air, and was wafted with its precious freight to safety. Once again over his own troops, the soldier aeronaut pulled the valve and discharged the gas from the balloon, and came down to earth "by the run," entirely unharmed.

NOT WITH THEM.—The Lynn Bay State, edited by that veteran democrat, Lewis Josselyn, who has been in the harness for thirty years, takes ground against a resuscitation of the Democratic party, saying that it is dead and beyond resurrection.—He is in favor of a new party that shall support Mr. Lincoln in the vigorous prosecution of the war, to be composed of constitutional and conservative men from all quarters. He suggests to them a policy that would give an opposition of strength against the radical Republicans.

☞ The St. Louis Chief of Police and his detectives have succeeded in bringing to light and frustrating one of the most ingenious and extensive attempts ever made to swindle the community. It transpires that an effort has been made to counterfeit, on an immense scale, the United States Treasury Notes, and that an issue of at least $100,000 of the bogus bills was about being put in circulation, when the enterprise was discovered, and the agents, their tools and unfinished work all taken possession of.

ALL ABOUT A WOMAN.—One Brush, a Savannah negro, about 28 years old, recently married, was walking with his wife, in the streets of Boston, when they met another colored gentleman, John Lang, who looked upon the woman in a manner displeasing to Brush. The latter, on Tuesday evening, called Lang to account, and receiving no apology suited to a gentleman, provoked a quarrel, and stabbed Lang in the abdomen—a fatal wound. Brush was afterwards arrested in Lynn.

☞ A muskrat was killed on State street, Newburyport, at the door of a store, on Monday evening. It was as large as a common cat. A young man was standing on the sidewalk when the animal came up and bit his pants; a kick in the head followed, that wound up the existence of poor muskrat.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday afternoon a laborer at the Charlestown Navy Yard, named Patrick Lyon, was wheeling coal from a vessel, when he was struck by a tubfull of shells which were being hoisted on board a schooner, and instantly killed. He resided on Bunker Hill street, Charlestown.

☞ Artemas Ward lectured in Washington on Monday evening, on his favorite subject—"The Children in the Woods."—He advertises to lecture in Richmond, Va., some evening during the coming week; Subject—The Stars and Stripes, and "That's what the matter." Artemas can't help saying a good thing once in a while.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.
His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.
His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.
COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin cough, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.
EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.
Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM."
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1206

SATURDAY, APRIL 19, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

FRESHET.—A dispatch from Peterboro', April 17th, says, "Contoocook river at this place is at high water mark, and Goose Brook is higher than ever before known.—The water is running through Grove street and doing considerable damage. The river is still rising." And the Manchester Mirror of the same day says:—"The Merrimac River is rapidly on the rise. It has increased one foot in depth since yesterday noon. The continued series of warm days for a week past, have at last fairly started the immense bodies of snow lying north of us, and the prospects are indicative of a great freshet, and a "booming river" may be expected in the course of two or three days. The water is to-day (Thursday) four feet deep on the dam at Amoskeag."

—— Mrs. John C. Foss of Strafford, committed suicide on Sunday morning last, by drowning herself in the river, within half a mile of her residence. She was about 35 years of age, and was much respected. She leaves a husband and two children. The cause assigned for the act is temporary insanity.

—— The Baptists of New Hampshire number 8,280 members. The number of Churches is 89. Members admitted the past year by profession 152.

—— Rev. D. B. Bradford, formerly pastor of the church in Raymond, has asked dismission from the Congregational church at Salmon Falls, where he has been some two and a half years.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Herald says the compensation for slaves, to be awarded by a Commissioner appointed by the President, is to average three hundred dollars each, and it may range from a dime to a thousand dollars.—Very few high-priced negroes are left in the District, however, and a large proportion of these, says the Boston Post, will remain in their masters' service from choice.

This was exactly the case in Portsmouth, Exeter, and other towns in New Hampshire, when slavery was decreed to be illegal here and Massachusetts. To a great extent the case would be so everywhere.—Attachment to good masters and to their homes is a trait of the negro character, in slavery,—attachment to good masters as employers and to their old homes, is a trait of the same people when free.

BOSTON THEATRE.—The Opera Company gave their last performance last Saturday afternoon, giving the whole of La Favorita, and the last act of La Traviata, wherein Madame Varian made her debut. The season has been moderately successful, pecuniarily. This week the Theatre is closed. Monday evening next, Mr. Jarrett opens there with his fine Combination Theatrical Co., containing a greater number of "stars" than were ever brought together before in Boston. The opening play is "The Rivals."

At the Museum "Faust and Marguerite" is being produced in splendid style. They do everything well at the Museum.

Mr. Wyzeman Marshall has leased the Howard Athenæum, and is now playing "Peep o' day," an Irish spectacular drama. It is said to be a very effective play, and rendered in a superior manner.

The Handel & Haydn Society give "The Creation" at the Music Hall, Sunday evening next, with Miss Lizzie Chapman as soprano soloist, her second appearance in public since she returned from Europe, where she has been completing her musical education.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's dispatch says Mr. Stanton, the Secretary of War, has no intention of resigning. He has never entertained that idea. It is true there have been some spirited discussions in the Cabinet councils, but nothing has occurred to render the retirement of the Secretary of War necessary. The President has said that he cannot afford to lose a Cabinet officer every time one may differ from him.—It is not improbable, however, that a change in the Cabinet may soon be made. The obnoxious member is personally esteemed, but regarded as officially inefficient.

☞ A supplementary appropriation bill of $30,000,000, (on account of the excess of men in the army,) passed the U. S. House of Representatives on Wednesday, by yeas 190, nays 2, viz. Calvert and May, both of Maryland. May, as the reader will remember, was chosen from Baltimore as a Union man, but "anti-coercion."

☞ A number of carpenters at the Washington Navy Yard are getting out the framework for an experimental iron clad battery, which has been designed by Constructor Pook, at the instance of Capt. Dahlgren.—When finished its qualities will be fully tested by heavy guns in the battery on the wharf.

☞ By order of Gen. McClellan, the camp before Yorktown has been named Camp Winfield Scott.

HIST. OF FORMER CONSPIRACIES

AGAINST THE U. S. GOVERNMENT.

The Whiskey Insurrection, 1791-4.—Upon the assumption, by the Federal Government, of the debts incurred by the States in the War for Independence, it became necessary to provide for the interest, and gradual liquidation of the principal, of that debt—making $826,000 to be added to the annual tax-list in support of the Federal Government. This sum Alexander Hamilton, then Secretary of the Treasury, proposed to raise by an "excise" tax on distilleries, and by additional duties on imported liquors. In confirmation of the Treasurer's recommendation, the Congress of 1791-92 enacted laws imposing upon all imported spirits a duty varying from twenty to forty cents a gallon. The excise to be collected on domestic spirits varied, with their strength, from nine to twenty-five cents per gallon on those distilled from grain, and from eleven to thirty cents when the material was molasses or other imported product, thus allowing a considerable discrimination in favor of the exclusively home product. For the collection of these duties each State was made an inspection district, with its supervisor, and each district was subdivided into surveys of inspection, each with its inspector. All distillers were required to enter their distilleries at the nearest office of inspection, with a complete description of all the buildings, which buildings were to be subject to the constant examination of an inspector appointed for that purpose, who was to guage and brand the casks, the duties to be paid before the removal of the spirits from the distillery.—But to save the expense and trouble to both parties of this constant oversight, the small country stills not situated in any town or village, were to pay an annual rate of sixty cents per gallon on the capacity of the still. All casks containing spirits not properly branded and certified were liable to forfeiture.

Pennsylvania at that time manufactured great quantities of whiskey. Indeed, it was manufactured liberally by all the States, and became so common as a beverage as to be regarded one of the actual necessaries of life. Its tax, and consequent enhancement of price of cost to the consumer, created as much feeling as if flour and bacon were to become agents in replenishing an exhausted treasury. But, in Pennsylvania, west of the Alleghany mountains, the excitement soon assumed the tone of a menace. In that particular section the chief grain grown was rye, which, in the shape of whiskey, could be transported to the east and be exchanged for every needed commodity. Whiskey thus became a kind of currency. To tax it was regarded as an arbitrary assumption which it was as just and necessary to repudiate as to resist the tea and stamp tax imposed by the British Parliament.

This feeling became so general that, in the four western counties of the State named, combinations were entered into by the distillers and the people to resist, by force, the collection of the tax. The first step was to warn away the collectors; next, to forbid the inspectors from entering any distillery, public or private. [It is estimated that, in Pennsylvania alone, there were five thousand distilleries, great and small! Great numbers of farmers manufactured their grain into spirits and wagoned it over the mountains to exchange for supplies.]—Indignities were, consequently, visited upon the "minions of the law." Johnson, collector for Alleghany, was seized, shaved, tarred and feathered, and driven out of his district. An inspector named Wilson, who had resolved to do his duty, was seized in his own house one night, by men in disguise, borne to a blacksmith shop, branded on both cheeks by a red hot iron, coated with tar and feathers, and ordered to leave the county. The terror inspired by these and other outrages caused much alarm throughout the entire country. In it frien s of the government saw the seeds of a powerful insurrection. But the law must be sustained and the resistants punished; otherwise all law would be at an end, and any armed mob might defy the acts of Congress.

A modification of the law was made, by the exertions of the timid, who thought it better to compromise matters than to resort to force. It was in vain; and Western Pennsylvania successfully resisted the collection of the tax, up to July, 1794. Government then saw the necessity of enforcing the law and of arraigning the malcontents, or else of confessing its weakness to meet rebellion. Thirty warrants were placed in the hands of the United States Marshal, against offending distillers. All save one were successfully served by the aid of a posse of armed men, under the guidance of the District Inspector, Gen. Neville. This one met the posse by an armed resistance. His men fired upon the officers, and compelled them to fly for their lives. Neville secured a squad of troops to guard his house, but it was attacked and burned down—the General escaping down the river to Marietta, then crossing over the country to Philadelphia, to make known the true state of affairs to the President.

This success gave the insurrectionists a clear field. They proceeded to extremes in their violence against all who upheld the law. The mail was robbed and letters were read to obtain evidence of complicity with government, on the part of citizens. The insurgents summoned the militia, and seven thousand men answered the call. Col. Cook, one of the Judges of Fayette County, was made President of this "assembly of citizens," and Albert Gallatin (afterwards one of the most eminent men in the country) was chosen Secretary. Gallatin prepared an address which embodied the sentiments of the "still loyal people" who were in arms to "resist a lawless invasion of their rights." A major-general was elected, who proceeded at once to drill the troops and to prepare for further operations.

Washington, now thoroughly convinced that further temporising with the wrong was inexcusable, issued his proclamation requiring the insurgents to disperse, and those opposing the laws to desist. This effected nothing, when he issued a second calling upon the States of Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey and Pennsylvania for 13,000 troops to suppress the rebellion. [It was not until Feb. 28th, 1795, that Congress passed the act to empower the President to call out troops in certain emergencies, under which law Mr. Lincoln acted in 1861.—Washington really exceeded his authority; but, Congress not being in session for the moment, he was compelled to act and look to the people and to Congress for his justification. Congress justified him by the passage of the act referred to, which was then designed to meet all such cases of danger occurring during the adjournment of the Legislative Body. Mr. Lincoln, in availing himself of that act, did not exceed its powers in calling out 75,000 "to suppress said combinations and to cause the laws to be duly respected."] This was the beginning of the end. The insurgents, apparently appalled by the President's well understood purpose to arrest and hang every man found in arms, called a Convention at Parkinson's Ferry, and there adopted resolutions of entire submission. The troops proceeded to the seat of trouble, under command of Gov. Lee, of Virginia, when the excise officers entered, with but occasional signs of opposition, upon their duties. Lee proclaimed an amnesty, and the matter ended by Pennsylvania whiskey contributing essentially to enhance the revenue of the country.

THE REBELLION.

A letter from Col. Barnes of the Mass. 18th, thus describes the situation of affairs at Yorktown: "Our siege guns have come, and before long they will be at work upon the rebel breastworks. Gen. McClellan, I hear, is about ready to attack the place, and when he commences, the rebels will not hold out very long. He will also make other combinations which will ensure a clean sweep of all the rebels in this region. The force of the enemy is not so large as has been reported, and does not now exceed forty or fifty thousand men. Neither are their guns of so formidable a character as has generally been reported. Ten regiments and five batteries of Massachusetts troops, amounting to about ten thousand men, are in the lines before Yorktown."

A body of troops belonging to Gen. Banks' division occupied the town of Mount Jackson on Thursday morning. This place is at the termination of the Manassas Gap railroad, 24 miles south of Strasburg. The rebels resisted our advance in order to gain time to burn the bridges, &c., but the movements of our forces were so sudden, and the retreat of the rebels so precipitate, that we were enabled to save the bridges, two locomotives and some cars. All these had been prepared with combustible material for instant conflagration.

A dispatch from Cairo to the Navy Department says the mortars opened on Fort Pillow on the 14th, and soon cleared the river of all vessels. Our shells fall in the enemy's camps. The rebel works are strong and extensive. Two deserters came on board the gunboats. They say ex Lieut. Thomas Huger, late of the Federal Navy, is in command at Fort Pillow, and that Gen. Pillow and Hollins have gone below.

The Washington Republican declares that more rebel batteries have been erected on the Potomac, in the vicinity of Aquia Creek.

The steamer McClellan, from Port Royal 14th, has arrived at New York. The Vermont arrived at Port Royal on the 14th. All safe. She brings the following account of the capture of Fort Pulaski:—

On the morning of the 10th Gen. Gilmore sent a flag of truce to the fort, demanding its unconditional surrender. Col. Olmstead replied that he was placed there to defend, not to surrender the fort. Our batteries immediately opened fire. The firing was kept up until sunset. Gen. Gilmore placed a battery at Government Point, only 1600 yards from the fort, to breach the walls, and commenced firing from it at midnight, with Parrott and James' guns. On the morning of the 11th two breaches were discovered on the southeast face of the fort, which at noon assumed huge proportions.—About 2 o'clock the rebel flag was hauled down, a white flag displayed, and the fort surrendered. The Union loss was one killed and one slightly wounded. The rebel loss was three badly wounded and 385 prisoners. One hundred and five of the prisoners were on board the McClellan.

Gen. Hunter's official report of the capture of Fort Pulaski states that the firing was continued 30 hours, and our troops were about to storm the fort, through a breach, when the flag was struck. Beside the prisoners, with their small arms and accoutrements and a good supply of provisions, we took 47 guns, 7000 shot and shell, and 40,000 pounds of powder.

Deserters state that Jeff. Davis has arrived at Yorktown and will take command.

The following was received from Gen. McClellan, on Friday:—

"About half an hour after midnight the enemy attacked Gen. Smith's position and attempted to carry his guns. He repulsed them handsomely, and took some guns.—The firing was very heavy."

WINE.—A gentleman in New Jersey has a vineyard of some 30 acres where he is cultivating the Portugal sambucus with signal success, from which an excellent wine is made, which is a good substitute for port, and has been adopted for medicinal purposes in the hospitals of New York, Philadelphia and New Orleans. The trees are made to grow from sixteen to twenty feet high, bearing fruit as nearly as large as grape, very full of juice and saccharine matter. They ripen from the middle of August to middle of September, and contain valuable medicinal properties. The wine is the pure juice, without adding any sugar or liquor of any kind, but it requires four years to perfect it.—Springfield Repub.

CONGRESS, Thursday.—In the Senate the bill to establish a branch mint in Denver City, was passed; also a joint resolution appropriating $7000 for the officers and marines who lost their personal effects on the Port Royal expedition.

The House considered the Pacific Railroad bill, in Committee of the Whole.

Who was Scipio's wife? Mississippi-o, of course.

☞ The whole number of births registered in this city for the year ending March 31st, 1862 was:

Ward One, 86; Ward Two, 88; Ward Three, 42; Total, 216.

The deaths during the same time were as follows:—

Ward One, 66; Ward Two, 70; Ward Three, 40; Total, 176.

The number of those liable to do military duty in this city, is:—

Ward One, 193; Ward Two, 225; Ward Three, 220; Total 638.

A GOOD SHOT.—Private Stone, at Fort McClary, on Thursday, with a smooth bore musket, loaded with a single ball, shot a wild goose that was seen flying over. The goose was alone at the time, and was hit at a distance of from two hundred and fifty to three hundred yards.

☞ Wanted the Daily Chronicle, Saturday, April 5,—to complete files.

THE "BLOODY DAY" IN BALTIMORE.—The Common Council of Baltimore have requested the citizens of that city to display the national flag from the house tops and the shipping in that port to day (Saturday, April 19), "as a manifestation of gratitude for their deliverance from the dangers which threatened on that day to destroy their city and State, on the occasion of the passage of troops through the city to protect the capital of the United States."

Nassau papers state that the steamer T. L. Wragg, late Nashville, from Charleston, arrived there the 30th ult. It is stated that she has been purchased by a private company. The steamer Southwick, from London, with an assorted cargo, probably to run the Southern blockade, arrived at Nassau on the 1st inst. The Nashville cleared on the 5th for St. John, N. B., under the name of "Thomas L. Wragg," with an "assorted cargo."

☞ It seems from the statement of the deserters from Fort Pillow, that Com. Hollins was not taken prisoner at Island No. 10, although all the St. Louis papers have insisted that he was.

☞ Dr. H. Hosmer, of Watertown, Ms., father of the gifted sculptor, Miss Hosmer, died in that town on Tuesday. His daughter is absent in Rome. He was a skilful physician and an esteemed man.

☞ A rare chance to printers is advertised in this morning's Chronicle. The office is well supplied with materials for the execution of nice work, and is situated in an inland city of this State, having good connections by railroads and stages with several flourishing towns.

☞ Senator Fessenden's son, Frank Fessenden, a Captain in the 19th Regular Infantry, was in the battle of Shiloh, and received an ugly wound in the arm. He has been transferred to Washington, and is in a hospital there, doing well.

☞ Commodore Paulding, whose temporary illness we reported a few days ago, has resumed duty again as Commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

☞ The report that Gen. Blenker and his body-guard have been taken by the rebels, is probably founded upon the fact that a number of his officers were captured last week, near Manassas, and carried to Richmond.

☞ Parson Brownlow returned to Cincinnati on Saturday last, from a lecturing tour of four days in Illinois and Indiana, from which he realized $1400 profit. He was everywhere received with great enthusiasm.

Voltaire had a perfect horror of inquisitive persons. He said to one of these paupers—"Sir, I am delighted to see you, but I give you fair warning—I know nothing about what you are going to ask me."

☞ Dispatches from Washington state that the bill to extend and increase our coast fortifications will be abandoned in Congress, and the money diverted to the construction of iron-clad floating batteries.

☞ Gen. Shields has so far recovered from the effects of his wound as to command his division in person.

Equal and Exact Justice.—Charleston kindled the torch of insurrection, and the torch of insurrection kindled Charleston.

Thousands are hated whilst none are ever loved without real cause. The amiable alone can be loved.

In most situations of life the consciousness of innocence is our best shield and our firmest security.

The only dodgers in the U. S. Army.—Corn-dodgers.

The worst of all "Army worms."—The worms of our whiskey stills.

☞ Great bargains are being made every day, at the auction sales of jewelry and fancy goods at Mr. Clark's store. The articles sold are not such as are usually sold at auction, but are of the best quality and workmanship, and those desirous of obtaining nice goods for presents or for their own use or pleasure, could not have a better opportunity.

☞ See a woman, in another column picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in wresting out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least, and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-SIXTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, our every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

For Physicians' Use,

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL.

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Incontinence, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

ADVERTISE!

Advertise!

IT IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all and affords to all easily means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER and that the purchaser looks at the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business to reduce their advertising when any business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the fellow who never advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him five-fold, sooner or later, and in some instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The living man daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is as constantly increasing. No man is so far out of time, or lost to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

A Change.

The subscriber having disposed of his stock, stand and the good will of the PAINTING Business long conducted by him in Chestnut Street, to Mr. E. D. COFFIN, would cordially recommend him to the large list of patrons who have so long favored me with their orders, as a mechanic who will not fail to give satisfaction in any department of his business.

MARCELLUS BUFFORD.

Portsmouth, Jan. 24, 1862.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,

House, Ship, Sign and Ornamental Painter,

Having taken the commodious and eligible premises,

No. 2 Chestnut Street,

as above, is better prepared than ever to fill all orders in his line of business; and while returning thanks for past liberal patronage, would respectfully solicit a continuance.

Particular personal attention given to HOUSE WORK, SIGN and CARRIAGE Painting.

All sorts of PAINTS, OILS, VARNISHES, GLASS, PUTTY, &c., for sale cheap for cash.

All persons having demands against the subscriber, are requested to present them forthwith; and all indebted, to make payment as soon.

Portsmouth, Jan. 24, 1862.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that never fail to cure, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded, loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charged for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all disease incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those wishing the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

VOL. 20. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. MONDAY, APRIL 21, 1862. NO. 65

The Chronicle.

☞ Jeremiah Burns, Washington, has published, in one volume, "The Life, Services, and Military Career of the Noble Trio, Ellsworth, Lyon and Baker," with an engraving of each. The work also contains Grows' address at the grave of Lyon; Sumner's eulogy on Baker; Baker's reply, in the Senate, to the traitor Breckinridge; and the President's Proclamations of April 15, and May 3, 1861. Price 25 cents, in paper cover; cloth, 50 cents.

THE COLONIZATION OF COLORED PEOPLE.—John P. Hale, a few days ago, said all the navy could not carry away the increase of the negroes in the United States. But as the whole increase is but 33,520 per annum, Mr. Hale ought to know that is but a fifth part as many persons as we have received from Europe in one year. Mr. Doolittle replied that the Great Eastern, in eight trips, would land them in Africa in one year; and in Hayti in a much shorter time; and that only two steamboats running from New Orleans or Beaufort, just across the gulf, could carry away the increase of this population.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ A few months ago half a dozen towns in Essex county, Mass., laid claim to the honor of being the birthplace of Albert Pike, of Arkansas notoriety. Now they are as anxious to be rid of the honor. The Newburyport Herald states that he was born outside the limits of that city, in territory now belonging to Georgetown.

THE HERRING TRADE.—The Halifax Express of Wednesday last says that not a single vessel has left that port for Newfoundland this Spring, for herring, against a score or more in former seasons. The Southern blockade is said to be the sole reason for this stoppage of the ordinary routine of trade, the slaves of the Carolinas, &c., being the great consumers of this description of fish.

☞ Herschell states that three hundred and forty-five miles is the greatest known distance to which sound has been carried in the air. This was when the awful explosion of the volcano at St. Vincents was heard at Demerara.

☞ The people of Weymouth, Nova Scotia, have forwarded to Boston five hundred pairs of socks, to be sent to the Maine troops at Ship Island, Port Royal and elsewhere—fifty pairs to each regiment. This is indeed neighborly.

☞ Colonel Corcoran sent word to the President that if he could best serve his country in a Southern jail he was contented to remain. Gallant soul—true Irishman.

It is believed that as the expenses of the war are not now to be restricted, and will not be till its ends are accomplished, there must be issued before long, under authority of Congress, legal tender notes to the amount of another hundred million.—Post.

☞ The Rockland Gazette says a woman died in that city last week in a rum fit, and the husband gets his living by selling the stuff that killed her.

☞ The Merrimac lost her prow in her engagement with the Monitor. The Boston Post thinks in her next engagement she will lose her prow-ess.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 1862.

PHILANTHROPY.—Some days ago the Boston Post said it was "in favor of freedom throughout God's heritage,—but not in favor of abolishing it in the District of Columbia in this way," i. e. by the bill which had then just passed the Senate of the United States.

The Post then said—

We should prefer that the abolition should be on a vote of the majority of qualified voters in the District.

So in all slave States—in Brazil, in Spain—everywhere—we should be rejoiced to see slavery abolished, and hundreds of other unjust oppressions fall with it; but only those who practice these wrongs have the power to eradicate them, and by them must the reform be made if ever effected. Hence the intermeddling of philanthropic partisans only retards the consummation.

By the final passage of the bill, and the President's approval, compensation is made to all loyal owners,—and the event has passed into history, without the vote of the District.

But let us see how history reads as to the doctrine that, "Only those who practice wrongs can eradicate them,—and by them must reform be made, or never be effected."

Was it true of Egypt? Did Pharaoh eradicate the wrong to Israel? We believe Moses had a hand in it,—and the struggle was violent.

Was it true of Great Britain in her wrong to these colonies? Did she, or her tories, eradicate her oppressions here?—We have always heard that Henry and Washington, Hancock and Adams intermeddled with it, and fought it through.

So of her wrongs toward the Jews and Catholics in her own home islands:—was it the same class or set of men who practiced these wrongs, who also pushed through the bills which relieved many disabilities of both these classes? It certainly was not, but a very different set.

Was the English slave-trade abolished by the Liverpool slave-traders? Not at all: Clarkson and Wilberforce, those philanthropic partisans, intermeddled, and kept intermeddling, till the reform was effected.

Was the great West India wrong, which Wesley styled the vilest under the sun, eradicated by the proprietor, planter, overseer, or driver? By no means. All these fought against it, tooth and nail, long and earnestly: but it was eradicated by the intermeddling of the same philanthropic partisans who crushed the English slave-trade, with the addition of George Thompson and other younger men on both sides of the Atlantic.

The same set of men were the movers of the great reform in the English Laws in India. The speculators and fortune hunters of India did not move it, but they did all they could to stop it.

And so it is the world over. We do not expect to see the silversmiths of Ephesus abolishing the worship of that Diana for whom they used to make the silver shrines. No, no: they cry Great is Diana! and they join in the mob and uproar, in which the greater part do not know why they make such a racket.

But we do expect to see thoughtful men and philanthropists trying to do good to those who cannot reward them,—and to break up abuses in which others suffer, but which bear lightly or not at all on themselves. And to such men the toil and the honor of reform belong. God gives them both. But the honor which comes from men is not commonly theirs,—nor do they usually expect or derive much direct gain from these efforts.

☞ Mr. Powell of Kentucky, a democratic Senator, made an earnest speech against the Confiscation Bill, last Wednesday, in the U. S. Senate. He regarded the confiscation clause as of no account whatever, because, as he said, "every one knew that the negro when freed, would remain just where he had been left, unless compulsorily removed!" This statement, from an intelligent Kentuckian, brushes away a common but absurd bugbear, which has frightened many honest people at the North.

☞ Mr. John F. Clark, of East Putney, Vt., on Monday morning, 7th inst., attempted to cross the Connecticut river on the ice. When about two rods from the shore, the ice parted instantaneously, letting him into the water. He managed to extricate himself in about twenty minutes from his perilous situation, but $1500, in bank bills, dropped from his pocket into the stream, and was lost.

☞ The Portland company are preparing large machinery, and making patterns in order to manufacture heavy ordnance in the shape of 11 inch Dahlgren guns, for Government. They are now testing their iron, preparatory to moulding.

☞ Lumber freights from Machias, Me., have been quite active during the past ten days. One firm alone, within one week's time, loaded and dispatched to various ports five cargoes of lumber. Other shippers are doing a fair business.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Banks' division, on Thursday night, occupied Newmarket, Va. There has been some artillery skirmishing, but no loss on our side. We have m ny prisoners.—Ashby, with his men, is outside of the town. Jackson and his infantry have fallen back towards Staunton.

The 3d Vermont regiment had a sharp engagement with the enemy at Yorktown, on Wednesday night, in which the Green Mountain Boys suffered a loss of 120 killed and wounded.

The Chicago Evening Journal says:

"We learn from private sources that Fort Wright was attacked by Com. Foote's flotilla on Monday and captured. We presume our information is correct, as it comes from one at Cairo who knows about everything that is going on."

Gen. Mitchell reports that the enemy have burned the bridges on the railroad between Stevenson and Chatanooga, to prevent his advance to the latter place, and have resorted to the same means to hinder his progress in the direction of Corinth.—He adds: "We have penetrated a magnificent cotton region, have taken and now hold and run more than 100 miles of railway, well stocked with machinery and in fine condition."

Later accounts from New Mexico fully confirm the reports of a battle at Apache Pass, where the Colorado Volunteers captured and burned the Texans' supply train. About 100 prisoners and one piece of artillery were also taken.

A letter from Key West, dated 9th inst., to the N. Y. Herald, says a report had been received there from Fort Pickens, that ten of the mortar vessels, with three steamers, had successfully run the gauntlet of the forts on the Mississippi at night without a shot being fired at them.

The Fortress Monroe correspondent of the N. Y. Herald states that deserters from the rebels report that a whole Irish Brigade refused to do duty in the rebel army at Yorktown, and were disarmed by orders of Jeff. Davis, and sent to the rear.

Gen. Banks' advance column arrived at Sparta, Rockingham county, Va., on Friday, driving the rebels from the hill with artillery and cavalry charges. 6000 of Jackson's troops passed through the town the previous evening. Ashby encamped near New Market, but being threatened by our artillery, he set fire to his camp and retreated in great haste, Friday morning, leaving 30 butchered beeves on the ground, and burning every small as well as large turnpike bridge south of New Market.

A Cairo dispatch, 19th, says Gen. Mitchell is at Julia, Miss., having burned the bridges across the Tennessee river at Decatur and Florence.

It is said reinforcements for Beauregard are arriving at Corinth, at an unexampled rate. He has now 100,000 men, and is fortifying Corinth, building entrenchments, and constructing an abattis.

CONGRESS, Friday.—In the Senate Mr. Hale submitted a report on the surrender of Norfolk Navy Yard to the rebels. The committee appointed to investigate the subject, ascertained, among other things, that the rebels had only 500 tro ps at Norfolk when the Navy Yard was destroyed, while our forces numbered more than 1000, and that the Yard might easily have been saved and the enemy deprived of 2000 pieces of artillery and the hull of the Merrimac.—They censure the Buchanan administration for neglect of duty, and add that the present administration cannot be held blameless for suffering 37 days to elapse, after it came into power, before making a movement for the defence of the Yard. The committee also censure Commodore Paulding, Capt. Pendergast, and Capt. McCauley.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Pacific Railroad bill.

The Committee of Conference fixed up the disagreeing votes in the two Houses on the navy bill so that it reached the President and was signed by him on Thursday. In this is an appropriation of thirteen million dollars for iron-clad vessels for the navy.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch states that it is said, on the authority of intercepted letters from Richmond, that several editors of rebel newspapers have been hung for publishing intelligence which was contraband of war. [Highly improbable.]

☞ Amongst some contraband letters captured in Baltimore, a few days ago, en route from Norfolk and Richmond, was one from Capt. Buchanan of the Merrimac, to his daughter residing in Eastern Maryland, stating that he was recovering from his wounds.

☞ It is expected that the iron-clad frigate building at Philadelphia will be launched by the 1st of May, and soon after completed. Work upon her is progressing rapidly. She is already partially plated.

☞ A general order from the Adjutant General's office directs Paymasters to recognize agents which States may, under certain circumstances, appoint to receive the soldiers' pay.

What Mrs. Stowe hopes.—That slavery will soon be topsy-turvy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Since the quota of troops from New Hampshire were all in the field, recruiting has been continued, to maintain the efficiency of each regiment. A corps of drummers has also been recruited for the Third. The number of reinforcements thus made is between three and four hundred.

—— Lieut. Thomas J. Treadwell, formerly of Concord, son of Hon. T. P. Treadwell, has been ordered to the staff of Major General Hunter, as Chief of Ordnance.—He has been Superintendent of the great arsenal at Frankfort, near Philadelphia, since the outbreak of the rebellion.

—— The Con ord, Manchester and Lawrence Railroad have sold to the government eighty-five freight cars and four locomotives, for use on railroads in the States recovered from rebel rule. During the last winter four passenger cars have been built at the machine shop of the company in Concord, to supply the loss sustained by fire last season, and others are to be commenced immediately. The foundation for a large brick car house is now in preparation. It is to be about the size of the one burned, and will occupy nearly the same ground.

—— The Mirror states that on Wednesday night last a man, who gives his name as John Nicholas of Reading, Mass., visited the barn of J. F. Twiss, of Londonderry, and helped himself to a tolerably good specimen of the equine race, with which he proceeded a couple of miles, to the house of a man named Hyland, of whom he borrowed a wagon, harness and buffalo to go to Manchester. In that city he swapped horses with a marble worker, who paid him $15 to boot. An officer got wind of the affair, and arrested him. All the stolen property was recovered except, $5 of the "$15 to boot." When arrested he was somewhat in liquor, gave his name as Stephen Buxton, and said he "didn't know whether he stole the hoss or not!"

——J. & E. O. Pierce's saw mill, in Bethlehem, was burned April 8. No insurance.

—— The freshet in the Merrimac, now produced entirely by snow, there having been no rain of consequence, promises to be a severe one. The track on the new bridge of the Suncook railroad has settled a number of inches, a part of the foundation having been washed away.

—— On Thursday, at Salmon Falls, John Neagle, engaged in gathering drift wood above the falls in a small boat, was drawn into the rapids and carried over the falls and drowned. He leaves a large family.

TECHNICALITIES ON BOTH SIDES.—In the case of Algheus Hardy and others vs Union Mut. Ins. Co., just decided by the Supreme Court of Massachusetts in favor of Mr. Hardy, for the whole amount, the plaintiffs had insurance on a building destroyed by fire. There was total loss and defendants refused to pay on the ground that plaintiffs had other insurance at the Holyoke Office, and had not obtained the consent of the defendants to such other insurance. It was admitted that there was another policy, but it was agreed that the whole insurance was less than the value of the buildings. Plaintiffs contended the second policy could not affect the first, because it was itself void on account of a technical inaccuracy; and although the Holyoke office did not take the point, but had paid the amount they insured, this did not prevent the plaintiffs setting up this technicality in opposition to that set up by the defendants.

☞ Gen. Scott returned to his home in Elizabeth, N. J., on Wednesday, and it is said he will make it his permanent residence. The old hero was met at Elizabethport by a large delegation of his old friends and neighbors, who received him with the most touching demonstrations of delight, and escorted him to his residence.

☞ John Randolph remarked—and he knew—that a Newton, or a mere scholar, may find employment in study; a man of literary taste can find in books a powerful auxiliary; but a man must have a bosom friend and children round him to cherish and support the dreariness of old age.

HEAVY ROBBERY.—On Friday noon, a counting room on Milk street, Boston, was entered, and a pocket-book containing U.S. treasury notes for several thousand dollars, certificates of stock and other valuable papers, was stolen.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—The spacious house and lot on Front street, Exeter, formerly owned and occupied by Hon. John S. Wells, deceased, has been purchased by Mrs. Bell, widow of Hon. James Bell, for $3500.

RUM AND WAR.—Three persons have died in Newburyport by rum, in the course of ten days. There may have been more, but those were well known cases.—That is more persons than Newburyport has lost by the war in a whole year. The prospect is that rum will keep far ahead in the work of destruction.—Herald.

☞ There was a very extensive fire in Norfolk, Va., on the night of the 17th. It burned all day on the 18th. Several buildings were destroyed.

The boy who lost his balance on the roof found it on the ground shortly afterward.

FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.
Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, as attorney for Joseph Ross, of Ipswich, Mass, on the tenth day of February, A.D. 1862, made peaceable entry into said premises, in possession of a certain lot of land, situate in Kensington, in the county of Rockingham and State of New Hampshire, bounded northerly by land of Josiah Prescott in part, and partly by land of Robert Titcomb; easterly by land of the heirs of the late Wells Healey, and partly by land of Jeremiah Poor; southerly by said Poor's land; and westerly by land of Elizabeth Osgood in part, and partly by land of the said Josiah Prescott, containing thirty acres and eighty-eight rods, conveyed to said Joseph Ross in mortgage by Francis W. Atkins, by his deed dated February 15, 1855, recorded in Rockingham registry of deeds, Lib. 856, Fol. 231, for condition broken, and for the purpose of foreclosing the right in equity of said Francis W. Atkins, or of any other person or persons whomsoever, to redeem said mortgaged real estate; and at the same time publicly declared the purpose and object of said entry and possession.

Local.

☞ The first direct importation from Manchester over the C. & P. Railroad consisted of some large pitch pine trees, which grew on the outskirts of the Spindle city, and which are being converted into ship's deck plank. As our "Southern Brethren" do not ship us any of their hard pine in these days of blockade, we are obliged to depend upon New Hampshire for pine as well as oak in the construction of vessels.

☞ The brig Sebao, which was captured at Newport News on Friday, April 11th, by the rebel steamer Jamestown, was direct from this port. Her cargo was 342 bales of hay, weighing about 53 tons, raised on the farms of Messrs. C. Hayes, A. Robinson, and N. Jackson. The shippers were Messrs. F. W. Rogers of Portsmouth, and P. & J. R. Bayley of Boston—the bill of lading was made to the Quarter Master at Annapolis, Md. She is 186 tons register, built at Cherryfield, Me., in 1845, owned three quarters in Boston by Messrs. Mowry & Steere, Samuel True, and Capt. Nathaniel Crowell, and one-quarter by Capt. David Baker, of Dennis, who commanded the vessel.

RENEWAL OF SHIP BUILDING ON THE PISCATAQUA.—Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield, at their yard on Noble's Island, have commenced building a "packet" to ply upon the river. The steamer Wasp is being widened and repaired at this Yard, and is to receive a new boiler.

☞ At the Temple this (Monday) evening, the Morris Troupe of Ethiopian Minstrels give one of their entertainments.—They rank among the first of similar companies, and in several previous visits to this city afforded satisfaction to large audiences. Citizens who relish the banjo and bones, the clog dance and plantation song, will find them amusing and entertaining.

SOCIAL LEVEE.—The Ladies of Pearl Street Society of this city, will hold a social Levee at Jefferson Hall, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 22, 23, and 24, for the purpose of raising funds to pay the debt of their society. A good variety of edibles, music, &c., will be furnished. Rally all to the "good time coming." Admittance ten cents. 1t

☞ Knight's Brass Band are to give a promenade concert at Union Hall this (Monday) evening. Doors open at 7 1-2; dancing to commence at half past nine.—Tickets: 25 cents.

S. J. COURT, Exeter. — On Tuesday morning, John Woodsum, convicted at the April Term, 1861, of assault with intent to kill, but recommended by the jury to the mercy of the Court, was sentenced to one day solitary confinement and one year of hard labor in the State Prison. The exceptions taken by respondent's counsel were overruled at the Law Term.

John W. Smart vs. George K. Smart—was commenced on Tuesday. The case has been heard before an Auditor, who reported a balance of $2.70 due the defendant.—The plaintiff thereupon elected a trial by jury.

TEMPERANCE.—Of all excesses, smoking is the most dangerous, because it is both a solitary and a social vice. A man must be very far gone before he will tope or stuff himself alone; but the more the smoker is alone the more he smokes, and the more he is in the company of other smokers the more he smokes. Tobacco is also particularly dangerous from the insidiousness of its attacks. For years and years a man may be gradually upsetting himself with cigars, and never experience any bad effects till suddenly the blow falls upon him. There can be no doubt that many drinkers in this country, drink too much; and that most smokers in all countries smoke too much; it may be truly added that the majority of Americans and Germans in easy circumstances eat too much.—Carl Benson.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Concord Statesman, in a letter dated April 14, says:—

Hon. Charles H. Peaslee is at the National. It is with no little satisfaction that I found him so warm and unhesitating in approbation of the government in its management of the troubles with which it is in stern grapple. I have heard no New Hampshire Democrat more unqualified in his hearty approbation of the calm, far seeing and truly statesman like policy of the President and his chief advisers.

☞ Friend Tenney, of the Brunswick Telegraph, is the Valedictory, at the Bowdoin Exhibitions now-a-days, pronounced first? If so, we can readily understand, why the valedictory is not the easiest affair to manage."

Are there any reasons in the History of England why that country should be cautious about making war upon us? Yes, 1776 reasons in one place and 1812 reasons in another.

☞ Charles M. Thomas, the Springfield forger, was arrested at Baltimore on Thursday, and taken to Springfield.

The British Lion threatens to kick us.—Well, he licked us once before—licked our feet!

When Uncle Sam hates to back down.—When his back is up.

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and then you not feel in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. Try No. 2 for Worms, No. 3 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhea, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 18 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice, and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to be universally adopted in every family where a washing is to be done. It will do more work, easier, and better than any other machine. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-FOURTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that it can be used in connection with the tubs, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and we guarantee, to those who think, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

From the Journal

"NEW HAMPSHIRE PAST AND PRESENT."

"SMALL, FIERCE PARTIZANSHIP."

The Boston Post recently published an article on "New Hampshire — past and present," in which our State is glorified as furnishing warriors and statesmen in the Revolution of 1776, and many names are recited as specimens,—while the similar names of modern date are favorably noted.

Among them is the name of Stark, of which the Post gives the following notice:

"Stark was a word that wakened the echoes, and had power to raise armed men, when British philanthropy of old,

——— "poured to Northern wars,
Her whiskered Pandoor's, and her fierce Hussars."

Neither is the name dead, nor the spirit which illustrated it. The small, fierce partizanship which, in some quarters, rules the movements of New Hampshire, has prevented the Stark of to-day from drawing his father's old sword and gilding it with a new, sorrowful glory, while fighting to maintain by it what it aided to establish. But opportunity only is wanting. Given the command, there is still the Stark, who, by his talents, genius, and wisdom, both by high, natural qualifications, and by scientific, military study, to crown victory with honor."

Of Gen. Stark's military knowledge, we have no doubt: and we know that as a Brigadier General of N. H. Militia, he stands high: it is also well-known that his services in arranging and fitting out the Second Regiment N. H. V. from this city, were very efficient, and well appreciated.

But when we come to read that the small, fierce partizanship in New Hampshire has prevented "the Stark of to-day" from drawing his father's old sword on the rebels,—we pause, and ask, Who was the small partizan who stood in the way?

Surely it was not Gov. Goodwin, of whom no man knows any such small thing. So far from this, we state positively, that when Col. Pierce resigned the command of the Second Regiment, Gov. Goodwin offered the commission to Gen. Stark, urged him to accept it, and the offer remained open a week or ten days.

When Gen. Stark finally refused, Gov. Goodwin offered the commission to Capt. Bowers of Nashua, another Democrat—and when he refused, Gov. Goodwin appointed Col. Marston, a Republican, who was with the regiment at Bull Run and wounded there, as we all know.

If there was small, fierce partizanship anywhere in the way of Gen. Stark's drawing his sword, it does not appear to be among the republicans nor in their Governor. It must be elsewhere.

REFUSING A PARDON.—The President's pardon for Geo. Gordon, now in jail at Cleveland, Ohio, was handed to him on Saturday. The pardon states that Gordon was legally convicted of violating the fugitive slave law, but that owing to his piety, learning and reverend calling, and the fact that he is probably sufficiently punished, he is unconditionally pardoned. When this document was taken to Gordon he said he would take the subject under advisement. He declared if the matter was pressed he should absolutely decline. Gordon objects to the clauses in the pardon, stating that he was legally convicted, &c. He declares that the conviction was illegal, and has ever insisted that his friends should so hold.—And so the matter rests, Gordon remaining in jail, where he will probably stay until his term expires.

P. S.—Rev. Mr. Gordon has thought better of his declination of the President's pardon, and has left the Cleveland jail.

BAD—DISCOURAGING.—The Norfolk correspondent of the Petersburg Express thinks the proclamation calling every man to the field, not excepting any of the Farmers, is unwise; and that "all the indications are that a FAMINE will be the consequence! The whole section from Prince Anne to Norfolk, is a vast wilderness, not a plough in the field." Again he says, "it is of no use to drill the new militia, unless they have proper arms." Very true. There is a call for all the church and plantation bells at the South to melt up into cannon. All the cotton near places likely to be visited is ordered to be removed to greater distances, and there to be burned, rather than have it fall into Yankee hands. Nevertheless large quantities are finding their way North.

SUMMER WEATHER.—Thursday last, April 17, the mercury at noon was at 72. The snow and ice heaps in our streets seemed to feel that they were staying too long, and sweated terribly in their efforts to get out of sight.

On that morning we saw a man standing on a cake of ice in the centre of the North Mill Pond, plying his spear for eels.

Yorktown, situated on a peninsula between York and James rivers: on the latter it is accessible by water, and within reach of our gunboat batteries; but it is now very strongly entrenched, with a large army in its environs. The batteries are said to extend seven miles, from river to river.—Cornwallis could not escape by sea, as the French fleet in the Chesapeake was an obstruction, and our superior force had a strong cordon of troops around him, too powerful to give hopes of escape.

McClellan's investing army, (principally from his late grand army, but quietly sent down the Potomac in fifty vessels or more,) is judged to be 80,000 strong, and probably the most effectual in discipline, and every other requisite, to be excelled by no other portions of the army, now operating in 10 or 12 grand divisions, from New Mexico to the Chesapeake, and from that point on the whole Southern coast to Texas.

ADVERTISE!
Advertise!
IT IS THE
LIFE OF TRADE!
Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thoroughly so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it presented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail expenses in times when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field for a few advertisers during a season of dullness, and I will have more than I can do, and I can see how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their hooks out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand-fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canadas, for which he is the duly appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, comparative value of papers and situations, are respectful ly invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr4 tf S. R. NILES.

A Change.
The subscriber having disposed of his stock, stand and the good will of the PAINTING Business so long conducted by him in Chestnut Street, to Mr. EDWARD D. COFFIN, would cordially recommend him to the large list of patrons who have so long favored me with their orders, and to give the same full and entire satisfaction in any department of his business.
MARCELLUS BUFFORD.
Portsmouth, Jan. 24, 1862.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,
House, Ship, Sign and Ornamental Painter,
Having taken the commodious and eligible premises,
No. 2 Chestnut Street,
as above, is better prepared than ever to fill all orders in his line of business; and while returning thanks for past liberal patronage, would respectfully solicit a continuance.
Particular personal attention given to HOUSE WORK, SIGN and CARRIAGE Painting.
All sorts of PAINTS, OILS, VARNISHES, GLASS, PUTTY, &c., for sale cheap for cash.
All persons having demands against the subscriber, are requested to present them forthwith; and all indebted, to make payment as soon.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, after he has introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, pains and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Disarrangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced by early habits of youth, are contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION
To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

From our Regular Correspondent.

NEW YORK CITY, April 10.

Dear Chronicle:—We have Van Amburgh's menagerie on exhibition after a grand parade, through the principal streets, of the elephant, chariot, and animal wagons, the former plunging with heavy tread along the Broadway pave, the novelty of the exhibition attracting the attention of the promenaders on either side.

As the trumpet heralded their approach, store doors and windows were crowded with forms and faces which vanished at the close of the procession, having, like our Southern brethren, seen the elephant! "They pitched their tents," five hundred feet long, and have drawn crowds every night for a week, the same as of old. The same elephant jumps on the same monkey—or rather, the monkey on the elephant; the same clown rides the same pony, and Van Amburgh puts his arm down the lion's throat to see if his breakfast has digested, just as he did when our youthful eyes opened wide, astonished at his daring, somewhere near the close of the last decade.

We are to have no new Post-office yet awhile. Additions are to be made to the old brick pile which serves for the distribution of the mails, which will bring the building out to the pavement line on Cedar and Liberty streets, forming a more sightly edifice, with the enlargement necessary for government purposes.

In the preparations for building, some of the vaults attached to the old church were uncovered, and became the scene of immediate underground expeditions on the part of the host of newsboys and boot blacks, who were clustered round the workmen, waiting for something to "turn up." The bodies were removed several years since, but these subterranean explorations resulted in the discovery of many little pieces of bone, which the possessors retailed to passers-by for a six-pence a piece.

Weather-wise our experiences are delightful. March came and passed with scarce a breeze, and April opened and has progressed, with a few exceptions, warm and pleasant. Until this week, we had no snow for more than a month. Tuesday at night it became cold; in the morning four inches of snow, at noon water, and at eve a dry pavement again. April showers bring May flowers, and the first vegetable or floral production of the season may be considered a snow drop!

The Park barracks have been cleaned and replenished, and white-washed on the outside, rendering their appearance more ornamental than of late, when they have served as an immense sign-board on which dealers and show men have advertised their trades in flaming placards. These bills have been posted at different times beside and overlapping each other, parts of each being visible. On one end of the building, where a bill announces a public meeting and the prominent gentlemen present, a large picture of Barnum's "What Is It" has also been pasted, covering in part the bill alluded to, the name of James Gordon Bennett coming not inappropriately under the representation.

The print on the portions of these placards which are visible, if read in connection presents a curious melange, as for instance, the following:—Canterbury Hall—Henry Ward Beecher will lecture on—The Maid of the Seas for San Francisco, 117 days out—Horace Greeley and his—Old newspapers bought at 25 Ann st.—Two trips daily, for Sing Sing—Fernando Wood, ex-Mayor—at the Academy of Music, 14th street, Grand Opera, Brignoli, Susini, and—The Best Glass of Ale in the city for Three Cents,—and so on ad infinitum.

"Why is an oyster like a horse?" To those of my readers who have not solved this conundrum, proposed last week, it is only necessary to remark, than an oyster evidently resembles a horse, inasmuch as it—can't climb a tree! Moral—Don't endeavor to solve conundrums in the month of April! NEWINGTON.

24 MARKET STREET, - - - J. C. CARR.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, APRIL 22, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Second N. H. Regiment is now with McClellan at Yorktown, and the N. H. battery has been ordered there.

—— The Manchester American states that James M. Lovering of Exeter, who was superseded as Superintendent of the folding room of the National House of Representatives by the son-in-law of the Doorkeeper of the House, has been reinstated, in accordance with the expressed wish of a large majority of the members.

—— A letter in the Nashua Gazette states that the horse of Lieut. Col. Lull of the 8th regiment, was lost in the passage to Ship Island. It was probably the horse given him by the citizens of Nashua and Milford.

—— In Landaff, on the 6th inst., Moses K., son of Daniel Whitcher, was killed by the falling upon him of the trunk of a dead tree, at the roots of which some children had built a fire, burning it through.

—— At a meeting of the Stockholders of Pawtuckaway Bank at Epping on Thursday last, it was voted to close up the concern.

—— A letter from Gorham says the old bear at the Alpine House thawed out on the 16th, having laid under the snow five months lacking ten days, the snow being about ten feet deep over his den.

—— The clothes pin and box factory of Amos E. Perry, in Harrisville, was burnt on Sunday morning. There were two wooden buildings, one three stories high, with a granite basement, and much valuable machinery, of the best and most recently improved kind. Loss from $4000 to $5000, and no insurance.

Mr. Pliny Miles, the indefatigable advocate of Postal Reform, has published the figures, showing that New York city uses the Post Office to a greater extent, (independent of the newspaper circulation which emanates from there), pays more postage money than the seven original seceding States, while the State of New York pays more of the postal revenue than the entire twelve seceding States put together. But what Secessia does not contribute in postal revenue, she makes up in postal loss, the money spent in carrying on their mail operations resulting in a dead loss of about three million dollars, and to meet this our letters must be taxed, and drafts made upon the Treasury.

Ladies' Signatures.—The Gospel Banner says, "Ladies in subscribing their names should write out their christian names in full, instead of giving only the initials, otherwise they are liable to be addressed in reply with the Mr. prefixed, or the Esq. annexed to their names, which would be decidedly awkward. The lords of creation have appropriated to themselves the use of initial letters, and if only initials are used, a stranger infers the writer is a man, and addresses him accordingly. And when writing to any one but well-known friends, a lady should also inform her correspondent, whether to address her Miss or Mrs.—for if she fails to do so, she leaves him liable to commit a blunder."

By the way, initials are very poor substitute for names of anybody. Thus the law makes it imperative in New Hampshire to give the Christian name in full on a vote.

☞ The Penobscot Indians number 506. They have a school at which the average attendance last fall was 36. They own 146 islands in the Penobscot River, containing an area of 4482 acres, and they have 1000 acres under cultivation. This tribe has cost the State of Maine during the past year $3,427. The Passamaquoddy Indians numbered last Spring, 463, being an increase of 7 since 1859. Total number of scholars 67. During the past year the number engaged in agriculture was 121, an increase of 31 over 1860. This tribe has cost the State $2559.64—making a total cost to the State for the support of aborigines of $9987.-64.

☞ A bill was reported to the Senate from the Court of Claims more than six years ago, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay John Ericsson the sum of $19,390, "for his services in planning the U. S. steamer Princeton, and planning and superintending the construction of the machinery of said steamer"—services which were rendered eighteen years ago. It was one of the few cases in which the Judges of the Court of Claims (Judges Gilchrist, Blackford and Scarborough) were unanimous in their decision.

Valuation of Boston Dailies.—The following is a list of the Boston papers taxed the present year on machinery, fixtures, material, &c., for over $10,000, with the amount for which each is taxed:—Boston Herald, $55,000; Journal, 55,000; Transcript, $35,000; Advertiser, 15,000; Traveller, 14,000; Post, 14,000.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Mitchell, by the latest dispatches, was about twenty miles southeast of Corinth, on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, and in close proximity to Beauregard, and where he can effectually cooperate with Gen. Halleck, in case of an attack.

A portion of Gen. McDowell's division on the 17th advanced upon Fredericksburg, and drove the rebels across the Rappahannock, who burned the bridges after crossing, thus delaying pursuit.

A steamer, from Newbern 17th, has arrived at New York. The building of fortifications was still going on, and great preparations were making for bombarding Fort Macon. Operations would be opened on the 21st with mortar and siege guns.

A dispatch, dated off Fort Wright, says the firing on both sides on Thursday was very heavy. The mortars opened at noon. The enemy replied briskly from the land batteries, throwing shell over us and nearly across the river. They are firing very accurate and from very heavy guns.

Apalachicola, Fla., was occupied by our troops with little opposition, on the 3d. The people were found to be almost starving, the blockade having cut off supplies on the seaboard, and their supplies from the island not being sufficient to maintain the ordinary comforts of life.

Intercepted Dispatch.—The N. Y. Herald's letter from Nashville gives the following telegram intercepted by Gen. Mitchell:

Corinth, April 9.

To Gen. Samuel Cooper, Richmond, Va.:

"All present probabilities are that whenever the enemy move on this position he will do so with an overwhelming force of not less than 85,000 men. We can now muster only about 35,000 effectives. Van Dorn may possibly join us in a few days with about 15,000 more. Can we not be reinforced from Pemberton's army? If defeated here we lose the Mississippi valley and probably our cause; whereas we could even afford to lose for a while at Charleston and Savannah for the purpose of defeating Buell's army, which would not only insure us of the valley of the Mississippi, but our independence."

(Signed) G. T. Beauregard.

☞ When Gen. Mitchell reached Decatur, Ala., in his late bridge expedition, he took possession of the telegraph office and cut the wires, leaving Decatur and Corinth only in communication. Beauregard sent a message to Jeff. Davis, demanding reinforcements for Corinth, declaring otherwise he could not hold the position. Gen. Mitchell promised the reinforcements; and it is quite probable that he first ascertained the exact number of troops Beauregard had.

☞ Havana advices state that the ship S. R. Mallory, which lately carried a battalion of the N. H. 7th to Tortugas, was lying alongside the rebel steamer Austin, taking cotton out for a European port. The S. R. Mallory is owned by Bowen & Curry, Key West.

☞ The ex-United States Consul at Tangiers, and the purser of the Sumter pirate boat (arrested at Tangiers), arrived at Boston on Friday, in the bark Harvest Home. The prisoners were in irons, and they have been sent to Fort Warren to await instructions from the Government.

Naval Appointments.—Geo. W. Gale of New Hampshire is appointed Acting Assistant Surgeon, and ordered to the U. S. steamer Henry Andrew of Commodore Du Pont's squadron.

☞ Com'r A. Gibson has been relieved from duty at the Charlestown Navy Yard, and ordered to the U. S. frigate Potomac in the Gulf Squadron.

Recovery of Stolen Property.—The papers stolen from the counting-room of Mr. Timothy Dodd, in Boston, on Friday, were recovered on Saturday, by the police. The property consisted of notes, bonds, stocks, &c., amounting to $110,000 in value, and was restored to its rightful owner.

☞ Pius IX. has greatly changed.—His mind and memory are rapidly becoming enfeebled, and he continually contradicts one day his most solemn assertions of the day before. Formerly his face was certainly a good and pleasing one. Now, even benevolence itself, seems hardly venerable in that flaccid countenance, with the uncertain eyes and trembling lips.

☞ The people of South Australia had a period of very excessive heat on the 15th of January. Some thermometers exhibited 111 degrees in the shade. Such visitations are unusual, happening only once in two or three years. In 1853, during one of these hot blasts, the thermometer rose to 117 degrees in the shade.

☞ The vesper service that has become so impressive and interesting in many of the Unitarian churches of this country, has been lately introduced into England, and is said by the London Inquirer to meet an obvious want, and promises to become general.

☞ The Legislature of Iowa has passed a very severe bill prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors.

☞ It is reported from Pittsburg Landing that Gen. Grant is under arrest.

☞ Gen. Shields has been nominated as Major General.

☞ The body of snow in northern New England, though melting very gradually for two weeks past, is yet so great as to create considerable freshets,—at Concord, Manchester, Springfield, Hartford, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, &c. It is the largest freshet ever known by melting snow alone. Freshets as great, and greater, have been produced by a sudden thaw with a copious rain.

The water is very high at Hookset, and the railroads are obstructed by overflowed bridges, causeways, &c.

On Friday, April 18th, the ice near Montreal broke up suddenly, damaging steamers and other vessels to the amount of $200,000.

Sudden Death at the American House, Boston.—Mr. H. A. Bolles, of Framingham, was found dead in his room at the American House, Wednesday morning. He came to the house on Tuesday.—In the evening he desired some liquor; but as it was evident he had been drinking, it was not supplied him. Being unwell, he was cared for by order of Mr. Doyle, the clerk, who, not seeing him on Wednesday morning, went to his room and found him dead upon the floor. The coroner did not deem an inquest necessary. Deceased was about 50 years old, and leaves a family, with whom he has not lived for some time.

☞ A decision has been given by a Judge in Savannah that a re ent draft of militia men was illegal. The Savannah Republican says that since this decision "the entire number raised in this county have refused to report themselves for duty."—The Republican "can see no reason for the prejudice against drafted men."

☞ Entire religious liberty is to be secured by law in Austria, except that up to the age of 18, children must follow the creed preferred by their parents. The enjoyment of civil and political rights is not to depend on religious confession, nor to be subject to any restriction on that account.—Difference of religion will not form a civil obstacle to marriage.

☞ Parson Brownlow and Andy Johnson have been life long political antagonists. The parson once prayed that the Lord, in his infinite mercy, would save even Andy Johnson. Each knows by this time how to appreciate the other.

☞ The Mystic (Conn.) Pioneer says, as the sloop Apollo, Capt. Freeman, was passing off Faulkner's Island, on her homeward bound passage through the Sound on March 30th, she was visited by a meteoric illuminator, which attached itself to every part of the rigging and sails, causing her to present the appearance of a vessel wrapped in a sheet of flame.

An eminent Unitarian divine, freshly converted to Episcopacy, and affecting to the extreme, in his new born zeal, the calendar of the church, wrote to one of his late brothers, under date of "Monday, Whitsun Week." The reply came back dated "Monday, Washing Day." Plain dates were adopted in their after correspondence.

☞ A Washington correspondent says the walls of the old portion of the Capitol are cracking. As the visitor turns from these evidences of ruin to the great dome and the two splendid wings of the Capitol, built of solid marble, the thought naturally occurs that Brother Jonathan is putting new wine into old bottles.

☞ The legislative bill dividing the State of Massachusetts into congressional districts, has been passed over the governor's veto by more than the required two thirds vote.

☞ The Lewiston Journal says there is in the town of Turner, Me., a farmer who has a sugar maple orchard of five hundred trees, and who will probably manufacture from two to three tons of maple sugar this season.

☞ The Louisville Journal says that a border warfare has sprung up along the Tennessee line, between bands of marauders and Home Guards organized by the citizens of Kentucky.

☞ One of the workmen employed in the Holyoke machine works in Massachusetts, was recently caught by his long beard in a spindle, and the whole mass of hair was torn out of his chin by the roots.

☞ There is a story going the rounds of English newspapers, that the Prince of Wales was clandestinely married to a brilliant, blooming Irish young lady, while he was at the Curragh of Kildare, learning to be a soldier.

☞ Col. Jones, the rebel commander at Pensacola, has issued a proclamation threatening all idle persons with the gallows, which he says will be in constant use after the 3d of April.

☞ The Pacific Commercial Advertiser says the annual report of the commerce of the Sandwich Islands shows an alarming decrease in almost every item, for the last year.

☞ See a woman, in another column picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

Speaking of lectures, what a collection of anecdotes might be made up from their experiences. The Rev. Dr. Chapin is, upon the platform, very ornate in style and animated in delivery. After one of his brilliant bursts, the audience broke out into loud applause. Silence was restored, and the speaker was on the point of proceeding, when a vinegar-faced dame just in front rose and said, loud enough for all to hear: "I'm a'goin'. I didn't give my money to come to a theater." Quite different was a criticism upon the Rev. Dr. Storrs, who is very elegant in diction and quiet in magner. "The doctor may be a very learned man," said one dame to another, "I dare say he is; but he don't tear round to suit me."—Harper's Magazine.

Local.

S. J. Court, Exeter.—In the case of Smart vs. Smart, the jury returned a verdict for Deft. for $6.07.

John G. Cutler vs. Nath'l Webb. Assumpsit on a promissory note for $205.—Defence, that the note was given for an illegal consideration—for money won by gambling.—and consequently void. It appeared that the note in suit was given for money advanced by Plf. to Deft. for the purpose of paying Deft.'s not due at the Granite State Bank. The court instructed the jury that if they believe I said note, to be the property of the Bank, then the Plf. was entitled to recover, although the note might have been given for an illegal consideration. But the jury returned a verdict for Deft., and also disallowed the Deft.'s set off which was an account of $76 against Plf.—A motion to set aside the verdict was entered.

John Taylor vs. Obadiah Dustin was commenced, but afterwards taken from the jury, and will be transferred upon a case to be agreed by the parties.

Irene Robinson, Ex'tx. of Jere. L. Robinson, vs. John G. Gilman and al. Admr's of Nath'l Gilman. This action was commenced on Saturday morning, and a verdict taken by consent for Plf., for the amount of the notes in suit,—subject to the opinion of the whole court, upon a case to be transferred.

Levee.—We l'arn that Rev. Mr. Reed, pastor of the Freewill Baptist society of this city, has been soliciting aid here, and among the F. B. churches, to assist said society in liquidating the debt on their place of worship; and has met with such good success, that the society has resolved to continue its efforts, and sweep off the debt during the present year, having already secured about $500.

The ladies of his society are to hold a levee, to raise funds for this object, commencing this (Tuesday) evening, April 22d. We hope they will meet with good success, as their sacrificing and commendable efforts well deserve. Let the citizens all lend a helping hand.

☞ Ship Arkwright, of this port, was sold in New York last week by the underwriters, to Messrs. Spofford, Tileston & Co., for $23,100. This fine ship went ashore on Jersey coast, last winter, and after remaining there nearly three months came off in better order than any ship which has ever touched that treacherous coast, and as the Insurance inspectors say, not one ship in a hundred would bear such a strain.

This was the last ship built by the late George Raynes, and we last week chronicled the sale of the bark Alexander, now some thirty years old, which was one of his first.

☞ Benj. Parker, an inmate of the Kittery Almshouse, was found dead in a pasture in that town, on Sunday last, having died from exposure. A fruitless search was made for the missing man on Saturday, and on the day following it was again renewed, when the body was found as above stated. His age was 54.

☞ About four hundred carpenters, bolters, hole-borers and carpenters' laborers were discharged at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Friday last. Unless new orders for vessels are immediately received, a large reduction of the remaining number must soon follow.

The Ossipee is to be undocked to-day, (Tuesday), and the Sonoma, recently launched, will probably take the place of the former, to be coppered.

Fatal Railroad Accident.—Saturday morning, as Mr. John Noble of Malden, 65 years of age, attempted to get on a train of the Eastern Railroad, before it had stopped, he fell on the track and the wheels passing over his thighs, caused immediate death.

One of the oldest newspapers in London—the Daily Morning Chronicle—has been suspended. Who'd a thought that its humble namesake here, would have outlived it? Would you, Mr. Ballot?

☞ Capt. Joshua W. Hickey left Portsmouth last week for Paita, Peru, via Panama, to take charge of the ship Henrietta Marcy.

☞ Everybody who is fond of good ballad singing, tip-top nigger-minstrelsy, fine playing, capital dancing, and fun and nonsense generally, should hear the Morris Minstrels at the Temple to-night.

☞ Heenan, the "Benicia Boy," arrived at Liverpool on the 3d of April, and was met at the steamer by a number of "fancy" friends. The object of his visit to England is openly announced as a coming fight between him and Mace for the belt and championship.

☞ Parson Brownlow, who arrived at Philadelphia on Thursday, and was welcomed by joint Committees of the City Council, has received an invitation from the President to visit the White House.

☞ The Lowell Courier of the 11th inst. tells the following strange story:—

"On the 20th of February, 1838, a firm doing business in Vermont purchased some scrap iron of a corporation in Lowell, the price of which amounted to $88.06. The bill was made out for $86.06 and paid, but the gentleman having charge of the books gave them credit for $88.06, thus losing $2. He did not recall the error at the time. On the 29th ult., twenty-four years and six days after the original transaction, he received a letter from the firm enclosing the old bill and $6, as the principal and interest of the balance. The gentleman, still in in the employ of the company, duly acknowledged the receipt of the money, returning their old bill, and placed the money to the credit of the company. This is a rather remarkable occurrence."

A young lady in the interior thinks of going to California to get married, as she has been told that in that country the men folks "rock the cradle."

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMŒOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which their cures are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. Try No. 2 for Worms, No. 8 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhea, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 13 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

New York, May 1, 1861.

Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

Louisville, Ky., July 31, 1861.

Drs. Valentine Mott, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without injury. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without starching, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringer Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT.

For Physicians' Use,

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS AND INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL.

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Dissipation, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medicinal properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

A D V E R T I S E!

Advertise!

IT IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all and affords the easily means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers in the business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it and I care not who I share the times after. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their hooks out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in injudious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and business may be, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

E. D. COFFIN.

Portsmouth, Jan. 24, 1862.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of Twenty-five years, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the region of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret—and solitary habit, which ruins the body, weakens the mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions of the stomach, Cough, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, Nervous Prostration, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

April7, 1862—1y3taw

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

The Chronicle.

TERRIBLE.—In a new melodrama, a robber is taken, and his head exhibited to the audience on a table. To accomplish this, the robber's body is fixed in the body of the table, and his neck is fitted into a hole, so it looks precisely as though a man's head had been cut off and stood up in a pool of his own blood upon the table. On the night of the exhibition a wag managed to blow a lot of Scotch snuff over the stage just at the time the head was upon the table. As soon as the snuff had begun to settle down, the head commenced sneezing, to the no small amusement of the audience, and as the sneezing could not be stopped, the curtain fell amid roars of laughter. The Bowery boys were never before so pleased at any spectacle.

AN ENLIGHTENED JURY.—A coroner's jury recently sat on the body of an infant found in the rear of a hotel in Elizabeth, N. J., and after a careful investigation of the case returned a verdict specifying that the child was fourteen hours old, and that it was a German child.

An account of the Pittsburg battle says that the Mississippi brigade "dashed like a fierce wave upon our left wing." That brigade may have been a big wave, but its subsequent motion was a big waver, says Prentice.

☞ There is an old law upon our statute books, passed Jan. 30, 1799, which makes it a high misdemeanor, punishable with fine or imprisonment, to correspond with a foreign government for the purpose of influencing its action towards the United States.

He that sympathizes in all the happiness of others, enjoys the safest happiness; and he that is warned by all the folly of others, has attained the soundest wisdom.

☞ The number of performers, vocal and instrumental, for the inauguration of music at the opening of the World's Exhibition, in London, will, it is said, be 1800.

"Mother," said Ike Partington, "did you know that the 'Iron Horse' has but one ear?" "One ear! child, what do you mean?" "Why, the engin-ear, of course."

☞ The late Robert C. Goodhue of New York, left $17,000 to different charitable institutions, and $10,000 to relieve a church from debt.

There is a great deal of cotton in the rebel States, but it isn't baled. Like almost everything else, it is lying about loose.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 1862.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

The discovery of America excited in the minds of the Europeans an insatiable desire of obtaining riches. It opened to them new sources of wealth, and indueed many persons to leave their native shore and cross the wide extended ocean in pursuit of gain. The mines of South America first attracted their notice and inspired them with the most sanguine hopes. These inexhaustible funds were soon monopolized by the Spaniards and Portuguese; and other nations were obliged to turn their attention to different objects. The fur trade and the fisheries afforded the best prospects of success; for which purpose establishments were made at Newfoundland, and this business was carried on by the English to a considerable extent.

For more than a century after Columbus had discovered America, the noble Piscataqua was unvisited and unknown. The first rambler on its shores, of whom we can find any record, was Martin Pring, who, in 1603, came here with a ship of fifty tons and thirty men, and a bark of twenty-six tons and thirteen men. This small fleet was fitted out under the patronage of the mayor, aldermen and merchants of the opulent English city of Bristol, to prosecute the discovery of the northern parts of Virginia.—The flag-ship was called the Speedwell, and the bark the Discoverer. They first touched at some of the islands near the entrance of Penobscot Bay, then visited the mouths of the Saco, Kennebunk, and York rivers, which Pring says they found "to pierce not far into the land." They next proceeded to the Piscataqua, which Pring calls the westernmost and best river, and he explored it ten or twelve miles into the interior.

This visit to our harbor was made in the pleasant month of June, when the landscape wore its freshest aspect. We may easily imagine the Speedwell anchored in the lower harbor, while the Discoverer, not much larger than one of our pleasure sloop-boats, receives on board the adventurous Pring, who, aided by sturdy oarsmen, carefully and slowly ascends the river,—now and then sounding its unusual depth and calculating upon the safety of the navigation. They look with some fear as they approach the Narrows—but that point safely passed, and a broader basin opening, they begin to admire the "goodly groves and woods," as Pring terms them. The bold shores on either side invite them to land, now on this side, then on that,—sometimes making a short excursion on an island, and then a more extended one on the main land—and proceeding further up the river, they pass the Pulpit, and, encouraged by the great depth of water, proceed on, until spread before them in all its quiet beauty lay the placid waters of Great Bay.

Eleven years afterwards, viz. in 1614, the Piscataqua river was visited by Capt. John Smith, a fur trader,—the same man who had been a captive among the Turks, but escaped by favor of a loving woman,—and the same man who, when a captive in Virginia by the Indians, was saved again by another loving woman, Pocahontas, the chief's daughter.

Capt. Smith left the Downs in the spring of the year 1614, with two ships, and arrived at Newfoundland the 30th of April. He there built several boats which he profitably employed in fishing; whilst he in a small boat, with eight men, examined all the coast from Penobscot to Cape Cod, trading with the natives, as he passed from place to place. On this route, in the month of May or June, he discovered the river Piscataqua, which he described "as a safe harbor, with a rocky shore." He sailed for England the 18th of July, in one of his ships, and arrived at London the last of August.

He was the discoverer of the Isles of Shoals, which so pleased him that he gave them the name of Smith's Isles—a name which they should still retain, to hold in remembrance one for whose valuable services in the early settlement of the country no pecuniary reward was bestowed. Smith drew the first map of our coast, and on presenting it to Prince Charles, with a request that he would give the country a name, it was for the first time by him called New England. Both these discoveries and visits were made during the reign of King James I. of England.

☞ About one thousand patents have been issued for alleged improvements in plows since the foundation of the American government. About two-thirds of these patents have been granted since the year 1847.

HEAVY ROBBERY.—The office of the Brooklyn River Lead Company, Fulton street, New York, was robbed Saturday night of bonds to the amount of $40,000 or $50,000 of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Merrimac, at the falls in Manchester, was higher on Sunday evening than it has been for over forty years. In consequence, however, of there being no ice, the water has been no higher, opposite the mills, than it was in 1851. The bridge connecting Amoskeag village with the island, was carried away early on Sunday morning. Above the Falls dam, the railroad track is close to the river and is protected by a stout wall. That began to cripple and cars with stone and dirt were carrying reinforcements all the afternoon and saved it. The Mirror states that the flat between the Reform School and the river had water deep enough for gunboats.—The water was in the basement of some of the mills on the lower canal on Sunday so that a boat could float about, and on Monday there was too much water to run to an advantage. At Hooksett it was eight inches higher than it was in 1852. It flowed over the lower streets and up almost to the up per streets. Above Garvin's Falls, at the old Bow Locks, the railroad was ten feet under water for a long distance, and no trains were run between Concord and Hooksett. The regular train from this city on Monday, arrived at Manchester without trouble, the freshet not affecting the road. The cars, however, were taken to start the first train from Manchester for Boston, the supplies from the north being cut off, and consequently but one train was run from this city to Manchester.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Journal says:—

A railroad bridge between Lebanon and East Lebanon has been swept away, and the mails and passengers are carried two miles over a common highway. The railroad bridge at Fisherville was considerably damaged, but was saved by means of heavy weights. The Concord Railroad has suffered severely. There were nine serious inundations of the road between Concord Hooksett. One excavation at Bow was from 15 to 20 feet in depth. Col. Gilmore went to Garvin's Falls, three miles from Concord, on Sunday, and attempted to blow up the dam, but was not successful. It afforded a barrier for the water, and turned a heavy current toward the railroad. Col. Gilmore, with several hundred men, is laboring on the Concord road with the commendable energy which is so characteristic of the man; while Hon. Onslow Stearns is arranging for the rebuilding of the bridge at Lebanon.

—— Henry Prescott, son of Abraham Prescott, was accidentally drowned at Concord, on Sunday afternoon. He was fourteen years of age.

—— It is said Mr. Parker Beede, of Sandwich, is probably the largest sugar manufacturer in the country. In 1860 he had a yield of 2400 pounds of sugar of a superior quality.

CRITICAL POSITION OF THE ENGLISH MINISTRY.—The Liverpool Times asserts that Lord Palmerston's Government is day by day rowing weaker. The country, according to this authority, is becoming more conservative, and is rapidly hurrying Lord Derby towards office—and when they get there, they are likely to have a long tenure." Two defeats of Government in the House of Commons are announced, while in the Democratic town of Preston a Conservative has been elected to Parliament by 513 majority. It is thought, however, that a "crisis" will not be reached until after the Easter recess.

SINGULAR SUICIDE.—The Cologne Gazette states that a sergeant of artillery, in garrison in that city, having been crossed in love decided on putting an end to his existence, adopting the use of a rather unusual weapon—a field-piece—for that purpose. Not having a regular gun cartridge, he filled his tobacco pouch with powder and put it into the gun, and then placed the shot above it. He next lighted a piece of German tinder, which he put into the touch-hole, and then stood quietly at the mouth of the gun until the charge went off, and killed him on the instant.

☞ As the summer is approaching, much is said about the probable effect of hot weather upon our troops in the extreme Southern States. The belief is universal in the South, or has been so in times past, that a Northern man will generally be more free from sickness during his first Summer in the South, than is usually the case with those who have been acclimated, but the great trouble with a Northerner is to get through his second Summer in safety.

☞ It is stated in the Memphis papers that the rebels are constructing thirteen large iron-clad gunboats at New Orleans, one of which is intended for service at sea, and the rest on the harbors and rivers.—The large one, it is said, will carry thirty guns, and present a formidable front to our fleet.

NAVAL.—The iron clad steamer Galena is in commission, under Com'r John Rodgers in place of Commander John Taylor, who has been ordered to the Cherlestown Navy Yard.

MAD DOGS.—The Lowell Courier learns that no less than nine cattle have been bitten in Concord, Mass., within a few weeks by a mad dog (or by dogs), and that seven of the number have died of hydrophobia.

THE REBELLION.

Our forces, under Gen. Augur, still occupy the heights of Falmouth, opposite and commanding Fredericksburg. On Friday afternoon Lieuts. Wood and Campbell, and Maj. Duffie, crossed the Rappahannock under a flag of truce and communicated with the municipal authorities. The city council had appointed a committee to confer with our General, and had adopted resolutions declaring the city was still firmly attached to the Southern cause, surrendering only upon conditions of protection of private property. The citizens of Fredericksburg, who have crossed to Falmouth, affirm that as soon as we take possession of the city and there is no fear of the return of the rebels, the majority of the remaining citizens will be found to be loyal. Vast amounts of grain and other forage, is stored in the immediate vicinity. The enemy burned the steamers Logan, Virginia and St. Nicholas, and 20 schooners loaded with corn.

An official report has been received at the Navy Department, from Com. Stellwagen, of the Mercedita, off Apalachicola, confirming the evacuation of that place by the rebels, and its occupation by the Union forces.

The World's Washington dispatch says that information has been received that there are 3000 rebel troops at Gordonsville, who are getting ready to fall back on North Anna river, preparatory to a general retreat to Richmond.

The Norfolk papers profess to have received accounts of an engagement at Knoxville, Tenn., on the 17th, between 300 rebel cavalry and 700 National troops, in which 75 of the latter were killed and 500 taken prisoners, near Jacksonboro', Tenn. Probably a rebel canard.

A surveying party of 200 men of the 8th Mich. (Maine?) regiment, landing at Wilmington Island, below Savannah, were surprised by from 600 to 800 rebels, who poured upon them an effective fire. Our troops returned the fire and went gallantly into the fight. The rebels, after a short stand, retreated in order. The Adjutant of the regiment was killed, with 12 or 13 others, and 25 or 30 were wounded. The rebel loss is unknown.

Fort Pulaski was so much injured in the recent siege, as to be wholly unfit as a work of defence.

CONGRESS, Monday.—A petition was presented to the Senate from free colored persons, for the setting aside of territory outside of the national limits for their colonization, and suggesting Central America. Mr. Clark presented a memorial of the citizens of New Hampshire in favor of what is known as the international system of taxation. A resolution was passed calling upon the President, if not incompatible with the public interest, for all information relative to the arrest and imprisonment of General Stone.

In the House, Mr. Edwards of N. H. introduced a bill making appropriations for bounty to widows and legal heirs of volunteers dying in the service. Referred. A resolution requesting the Attorney General to bring a suit against General Fremont and others, to recover money obtained upon Fremont's order, was rejected.

☞ The Richmond (Kentucky) Messenger, the publication of which has been suspended for some time in consequence of secession rule, has been resumed, and the editor says it will in future be conducted upon these principles: To restore the Union, to hang the leading traitors, to pardon the people, and to stand by the Constitution.

HORSES FOR ENGLAND.—Maine has begun to furnish horses to England. A Morgan mare, five years old, 15 hands high, and weighing 1000 lbs., bought in Norway village last fall, and known as the "Belle of Brunswick," has recently been taken to Liverpool, for Mr. John De Costa. The mare has trotted in 2:50 and is sold for $800.

☞ St. John's Day will be celebrated on a grand scale at Portland, Me., this year, in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of the introduction of Masonry into that State. It is expected to be the greatest Masonic celebration that has ever taken place in New England.

☞ Gen. C. B. Conrad, of the rebel army, having become heartily sick of his position, has left the rebel ranks and voluntarily given himself up to the Union officers. He was sent to Wheeling, where he now is, awaiting an investigation. He thinks that the rebellion is tumbling to pieces very fast.

☞ The New Bedford papers are complaining of the loss of some of the most enterprising citizens of that place, who are emigrating elsewhere, owing to the decay of the usual business of the city.

☞ The order recently issued from the Treasury Department forbidding the shipment of coal to foreign ports and ports south of Delaware, has been modified, confining it to ports south of St. Roque.

☞ The Baltimore American complains of the effrontery and insolence of rebels in that city.

☞ The Southern papers give ten times the information in relation to military movements that the Northern do. Mr. Secretary Stanton has not only set himself up to superintend the press so far as news from our army is concerned, but he will not allow Southern papers to be seen, lest we should know what the rebels are about.

☞ The Boston correspondent of the Chicago Times says that the woman who claimed to be the mother of Gen. Tilghman, and who visited him at Fort Warren, actually slipped a revolver into the hands of her rebel progeny, for the possession of which he has since been kept in close confinement.

Local.

☞ Mr. John H. Ferguson, of Eliot, is missing, and it is thought that he was drowned near the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Monday night. It had been the intention to take out the dry-dock at eleven o'clock on that night, and it is thought that Mr. Ferguson, who was employed upon the yard, had not ascertained that the order had been countermanded. The sentry heard some one coming over the bridge, and on challenging received the reply "it's me." On again challenging him, he replied playfully—"you'll know when I get there."—The draw of the bridge was up, as usual, and a bar was placed across the walk, to prevent foot-passengers from falling into the river; but he either stooped down and passed under the bar, or climbed over it, as he fell the next moment into the water and was carried away by the swift current.—The night was intensely dark, and it was impossible to save him. He was about twenty-six years of age.

☞ As Mr. James Walker, of this city, was breaking a colt on Monday afternoon, the animal became frightened by a stone thrown by a boy, and, rearing, fell over backwards. Mr. Walker's leg was badly fractured just below the knee. Not realizing the extent of his injuries at first, he got up and started in pursuit of the horse; by which means the bone was caused to protrude through the flesh, producing an ugly wound. The limb was set by Dr. Oliver, of this city.

POLICE COURT, Tuesday, April 22.—Wm. Blaisdell, charged with being drunk on Market street, was fined $3 and costs, $3.86.

Michael Maccabbee, for being drunk on Market street, fined $3 and costs, $3.86.

LEVEE.—The levee of the Freewill Baptist Society at Jefferson Hall, it will be remembered, is to be continued this evening. It affords a fine opportunity for the enjoyment of an evening in a social and pleasant manner; and the participants also have the satisfaction of knowing that they are contributing their slight portion towards a most worthy object.

☞ The body of a newly-born infant was found in a brook near Auburn street, a few days since. It had apparently lain there for some weeks, the ice and snow having concealed it.

☞ The auction sale of jewelry at Mr. Clark's store is to be continued the present week, and nice articles of jewelry, each being warranted, can be obtained at low rates. Several side-cases and show cases are also offered for sale at the same place.

CLEARED OUT.—Daniel P. Gammon, who has been in the employ of the Portland Kerosene Company "vamoosed the ranch" last week, after borrowing all the money he could, and defrauding the Kerosene Company to a small amount. He went west, leaving a wife and child, and taking a married woman with him.

George Welander, who has been keeping a ram shop in Portland, also cleared out last week, taking all the money he could raise, and leaving wife and two children. He was followed, the day after he left, by a married woman, Mrs. Robinson, wife of a sailor.

FOREIGN. — Steamship City of New York, from Liverpool 9th and Queenstown 10th, arrived at New York on Tuesday.

The steamer Oveito, built at Liverpool, nominally as a war vessel for the Italian government, left on the 22d ult., in ballast, for Palermo, with a crew of 50 men. It is believed she will go to Bermuda, where her armament has preceded her. She is built carry guns of the heaviest calibre, measures 750 tons, and is reported very fast. Various contradictory rumors are afloat, but they generally lead to the above conclusion.

The Sumter was at Gibraltar and the Tuscarora at Algeires on the 3d. The Kearsarge, after a two days' visit to Gibraltar, left Algeires for the west on the 1st inst.

☞ The President sent a message to the Senate, on Tuesday, touching the arrest of ex-Sec Cameron, by Peirce Butler. He avows Butler's arrest to have been his act, done under his authority, and to have been justified by State necessity.

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take from you the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice, and since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

DRS. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm T. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in passing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

POETRY.

The world is full of Poetry—the air
Is living with its spirit; and the waves
Dance to the music of its melodies,
And sparkle in its brightness. Earth is veiled
And mantled with its beauty; and the walls
That close the universe with crystal in,
Are eloquent with music, that proclaim
The unseen glories of immensity,
In harmonies, too perfect and too high,
For aught but beings of celestial mould,
And speak to man in one eternal hymn—
Undying beauty and unyielding power.
—Percival.

EVENING MUSIC OF THE ANGELS.

Low warblings now, and solitary harps,
Were heard among the angels, touched and tuned
As to an evening hymn, preluding soft
To church voices. Loudest the full swelled,
Deep strings struck in, and hoarser instruments,
Mix'd with clear silver sounds, till concord rose
Full as the silver harmony of winds, to heaven;
Yet sweet as nature's aspirations melodious
To some worn pilgrim, first, with glistening eyes,
Greeting his native valley, whence the sounds
Of rural gladness, herds, and blessing floats,
The chirp of birds, blithe voices, lowing kine,
The dr h of waters, reed or rustic pipe,
Blent with the distant distance-mellowed bell,
Come, like the echo of his early joy.
In every pause, from spirits in mid air,
Responsive still were golden vials heard,
And heavenly symphonies stole faintly down.
—Holbrook.

Life is too short to waste
In critic peep or cynic bark,
Quarrel or reprimand;
'Twill soon be dark;
Up, mind thine own aim, and God speed the mark! —Emerson.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in France, England, Scotland, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions. Opinions, Advice or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have always sought for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant testimony to believe, can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to secure, and late a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him still, beyond question, the superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made six twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

MATHES & YARRELL.

ADVERTISE!

Advertise!

IT IS THE
LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, at the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there all ready in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence forms in his mind a habit of the place at which they may be supplied, instantly established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no other way to a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it and I care not how hard the times are. It pays as all times, but I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their ships out of the water, thinking no fitter are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing or a bad thing may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they have commenced business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who moderates to do business without availing himself of its advantages.—

THE NEWSPAPER
Advertising Agency
—OF—
S. R. NILES,
1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston.

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canadas, for which he is the only appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, comparative value of papers and situations, are respectfully invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr4 tf S. R. NILES.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr D. has now the gratifications of being able to cure without the use of remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, such as Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Tumors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be boarded at with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y8taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

☞ Beware of all letters that contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Apriil7, 1862—1y8taw

CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 1862.

OUR POLITICS — OUR PLATFORM.—Some of the newspapers are discussing the question whether the Newburyport Herald is Republican. If they ever find out, we really hope they will let us know. Horace Greeley says it is not; and judging the Tribune—which is in full sympathy with Wendell Phillips—by Abraham Lincoln as a standard, we should say the Tribune was not. But we don't care a rusty farthing whether the Tribune is and the Herald is not, or the Herald is and the Tribune not. We did all in our power to make Mr. Lincoln President, and do all in our power to sustain his administration; simply because we believe him honest and just and true to the whole country and the entire constitution. If he were otherwise, we would cut off our right hand before we would vote for him, and pluck out our tongue before we would speak for him, to whatever party he might belong, or whatever name he might be called by. All of our politics resolves itself now into the suppression of the rebellion, the restoration of the Union, the enforcement of the Constitution in all its parts and provisions, the maintenance of the national authority in every section of the land, the preservation of the rights of the States in their fullness, and the considering all other questions as secondary and all party divisions as nothing till this is accomplished. If this is Republican, we are Republicans; if not, we are not, and do not want to be.

The Boston Courier thinks we are out of favor with the Tribune because we are opposed to abolition in the district of Columbia. The Courier mistakes;—we are in favor of abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia and everywhere else in the world, in the proper time and in the proper way, and always vote and act in reference to that; but we belong to the white race and the American people, and they claim our first attention. What shall become of Africans we will consider afterwards; and in that consideration we will not forget the National Constitution and the rights of the several States. If to abolish slavery we must first abolish the Union, trample on the Constitution, and violate the sovereignty of the States, we will leave it to the Tribune and Wendell Phillips to perform that work.—Herald.

This, or something near it, is the position of a large portion of the press, connected with both the republican and democratic parties in the free States. It is plain, and generally satisfactory, so far as it goes,—but "when in the course of human events it becomes necessary," as it may, to destroy slavery, or to let it abolish the Union, trample on the constitution, and violate the rights of the States,—everybody will have to choose sides pretty quick.

Perhaps it is not strictly necessary to discuss the question now:—but when the time comes, there will be no leisure for debate. Like the rebellion itself, the blow will come first, and the word afterwards.

MATTERS IN GEORGIA.—Maj. Gen. David Hunter, the day after the surrender of Fort Pulaski, issued a General Order, in which it was declared that "all persons of color lately held to involuntary service by enemies of the United States, in Fort Pulaski and on Cockspur Island, Ga., are hereby confiscated and declared free, in conformity with law, and shall hereafter receive the fruits of their own labor. Such of said persons of color as are able bodied, and may be required, shall be employed in the Quartermaster's Department at the rates heretofore established by Brig. Gen. T. W. Sherman." Gen. Hunter seems to be giving attention, also, to the question how far it is expedient for us to cultivate cotton on the lands we occupy, to the neglect of necessary articles of food which will not only support the freed slaves, but support our army as well. This is certainly a subject well worthy of consideration. Aside from the advantage of a supply of excellent vegetables for our troops, there will be many freed negroes who must gather their support largely from the soil. In his letter upon this general subject to Mr. Pierce, the Treasury Agent in charge of the abandoned Sea Island plantations, he asks for the names of the former owners of slaves, and the number of persons formerly held to involuntary service now in charge of the government agents. If the owners do not, within a reasonable time, come forward and prove their fealty to the government, these slaves will be restored to freedom. This action of Gen. Hunter is of an important character.

SINGULAR AND FATAL GUN ACCIDENT.—At Windham, Vt., 5th inst., Benjamin L. Bemis was engaged in cleaning a gun, from which all the charge, as he supposed, had been withdrawn. The barrel was detached from the stock, and the tube at the breach had been held in a candle to burn off some turpentine which had been placed there. Mr. Bemis then placed the end of the barrel in his mouth to blow through it, when it exploded, killing him instantly.—Two shot passed through his head. He was 37 years of age, and leaves a wife and three small children.

☞ Gen. Sigel is rapidly recovering from his illness.

CONGRESS.—The Special Committee of the Senate on the case of Senator Starke, of Oregon, reported him as disloyal to the United States Government. A resolution calling for copies of all orders to Gen. Sherman was offered by Mr. Anthony, he believing the credit of the capture of Fort Pulaski belonged to that General.

In the House, a resolution of Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, was adopted, requesting the President to dismiss military officers known to be habitually intoxicated. He was assured the commanding general who had failed to reinforce the Vermont companies at Yorktown was intoxicated at the time, but declined to give his name. An unsuccessful effort was made to lay the 15 or 16 confiscation bills on the table. Mr. Bingham's substitute, providing for the capture and condemnation of the enemy's property, and to indemnify the United States for expenses in the suppression of the rebellion was agreed to, 62 against 48. Pending the question on the passage of the bill as amended, the House adjourned.

FOREIGN.—The English papers continue to discuss the Monitor affair, and the government has contracted for an iron cupola ship, "under Capt. Cole's invention," to be ready for sea by the 1st of June, 1863.—The shipwrights have all been transferred from the wooden to the iron vessels in course of construction. Experiments at Shoeburyness with a gun of large size, showed that the best and hitherto considered invulnerable forms of iron sides were, so to speak, almost as easily penetrated by a shot as if the targets had been of timber. Sir. Wm. Armstrong says that a gun of 12 tons weight, fired with a charge of 50 pounds of powder, will break through the side of the Warrior or the strongest ship afloat. A target like the Warrior's side was shattered into crumbs at the trial. The Times says no weapon of offence or defence seems left to use so effective as a large iron-clad and very swift steam ram. The Italian Ministry have ordered an increase in iron-plated ships.

A POCKET BOOK STOLEN.—On Tuesday afternoon a German named Moss Fouseca, living in Cambridge, had his pocket-book stolen as he was leaving a car in the depot of the Boston and Providence Railroad, in Boston. It contained $895. Fouseca is a poor man with a large family, and this money had been saved from the earnings of nine years, and was all he had.

☞ Colonel Jennison, late of the Seventh Kansas Regiment, has been arrested by the military authorities, and sent to Alton, Ill. The cause of his arrest is said to be insubordination and mutiny. Lieut. Hoyt, of the same regiment, is also under arrest.

☞ Louisiana has never been regarded as sound on secession, having polled a majority against it at her last opportunity. It is reported that there are four parishes (counties) in the State that have not yet furnished a soldier.

☞ Mr. John Cassell, the great publisher, of London, prints the outside of sixty English country newspapers. These are all alike, with a change of title. They are then sent to the country printers, who print on the inside their editorials and local news, and send to subscribers.

TERRIBLE SLAUGHTER OF OFFICERS. At the late battle of Pittsburg Landing one of the Illinois regiments lost twenty out of its twenty-five officers, either killed or wounded. The same regiment lost out of six hundred all told, 69 killed, 291 wounded, and 10 or 12 missing.

☞ A special dispatch to the N. Y. Post, from Washington, says the House Committee on Foreign Affairs have agreed to report a bill for the appointment of a Commission on National Defences, to consist of two officers of the army, two of the navy, and two of civilians of scientific attainments.

☞ The price paid in the city of brotherly love for making army canton flannel drawers, is seven and one-half cents per pair. Ordinary hands can make two pairs per day, and a very smart one, three pairs. The "patriotic" army contractors are making a very fine thing out of it, at the expense of the poor sewing women.

☞ The steamer Eastport, captured from the rebels at Nashville, is being transformed into a first class gunboat, and is nearly completed. She will be the largest boat of the flotilla, and armed with 10-inch Dahlgren guns.

☞ A dispatch from the telegraph operator at Salt Lake, dated 22d, says that the Indians have stopped all communication by the Overland mail. No particulars are given. It is feared that the telegraph lines will soon be destroyed.

☞ A son of Sam Houston, of Texas, was wounded at the Pittsburg battle, and is now a prisoner at St. Louis. Pierre Soule's son is also a prisoner.

☞ Breckinridge is denounced by the officers who were under him at the Pittsburg battle, but who are now prisoners, as a sneak and coward.

☞ No fighting is expected at Corinth for a week or ten days.

THE REBELLION.

A special dispatch from Cairo, 22d, says the news from the fleet at Fort Wright is uninportant. The rebels have cut the levee on the Arkansas shore, opposite the fort, and the fine farming lands there are now covered with a lake of water for miles around. The residents are generally exasperated at this outrage.

A dispatch received on Tuesday at the War Department, from Gen. Banks, represents that he had pushed a force forward as far as the town of Surry, that Jackson had abandoned the Valley of Virginia permanently, and was en route for Gordonsvile, by way of the mountains.

Dispatches from Houston, Mo., say that Price and Van Dorn's commands were 10 miles south of Jacksonport, on the White river, on Monday last, where the rebels were concentrating in large force. Price was supposed to have subsequently gone to Corinth.

It appears that the telegram from Beauregard calling for reinforcements was not intercepted by Gen. Mitchell, but was found in the telegraph office, having passed over the wires before Gen. Mitchell's division reached Huntsville, and about two-thirds of the reinforcements called for had already passed down to Corinth. The remainder are collected at Chattanooga, and at other points on the Tennessee river, being unable to move forward on account of General Mitchell's obstructions. Beauregard's dispatch was partly written in cypher, but it was easily translated by Gen. Mitchell.—The rolling stock captured by Gen. Mitchell has been sent to Nashville.

Several of the vessels of the Potomac flotilla have been up the Rappahannock, some as far as Fredericksburg. About nine miles above the Tappahannock, schooners have been sunk to obstruct the channel. The boats were fired upon by musketry, to which a response of the same kind was given, the banks being too high for the use of cannon. No one on board was injured.—Twelve or thirteen vessels and two steamers were found in the creeks, seized and brought down the stream.

Timber for rebuilding the bridges burned by the rebels on their retreat before McDowell's advance, will soon reach Falmouth. Nothing is heard of the rebel force, but it is believed to be in some force not far back of Fredericksburg.

NAVAL.—The Herald's Washington dispatch states that Commander William Smith has been transferred from the Canandaigua to the command of the Wachusett, and that Commander John Missroon has been detached from the Wachusett, and ordered to the Boston Navy Yard for ordnance duty.

The Fortress Monroe correspondent of the Baltimore American says that a letter from the Sec. of the Navy was read on the quarterdeck of the Minnesota on the 19th, approving of the course pursued by Com. Goldsborough last week in declining to allow the Monitor and other vessels to go up among the intricate channels of the upper roads to accept battle with the Merrimac.

☞ The General referred to in Congress as having been drunk at Yorktown, in the face of the enemy, is stated to be Gen. Smith. The N. Post's Washington dispatch says:—"the rumors appear to have no foundation. Not only is he one of the most temperate men in the army, but a private dispatch from Gen. McClellan says he gallantly and skilfully gained a great advantage for us, silencing the fire of a battery, which was splendidly done, with little loss on our side. Letters from Gen. Smith state that his horse, a spirited animal, fell with him during the engagement, which suggests, probably, the cause of the unjust rumors."

FOREIGN.—The steamship Bohemian, from Liverpool 10th and Queenstown 11th, arrived at Portland on Wednesday morning. It is rumored that the relations between England, France and Spain, relative to Mexico, are unsatisfactory. Spain maintains the premises of the convention. It is reported that France wishes to march against Mexico. The Augsburg Gazette asserts on reliable information that England has succeeded in bringing Spain to her side on the Mexican question by a promise not to object should Spain take Hayti.

A YANKEE TRICK.—A letter in the Marblehead Ledger describes a shrewd stratagem successfully employed by Capt. Gregory of the U. S. brig Bohio, employed on blockading duty in the Gulf of Mexico.

"On the 8th inst. a schooner was discovered, which, on the Bohio displaying the stars and stripes, tried to escape. All sail was crowded on the Bohio, till twenty-one were set, but without gaining on the strange craft, which proved to be a fast sailer, and beyond the reach of the Bohio's guns. The B.'s sails were then wet, when a slight gain was made. At last the captain rigged a smoke-stack ambiships, built a fire, and soon had "steam on." As soon as the stranger saw this she hove to, thinking the Bohio a steamer, and would soon catch her. She was the Henry Travers, of Nassau, N. P., with a cargo of coffee and soap, with which she intended to run the blockade.—She made a nice prize, worth $50,000."

☞ Hoenan has gone to Paris and don't intend to fight Mace or any other man.

Local.

PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.—The roll of workmen now includes about 1250 names. A large number have been discharged within a few days—about 75 of the caulkers' gang being thrown out of work on Tuesday evening, by the near completion of all the new vessels.

There are five new steamers at this Yard—the Ossipee, Sonoma, Conemaugh, Sacramento, and the Mahaska. The Mahaska is nearly ready for sea; the Sonoma is receiving her machinery at the wharf; the Ossipee has just come out of the dry dock, and is fast approaching completion; the Conemaugh, which was built on the railway, will be launched into the dock in a day or two, to receive her machinery; and the noble Sacramento is to be let loose from her ways, on Monday forenoon next,—with appropriate services, which (as well as the building and "launching" proper,) Constructor Hanscom knows so well how to superintend and participate in.

This will leave only the old ship-of-the-line Alabama, and the noble frigate Franklin, on the stocks in the ship-houses—and we presume it is not unreasonable to suppose that, under all the circumstances of the times, at least the Alabama will be disposed of in some way, before long. Why not razee and plate her? and launch the Franklin for a storeship? Nobody turns out better vessels than our Portsmouth mechanics—which Uncle Sam knows, as well as everybody else.

THE MORNING TRAINS to Boston, out of Portsmouth, run to accommodate passengers better than for several years past. The first train, by way of Concord & Portsmouth and Boston & Maine route, leaves here in the morning at 1-4 to 6, reaching Boston a little past 8. This train is patronized by those who believe in an early start, merchants who look over the auction sales in Boston, or persons who desire to leave Boston on other routes by the forenoon trains. The train on the Eastern Road is put back to 1-4 past 7, giving ample time for the morning nap, and arriving in Boston at 1-4 to 10. These trains accommodate every one, as two morning trains at different hours seem to satisfy both Young America and old fogies.

☞ They have three fine new milk Cows at the Atlantic House, Rye Beach, the milk from which trio weighs 120 lbs. daily. Giving 2 1-2 lbs. to the quart, and we have 12 gallons a day, or 16 quarts from each cow daily. Everybody expects to find good things at the "Atlantic;" but if these cows are going to keep up this great yield all summer, we think they have set themselves considerable of a stint. And if they give this now, on hay and a little provender—how much will they give in the height of pasturing? We don't think the cream of the joke would be in milking them.

OPERATIONS BELOW NEW ORLEANS.—A private letter which came by the Philadelphia from Key West to Capt. Porter's son, states that seven of the bomb schooners and three steamers had passed Fort Jackson in one night. The same letter also states that one whole plantation of negroes, numbering 150, came down in boats, batteaux, &c., to the fleet. They say that their master had abandoned their place and gone to New Orleans. They are very glad to get away, but protest strongly against the fleet attempting to go further up the river, declaring that they will be blown to pieces.

Our dead at Pittsburg Landing are now about all buried, a large force having been engaged for several days past in attending to the interment of the thousands of rebels who were left dead on the battle field, aside from our own. The trench system was introduced from two hundred to three hundred bodies being placed in a single excavation. It could not be expected that we should bestow the same attention upon the burial of our enemies as we would upon our own, and more particularly as their commanding officer has been so regardless concerning them; therefore many of them have been thinly covered, as time and labor would permit.—Correspondence of Philadelphia Enquirer.

☞ At Ada, near Grand Rapids, Mich., last week, Alexander M. Joonson, hotel keeper, was shot and instantly killed by his wife, in return for his getting beastly drunk and calling her bad names before a barroom full of people.

SIGNIFICANT.—We notice a chap down east has an advertisement signed Herman Gruntall. We have plenty of men here of that sort, only they are not called by the name—and such do not usually advertise, either.

☞ A well sunk at any point along Saginaw river, Mich., to the depth of 700 feet, will bring to the surface the strongest and purest salt brine found anywhere in the United States.

☞ Governor Harvey, of Wisconsin, was drowned on Saturday night last at Savannah, Tenn.

THE ANGLER'S SONG.

Hail to the Spring time and the hills!
Hail to the meadows and the fog!
Hail to the gorges and the rills!
All hail the trout 'neath yonder log!
Have good care,
That's his hair:
Heigh ho, hop,
Flip, flap, flop.

Hail to the shocking old straw hat,
Second-hand trowsers, coat, and boots,
Box of worms, lively and fat,
All hail your hook in those old roots!
Careless man,
Mad as bran,
Neither snap,
Nor flip flap.

Blessed and calm the smiling morn;
Birds sing wherever'er we roam.
Flowers the woods adorn:
All hail my line 'midst dancing foam!
Now look out—
Silent stand—
And a trout
Will kiss my hand.

Hail the graceful silver dream!
Lo! a trout with sudden spring
Forms a spray-bow o'er the stream.
And is added to my string.
Verbum sap,
Flip, flop, flap.

☞ Lord Hardwicke said the other day in Parliament that "the time would arrive when a ship would be fought by an engineer, a stoker, and an artillerist."

☞ The statement that Secretary Chase was in Philadelphia consulting with ex Secretary Cameron relative to a defalcation in the War Department is denied by telegraph.

1900 BARRELS of the LODI MANUFACT'G Co's
Superior Poudrette.
This article has been so long used, and with such success, in this vicinity, that a recommendation of it is hardly necessary. One word to those who have not used it—TRY IT.
TRY IT ON YOUR GARDENS!
Try it on your BEANS, your CABBAGES, your Corn, Potatoes. Try it on your GRAPE VINES, your FRUIT TREES, your SHRUBBERY: Try it on your LAWNS, on your MOWING FIELDS;
TRY IT ANYWHERE and EVERYWHERE, where vegetation starts—and you will find that it pays WELL, pays FIRST RATE on the OUTSIDE.
The price this year will be uniform, without regard to quantity,
One Dollar and sixty cents per barrel.
Also, for sale,
PURE PERUVIAN GUANO

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which have time shall look back upon and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicine cannot do. PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring, literally sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, quicker than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant girl can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded, if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

THE VOICE OF THE GRASS.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere;
By the dusty roadside,
On the sunny hillside;
Close by the noisy brook,
In every shady nook,
I come creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, smiling everywhere;
All round the open door,
Where sit the aged poor;
Here, where the children play,
In the bright noonlight day,
I come creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere;
In the noisy city street
My pleasant face you'll meet,
Cheering the sick at heart,
Toiling his busy part—
Silently creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere;
You cannot see me coming,
Nor hear my low, sweet humming;
For in the starry night,
And the glad morning light,
I come creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere;
More welcome than the flowers
In summer's silent hours;
The gentle cow is glad,
And the merry bird not sad,
To see me creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere;
When you're numbered with the dead
In yon still and narrow bed,
In the happy Spring I'll come,
And deck your silent home—
Creeping, silently creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere;
My humble song of praise
Most joyfully I raise
To Him at whose command
I beautify the land
Creeping, silently creeping everywhere.

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE OF PORTUGAL.

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints.

Excellent Winter for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and tonic qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in Europe and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the tissues and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nourishing properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy table and complexion.

A D V E R T I S E !

Advertise!

IT IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all and affords the cheapest means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its merits. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising of the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to avoid, one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing may be ludicrously marred from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves are. It may be laid down, as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sometimes of late, it has in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others who have advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a business ceases to be advertised, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody looks for the information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is accordingly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

Portsmouth, Jan. 24, 1862.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, and distressing disorders of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every nature and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

VOL. 20. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. FRIDAY, APRIL 25 1862. NO. 69

The Chronicle.

A SINGULAR PROPHECY.—The following circumstance, says the Richmond Whig, recently occurred at Pensacola, and its truth is vouched for by a trustworthy officer of the army:

A soldier in the Confederate service fell into a long and profound sleep, from which his comrades vainly essayed to arouse him. At last he woke up himself. He then stated that he should die the next afternoon at 4 o'clock, for it was so revealed to him in his dream. He then said that in the last week of the month of April would be fought the greatest and bloodiest battle of modern times, and that early in May peace would break upon the land more suddenly and unexpectedly than war had done in the beginning. The first part of the prophetic dream has been realized, for the soldier died the next day at 4 o'clock P. M. Will the rest be in April and May? Let believers in dreams wait and see.—Mobile Advertiser.

DEATH OF A CHILD FROM INTOXICATION.—In New York city on Wednesday, Coroner Collin held an inquest on the body of Ellen O'Neil, a girl four years old, whose death was the result of drinking a large quantity of strong beer. It appears that the parents of the deceased are both at the seat of war; that for the last six months Ellen had lived with Bridget Harlan; that on Sunday afternoon the child cried for beer, and Bridget gave her what she considered enough, and left the pitcher containing about two quarts on the table, while she went into another room; that the child's appetite for the beer was such as to induce her to drink all that was in the pitcher, after which she fell into a deep sleep from which she never awoke. Dr. Robinson, who made the post-mortem examination, testified that the child died in consequence of drinking the beer.—Tribune.

THE SILENT MEMBERS.—"Parley" writes the Boston Journal:—"We always have Representatives noted for some peculiarity, and the Hon. Henry May of the Baltimore district of Maryland, is now pointed out to strangers as the silent member. The House by vote, stopped him short in the middle of a speech last summer, when he was rather defending secession, and since then he had been as dumb as an oyster, except when he votes. Ex-Col. Kerrigan is equally taciturn, neither is the voice of the Hon. Ben. Wood heard in debate. Although this trio do not speak in the House it is evident that—like the old farmer's sagacious mule, they 'keep up a great thinking.'"

They are probably waiting for something to turn up—reconstruction, perhaps, and when that comes they may be leaders with Vallandigham, Breckinridge, Floyd and Davis.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A correspondent of the Ballot states that a young woman, whose name he did not ascertain, attempted suicide by drowning in the lower river, at Dover, on Friday evening, but was rescued before her purpose was accomplished. Cause,all for love.

—— Rev. W. B. Clapp of the First Baptist Church in Dover, preaches his farewell sermon next Sabbath, the 27th.—Rev. E. H. Richardson of the First Congregational, in Dover, has received a $1500 call from a society in Lowell, Mass., but does not intend leaving his present charge.

—— Orville P. Higgins, of Flint, Michigan, a member of the Senior Class in Phillips Exeter Academy, a young man about 19 years of age, died at Portland, Me., on the 8th inst. The deceased had an attack of the measles, from which he had scarcely recovered before he exposed himself and took cold.

—— Dr. Samuel B. Swett, of Exeter, in driving into that town from Kensington Sunday evening,was overturned and thrown from his gig, in consequence of a deep pit in the highway, and considerably injured.

—— Several of Dover's "men of eminent gravity," including His Honor Mayor Bickford, Col. Geo. H. Peirce, Ald. Bickford, S. C. Fisher, Esq., several city officers and other influential citizens, engaged in a game of base ball last Wednesday, the 16th, on Osborne's Hill. Verily, it was an inspiriting scene; great development of muscle, re-assertion of speed, and general healthy exercise being the result.

—— An elderly gentleman named Cook, belonging in New Hampshire, incautiously showed a considerable sum of money while on the way from Lawrence to Lowell on the cars on Monday night. On arrival, the old man asked a person who had been sitting along with him, the way to a friend's house, when the fellow volunteered to show him, but took him to the South Common instead, and choked and robbed him of all his money.

PAWTUCKAWAY BANK.—The stockholders of this Bank, at their meeting last week, voted to close up its affairs and surrender its charter, and proper measures will be taken at once, for that purpose. The bank has been conducted with success and profit, but the present great depression of business does now, and probably will for some time to come, render the employment of the present amount of banking capital in this State, uncertain and less profitable than heretofore. It is therefore thought advisable by the stockholders to close up the affairs of this bank, not now required for the accommodations of the public.

The successful management of the bank will appear from the fact that the amount of its dividends during the seven years it has been in operation has been $52 per share, equal very nearly to 7 1-2 per cent. per annum,and the assets now on hand will leave a balance for the stockholders after repaying to them the par value of their shares.

☞ The St. Louis News states that the chaplain of an Illinois Regiment stationed at Paducah, heard talk among the rebel sympathizers living in that city, which convinced him that Beauregard was about to attack Gen. Grant. So reliable did he consider his source of information that he went to Pittsburgh and had interviews with Gens. Grant and Prentiss, both of whom thanked him for his pains by reproving him sharply for having left his post. The latter acknowledged that the camps were not in a position to meet an attack, and responded to urgent entreaties that something should be done to make them so, by the remark:—"Let them come; we can whip them anyhow."

MUTILATION OF TREASURY NOTES.—On account of the frequent mutilations of United States Treasury Notes, for the purpose of defrauding the Government by pasting together detached parts of several notes, obtained by robbing each of a fractional part, the Government has decided as the only effectual way of checking the evil, not to redeem any note at par unless it is whole and to deduct one dollar for every tenth part of a note torn off, and in that proportion for larger amounts removed.

☞ The deep concern which the English journals manifest about the American cuirassed ships, serves to enliven the wit of the French journals. They point out to the now trembling English nation how, if they had pushed on the war about Mason and Slidell, the little Monitor would have sunk their whole American fleet; and how, if they desire to be ready for the Americans at the close of the civil war, they must at once transform their whole fleet at an expense of hundreds of millions.

☞ The Italian residents of Panama are raising a subscription for funds towards purchasing an elegant crown for Victor Emanuel.

CONGRESS, Wednesday.—In the Senate a resolution was adopted, instructing the Military Committee to inquire whether any General had been drunk, before Yorktown, in face of the enemy. The bill for recognizing Hayti and Liberia and appointing diplomatic representatives, was taken up and advocated by Mr. Sumner. The discussion of the Confiscation bill occupied the remainder of the day's session.

The House passed the bill for the relief of the Danish bark Jorgen Lorentzen, appropriating $1850. The Military Committee reported a bill to create a board of commissioners, to consist of army and navy officers, to examine the coast and harbor defences. The Commissioners are also required to consider the propriety of constructing a Navy Yard upon the lakes, and an ordnance foundry, armory and arsenal west of the Alleghanies.

THE "FRENCH LADY" ATTEMPTS TO ESCAPE.—Lieut. Thomas, "the French lady," confined in Fort Lafayette for transferring the steamer St. Nicholas to the custody of the Rebels at Baltimore last Summer, escaped from Fort Lafayette on Monday night. He had procured a number of tin cans, which he corked tightly and tied about his waist, when he took to the water and swam toward the Long Island shore.—He was discovered by the sentinel, and a boat being put into requisition, he was brought back and conveyed to his old quarters. The steamer St. Nicholas which he managed to transfer to the Rebel authorities, was committed to the flames in front of Fredericksburg last week by the Rebels themselves, fearing that she might fall into the hands of Gen. McDowell's army.

☞ The Indians have stolen stock from nearly every station between forts Laramie and Bridger, and killed several men. They burned one station and threatened the entire destruction of the Overland Mail Company's property. The company, in consequence, are concentrating their employees and property at a few stations for protection, and have abandoned all attempts to carry the mail for the present.

Much curiosity has been expressed at the inactivity of the Monitor and other agencies arranged by Government for the destruction of the Merrimac, when the latter vessel defied them the other day in Hampton Roads. But the barrier to action could not be surmounted. It is positively stated that the Secretary of the Navy had given strict orders for them not to move or discharge a gun, unless the Merrimac attacked them.—Boston Post.

☞ From China comes the shocking intelligence that for lack of proper food the people had been driven to cannibalism at Nankin, one of the places devastated by the Taepings. Over the latter the Imperialists at Woosung, led by an American Colonel, had gained a success, and great things were expected at Pekin from Prince Kung's energy.

SIGNS OF SPRING:—The city gang hard at work clearing up the streets; a band organ and tambourine accompaniment, with the usual fascinating tunes; and the wheelbarrow-scissors-grinder. Besides, dust and old paper blowing around Market Square intimate pretty strongly to snow banks in back-yards that they had better not "stand upon the order of their going, etc."

☞ The debts of Mexico to the allied powers now at war with her, are put at $90,000,000. To England $75,000,000; to France $5,000,000, and to Spain $10,000,000. The whole is a mere trifle, about enough to pay our war expenses for one month.

☞ It is stated on most excellent authority, that a portion of the British steamer Gladiator's cargo consisting of 30,000 or 40,000 Enfield rifles, have been landed at Smyrna, Fla., and taken to the confederate arsenals.

☞ The Japanese embassy has arrived at Marseilles, France. The embassy consists of two plenipotentiaries, seventeen officers, and a large number of servants, and is the first embassy sent to Europe by the Japanese since 1652, when they dispatched a deputation to visit the Pope.

☞ There was a very sudden decline of real estate in New York a few days since. A row of houses occupied by thirteen families suddenly came down by the settling of the foundations,causing great consternation.

☞ It is reported among the army officers at Port Royal that there is considerable rivalry between the ladies from New York and those from Boston, and that they were saying a great many unpleasant things about each other.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY, for May, contains sixteen articles, besides the reviews and literary notices. The high position which this magazine maintains, is too well known and appreciated, to require an extended notice.

☞ The Legislature of the State of Deseret assembled in Salt Lake City on the 14th. Gov. Young's Message is patriotic. Two Senators have been elected.

☞ Bonaparte said he got five millions of revenue from the love of brandy, and he would like to know which of the virtues would pay as much.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from the fleet at Fort Wright, says that for 3 days not a gun had been fired, the combatants seemingly satisfied to save their powder until something can be accomplished by its use. The enemy are reported to have 14 gunboats off the fort, together with the ram Manassas. The latter and 7 of the former arrived on Sunday. Hollins has returned from New Orleans with McRae.

The Chicago Times' correspondent from Fort Wright, says Gen. Pope's division has been ordered to reinforce Gen. Halleck.—The whole force left for up the river on the 18th.

It is reported that the rebels have nearly completed three gunboats at Memphis.—One, called the Arkansas, is plated with two thicknesses of railroad iron, placed transversely, and is considered by them more than a match for the whole Federal flotilla. Another is called the Beauregard, and is a wooden boat, with 30 inches of compressed cotton placed between heavy wooden timbers, 18 inches thick. This is also considered impregnable. They are provided with prows like the Merrimac.

It was reported in Baltimore on Thursday that Gen. Burnside has received proposals from the Governor of North Carolina for the surrender of the State.

An artillery officer, from the vicinity of Warrenton Junction, reports the rebels in strong force on the south side of the river in the direction of Gordonsville. The national force in front of Manassas is considered sufficient to take care of them.

Capt. Cutting of Gen. Burnside's staff has arrived at Washington with dispatches. He states that Gen. Reno commanded the national forces at the late reconnoissance to Elizabeth City. On Saturday, 19th, the advance was made upon the rebels. The enemy opened fire with his artillery as soon as our troops made their appearance. Our troops immediately formed in line of battle and charged the enemy, who ran at the first fire. Our troops then took possession of the town, and after remaining a few hours retired to the main army. The enemy was totally routed, with a loss of about sixty men. Our loss was twelve killed and forty-eight wounded.

Information from private sources states that the guns of the national forces, under Gen. Burnside, were probably opened on Fort Macon on Tuesday or Wednesday last. Gen. Parke is in command of the besieging force.

The schooner Dixie, formerly a rebel privateer, has arrived at Philadelphia,—a prize to the U. S. gunboat Keystone State, having been captured [illegible] town, S. C.

A dispatch from Pittsburg Landing says Gen. Halleck's army was largely reinforced on the 22d.

Gen. Mitchell's division has arrived at Tuscumbia, Ala., and now has possession of 200 miles of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad.

NAVAL.—The iron-clad gunboat Galena was put into commission on Monday at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and immediately hauled into the stream for her powder.—On Tuesday morning she sailed under steam. The mechanics are still at work upon her, and will be until she arrives at her destination. She carries a sergeant's guard of marines and a crew of about 100 men.

The caulkers are at work on the frigate Roanoke, at Brooklyn Navy Yard, canking her sides preparatory to an iron armor being affixed. It is expected that part of the plates will be put on at the Yard, and the remainder at the Novelty Works. The Roanoke will have the Ericsson towers.

The new iron-plated steamer Galena arrived at Fortress Monroe on Wednesday afternoon.

The Continental Iron Works at Green Point have already laid keels for three marine batteries similar to the Moniter, though much larger. In a very few days not less than 1100 hands will be employed. They will be of much greater power than the Monitor, and calculated for ocean service.

☞ It is reported that Francis H. Ruggles, Esq., of the State Department at Washington, is about visiting Boston to inquire into the cases of Thos. J. Duntsall, late Consul at Cadiz, and Myers, of the privateer Sumter, sent there from Tangiers by the U. S. Consul at that place.

☞ A person who reads the debates in Congress on iron clad steamers, published in the Congressional Globe, thinks the paper ought to be excluded from the mails, for furnishing important information to the enemy.

☞ Lieut. Wagner, of the Topographical Engineers,who was wounded a few days since by a shell, while making a drawing of the country before the enemy's lines at Yorktown, has since died.

☞ Beauregard tells his men to fire at the Federals' feet, as wounded men give more trouble to an adversary than dead, as they have to be taken from the field.

☞ The building for the great English Exhibition took fire for the third time, on the 9th inst., but the flames were fortunately checked in season. The building and goods already deposited there are insured for seven millions five hundred thousand dollars, which would not probably over half cover the loss of the destruction of the building.

☞ The son of Mr. Frank Ham, of Winchester, Mass., formerly of this city, was drowned in that town a few days since. It was about two years and a half old. It had been left in the charge of a servant, and during her temporary absence fell into the river, which runs past the house, and was drowned.

☞ Burning the city of Memphis is still talked of. Immense piles of sugar, tobacco and molasses are gathered on the levee, and, it is said, will be fired on the appearance of the Federal fleet above Memphis.

Local.

☞ A few evenings since, Mr. Elisha Tripp fell through a hatch way in his paint shop in Penhallow Street, and was so severely bruised and stunned that he lay an hour on the floor, before recovering consciousness sufficient to get to the door and ask a passing friend to procure a carriage to take him home. His escape from death or permanent injury was very narrow; but we are glad to learn that he has nearly recovered, after being confined to the house for several days.

☞ We understand that Capt. Geo. Wallace Tucker, of this city, has purchased the Long Wharf property, and will engage extensively in the lumber and fuel trade there. Also that Messrs. Merrill & Son, of Daniel street, will remove their business thither, uniting the two.

☞ The payments of the workmen at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, on the pay-roll for the month of March, will be made at the Navy Yard on Saturday, 26th inst.

S. J. Court, Exeter.—The forenoon of Tuesday was occupied in calling the docket. In the afternoon the case of Daniels vs. Mower & al. was tried. This action was for making 59 prs. of boots at 12 cts. per pair. The evidence showed that pltf. did the labor, but the deft. said they had paid one Hill, who carried the shoes to Daniels to be made. Verdict for defts.

The case Swamscott Machine Co. vs. John W. Elliott, to recover pay for a steamboat alleged to have been sold to deft., was commenced on Tuesday.

☞ The caulkers' gang, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, numbering one hundred and six men, have generously contributed $65 for the relief of the destitute families at Gloucester, Mass.

☞ For a rare chance to buy an Oyster and Ice Cream Saloon at Auction, (to-day,) see auction column.

☞ The steam tug Wasp of this port has been sold to parties in New York.

☞ It is reported that two of the Navy Yard workmen, who were paid off on Wednesday, lost upwards of one hundred dollars by gambling in this city, on the same day. One lost about forty, and the other sixty dollars.

A substantial brick building is to be erected at the corner of State and Mulberry streets by one of our charitable ladies, to be used as a Home for Aged Females. The building will face on Mulberry street. The brick work is to be done by Messrs. Whitehouse, Frazer and Green, and the joiner work by Mr. James Moses.—Ballot.

Levee.—By request, the Ladies' Social Levee of the Freewill Baptist Society at Jefferson Hall will be continued this (Friday) evening, and will be closed by a sale at auction.

☞ It was rumored on Thursday that a change would be made at once in the Cabinet, and that Sec. Welles would be appointed Minister to Spain, being succeeded by Gen. Banks or Gov. Sprague, but the friends of Sec. Welles deny the truth of the report. The N. Y. Post's Washington dispatch says Sec. Welles some time since tendered his resignation to the President, but it was not accepted. It denies that there is any truth in the report that he is to be removed.

☞ According to a Paris correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, the question of future operations in Mexico presents new features of disagreement to the allied powers every day. It is stated that Louis Napoleon will attempt to hold the country alone, and is ready to employ one hundred thousand soldiers for the furtherance of his designs.

☞ Extracts from Southern papers show that traffic in gold and silver against notes of the Confederate States, is prohibited at New Orleans, under the penalty of severe punishment, and that masters of steamboats are prohibited from employing white men as deck hands.

Fort Pillow.—Fort Pillow, now under bombardment by Commodore Foote, is seventy-five miles above Memphis. It is understood that Pillow, with singular egotism, has named several forts on the Mississippi after himself.

Rough on the Truants.—The Boston Post says the City Council of Roxbury, Mass., have adopted an ordinance which provides that habitual truants shall be liable to a fine of $20 and two years' confinement in the Alms House.

☞ It requires a force of fifteen thousand men of the Union army to do picket duty across the Peninsula nightly, besides other thousands building roads and bridges, bringing up supplies, munitions, guns, &c.

☞ The French Minister has arrived in the French war steamer, at Washington from Norfolk.

—— The Manchester members of the Cavalry Company have sent home $1400 for their families.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY,

For a family of four or six persons, a neat and convenient TENEMENT, with pleasant yard or garden. Address through Post-Office,

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. Try No. 2 for Worms, No. 3 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhea, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 15 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

New York May 1, 1861.

Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

Louisville, Ky., July 31, 1861.

Drs. Valentine Mott, William Parker & others

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, in less time and strength of the time. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; or consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and receive its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Morning Chronicle.

Loss of a Log Boom.—A large boom of logs at Island Brook, between North Chelmsford and Tyngsboro', Mass., belonging to Mr. Otis Allen, of Lowell, broke away Saturday, and after pitching over Pawtucket falls, the swift current of the Merrimac soon carried them down to Lawrence, and from thence to the open sea at Newburyport. The boom contained a million and a half feet of logs, and three hundred thousand escaped, most of which will be lost.

The Tea we drink.—It is said that the adulteration of tea since the recent imposition on the article, has extended to such an alarming degree, that it is now difficult to find any fit for a human stomach. What it may be that our tea manufacturers give the public to drink in mockery of the pure Hyson or Bohea, is very much a secret of the trade; but dark hints are thrown out, that it is some infernal compound of forest leaves and mineral preparations, that the drinkers will soon cease to accept for the genuine China product.

☞ Since the fight between the Monitor and the Merrimac, it may literally be said that there are no navies in the world now. The strongest naval nations must begin their work anew and do it all over in iron, or their standing is gone forever.

☞ In the North of France the cotton spinner earns from 65 to 80 cents a day. Village weavers cannot earn more than 30 cents a day. Yet provisions are so cheap that they might make both ends of the year meet comfortably, were it not for drunkenness and other disorderly practices.

☞ The postmaster of South Danvers, Mass., and his son, the clerk, have been arrested, charged with opening letters passing through that office, and taking money therefrom.

☞ The rebel congress is to adjourn on Monday next, and meet again on the third Monday in August.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1836.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond competition, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

ADVERTISE!
Advertise!
IT IS THE
LIFE OF TRADE!
Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thoroughly an effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the one by means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and upon its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be not all absorbing to the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crow; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing so itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

THE NEWSPAPER
Advertising Agency
—OF—
S. R. NILES,
1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston,
Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canada, for which he is the duly appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, comparative value of papers and situations, are respectfully invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. spr4 tf S. R. NILES.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impotency, such as Pain, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscess, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, love of solitude, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y 3taw

CAUTION
To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, very speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
In all cases, or No Charges Made.
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by returning One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unexcelled by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

SATURDAY, APRIL 26, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Israel's River which runs through Lancaster, drains the northerly slope of the White Mountains, and is subject to rapid increase in volume from heavy rain or melting snow, and sometimes both. The Coos Republican says the warm days of last week swelled it rapidly and on Friday morning the cry "the ice is going out," brought forth all the people. It was a grand spectacle and worthy the undivided attention of the assemblage. Above the dam, the dark green ice was packed at least ten feet high, while the raging torrent was hurrying on reinforcements at a fearful rate. At once with a crash and roar the foremost cakes gave way and the mass was precipitated over the fall. Never pausing, it swept on, grand in its resistless strength, the great ice floes, logs and trunks of trees crushing and grinding with fearful force. The cut-water of the bridge was torn away as easily as a wisp of straw, and the whole structure trembled. It stood however, and the avalanche passed beneath it, filling the channel up and down the river as far as the eye could reach, sweeping over the fields and crushing all before it.

—— A correspondent of the Coos Republican, in a letter written while the 2d Regiment was on its way to Fortress Monroe, says:—

Col Marston is in command of this detachment, consisting of the N. H. 2d and four companies of the 26th Penn. The acting field officers of the 26th Penn., are, Colonel, Lt. Col. F. S. Fiske of the 2d N. H.; Lt. Colonel, Captain Brownell Granger, of Gen. Hooker's Staff; Major, Lt. J. A. Hubbard of the N. H. 2d. Capt. Granger has command of the four companies that are with us. Col. Small of the Penn. 56th also accompanies our regiment, under arrest.

—— New Hampshire will be represented at the battle at Yorktown by two regiments of infantry, (the 2d and 5th) three companies of sharpshooters, and one battery.

—— The Claremont Advocate says Rev. Mr. Hartwell, the "new minister" of the Methodist denomination in that town, made a good impression on his people last Sabbath.

—— Capt. J. J. Prentiss of the Cavalry did not leave his company, as he proposed some weeks ago, and will probably remain in command.

—— Dr. B. Kittredge of Hinsdale, died very suddenly on the 18th inst. Soon after harnessing his horse, he went into the house, sat down, and immediately expired.

—— Lieut. Col. Griffin has been appointed Colonel of the Sixth Regiment, in place of Col. Converse, resigned; Maj. Scott has been promoted to the Lieut. Colonelcy, and Capt. O. G. Dort, of Keene, is the new Major.

☞ The Boston Courier expresses indignation at the report that women who have husbands in the navy, are made to pay twenty-five cents each, for taking the oath of allegiance at the Navy Agency, when they draw their allotment of pay: the oath being administered by a justice.

We suppose there is no law against it: as we understand pensioners in New Hampshire have had to pay a similar, but smaller tax, for swearing;—but Congress could easily change the practice,—or the Secretary of the Treasury, or Navy, could do it by an order.

CONGRESS, Thursday.—In the Senate the bill for the recognition of the independence of Hayti and Liberia, was passed,—yeas 32, nays 7. The confiscation bill was taken up, and Mr. Sherman's amendment, which limits confiscation to certain persons holding office under rebels, was adopted.—In executive session, the Senate, by a unanimous vote, ratified the Seward-Lyons treaty, recently negotiated here for the suppression of the African slave trade.

The House considered the confiscation bill, and referred the whole subject to a special committee of seven.

☞ The Richmond Dispatch of March 30th publishes the copy of a pass given to a lady whose husband had to flee into Maryland to prevent being pressed into the rebel army. His wife, desiring to cross the river and get some money, received this pass:—"Mrs. McFarlan—Pass. Promises forever to forsake her husband, and never to return to him again, unless he crosses the Potomac, acknowledges his errors, and becomes a loyal subject to the southern confederacy. O. W. Foslick, provost marshal."

CATAPILLARS, it is said, will be abundant this year, if the quantity of eggs to be seen in trees is an indication. These eggs may be found on the small twigs of apple trees, encircling the limb like a band, and may be easily removed.

The Commissioner of Public Buildings has made a report that the restaurants of the Capitol cost the Government five hundred and twenty-five dollars per month.—This report was made by order of the House.

HIST. OF FORMER CONSPIRACIES

AGAINST THE U. S. GOVERNMENT.

The Alien and Sedition Emeute, 1798.—During the Administration of John Adams the country was visibly affected by the French Revolution, whose terrible tragedy was then being enacted. It created, in America, a strong party, in sympathy with the revolutionists, notwithstanding the French Directory bad, with reckless impudence, preyed upon our commerce, insulted our foreign agents, and refused liquidation for authenticated claims. Jefferson was, from his long residence in France, and his strong sympathy with the ultra-democratic idea, the virtual leader of the sympathisers in this country. Running for the Presidency he was beaten by Adams. This was construed by the French as a non-recognition, by this country, of their new government; they therefore rather intensified their lawless course towards our commerce and ministers. Their organ, the Aurora, of Philadelphia, and its "anti-Federal" echoes throughout the country, became excessively insolent toward the "Federals," going so far in their malignant endeavors to excite the country against the party, as to heap lampoons even upon Washington's head.—The French Directory refused to receive our minister, Mr. Pinckney, and left no means untried for mortifying our representatives, and for crippling our energies at home and abroad.

Adams and the Federalists wished, from the first, to preserve a neutrality in regard to the wars in Europe; but, the violence of the French sympathisers here, and the continued depredations on our commerce by the French, left no alternative, apparently, but to resent not only French indignities, but also to place the large number of foreign malcontents, seeking by their immeasurable libels to stir up sedition, under the restraints of law.

Acting under the impulses of the prevailing excitement against this revolutionary foreign element, the question was raised whether the safety of the country did not demand that such foreign residents in the United States as were known to give aid to external enemies should not be banished; while, to protect the President, Congress, and public officers from the atrocious falsehoods and libels put forth day by day, it was proposed to pass a Sedition law which would meet the case. The question was finally met in Congress by the passage of three acts.

The first was an amendment to the naturalization act, extending the previous residence to fourteen years, and requiring five years previous declaration of intention to become a citizen. A register was also kept of all aliens in the country.

A second act, limited to two years, gave the President authority to order out of the country all such aliens as he might deem dangerous to the peace and safety of the United States.

By a third act, in case of declaration of war all natives or citizens of the hostile nation were liable to be apprehended or removed.

These acts produced extreme excitement. The second, familiarly called the Alien Act, was strenuously opposed in the House, and only passed by a vote of 46 to 40. Neither this act nor the third, however, were enforced, it being left to the discretion of the President to do so or not. They served, nevertheless, the good effect of starting from our shores three ship loads of Frenchmen, whose presence in America had given great offence. Among the number was Volney, the revolutionist and infidel.

June 26th, 1798, Mr. Lloyd, of Maryland, introduced the Sedition law to Congress. After various amendments and much opposition, it passed. It provided: First, that it is a high misdemeanor, punishable by fine, not exceeding five thousand dollars, for any person to conspire against the government of the United States to impede the operation of the law, or to commit, advise or attempt to procure any insurrection, riot, unlawful assembly or combination. The second section subjected to a fine, not exceeding two thousand dollars, the publishing of any false, scandalous or malicious writings against the government of the United States, or either house of Congress, or the President, with intent to defame them or bring them in disrepute, or to excite against them the hatred of the people of the United States, or to stir up sedition, or to excite any unlawful combination for opposing any law of the United States, or to encourage any hostile designs of any foreign nation against the United States. The act was to continue in force until June 24th 1800.

These acts called forth the most determined opposition from the "anti-Federalists," who regarded them as unconstitutional and highly offensive. As the Alien Law was not enforced, and as the Sedition Law terminated by limitation in less than two years, it is evident that it was not the laws themselves which offended so much, as the principle involved. They gave occasion, therefore, for Jefferson's celebrated "Resolutions of '98," introduced by George Nicholas into the Kentucky Legislature. The original draft of these resolutions, in Jefferson's own hand-writing, is yet preserved. As introduced by Nicholas, however, some of its more objectionable sections were modified.

The original draft began with a resolution that the Federal Government is a compact between the states, as states, by which is created a general government for special purposes, each state reserving to itself the residuary mass of power and right, and that, as in other cases of compact between parties having no common judge, each party has an equal right to judge for itself, as well as of infractions as of the mode and measure of redress. Then followed five resolutions, practically applying to the acts of the last Congress—this alleged right of the states to judge of infractions and their remedy, not only as a matter of opinion, but officially and constitutionally as parties to the compact, and as the foundation of important legislation. These three acts were severally to punish counterfeiters of bills of the United States Bank, the Sedition Law and the Alien Law—all of which, for various reasons assigned, were successively pronounced "not law, but altogether void and of no force." The Senators and members of Kentucky were directed to lay these resolutions before the two Houses of Congress, and the Governor was also instructed to transmit the resolutions to the legislatures of the several states, to whom an earnest appeal was made for a concurrence with Kentucky in requesting the repeal of the obnoxious laws, and declaring them void and of no force. This was the shape in which, with only two or three dissenting votes, the resolutions passed the Kentucky Legislature on the 14th of November, 1798.

The same sentiments were embodied in resolutions introduced by Madison to the Virginia Legislature, Dec. 24th, 1798. A month later they were sent out to the several States accompanied by an address.

All however ended here. None of the States responded favorably to the resolutions, but, on the contrary, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont disavowed the doctrine set up of a right in the State Legislatures to decide upon the validity of the acts of Congress. The reply of Massachusetts likewise maintained the constitutionality of the Alien and Sedition laws as being justified by the exigency of the moment, and the power of Congress to provide for the common defence.

Mr. Everett says:—"But the resolutions did their work—all they were intended or expected to do, by shaking the administration. At the next election, Mr. Jefferson, at whose instance the entire movement was made, was chosen President by a very small majority; Mr Madison was placed at the head of his administration, as Secretary of State; the obnoxious laws expired by their own limitation; and Mr. Jefferson proceeded to administer the Government upon constitutional principles quite as lax, to say the least, as those of his predecessors."

These resolutions we have referred to at seemingly unnecessary length; but as they contain the germ of all the ideas since advanced of the right of a State to interpret—to adopt or nullify,—the laws of Congress, they deserve especial attention. They were simply acted upon and repeated by the traitorous Hartford Convention—were simply reproduced by South Carolina in her Nullification Ordinance of 1832, and put in practice by the revolutionists of 1860.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Bragg has transferred the command of Fort Pillow to Gen. Price.

The blockade at Charleston has at last proved its efficiency. The rebel steamer Nashville, now called Thomas L. Wragg, has returned to Nassau from an unsuccessful attempt to run the blockade at Charleston, with one of her paddle boxes badly injured, supposed from a cannon ball.—She has a full cargo of ammunition and guns, brought by the Gladiator from England.

From Pittsburg Landing we learn that on the 24th, a reconnoitering party, under Gen. A. J. Smith, attacked the enemy's pickets, 150 strong, who left in great haste, leaving their knapsacks, blankets, and everything else. The party proceeded on foot to Pea Ridge, and there found 3000 or 4000 men drawn up in line of battle, who at the first fire of our artillery, also decamped, leaving their tents, camp equipage, private baggage, half written letters, &c., indicating a great surprise. Everything was burned. We captured 12 prisoners.

The Times' Washington dispatch says a gentleman from Gen. McClellan's headquarters, reports that our forces have greatly the advantage of the enemy. Our approaches command the rebel intrenchments. On Monday last there was firing between rebel regiments within the rebel works—Our forces could distinctly see them carrying off the dead and wounded. The Virginians who are now being conscripted, resist as far as they can, more especially being forced into regiments from other States to fill up the latter. It is supposed the mutiny grew out of something of that sort.

Refugees from Norfolk state that the rebels have five wooden gunboats completed there, all ready for service. The rebels are building another Merrimac, of smaler tonnage, and four more are building at Norfolk.

The rebel General Kirby Smith, with a large force, is, according to the Atlanta Commonwealth, at Bridgeport, within seventeen miles of Huntsville, Ala. But he Atlanta Confederate states that Northern Alabama and Western Georgia are completely at the mercy of Gen. Mitchill, whose present position at Gunter's Landing is declared to be such that he can at once proceed to Rome, take that place and burn down the foundries, capture all the arms, take possession of the engines on the railroad and cut off reinforcements and the means of retreat from Gen. Smith.

Rebel official dispatcees state that the bombardment of the forts below New Orleans continued during the whole of Saturday. It is stated that the Federal armament, owing to the shoalness of the water, cannot get sufficiently near to batter the walls to any extent, and that there is no possibility of reducing them but by shelling the garrisons out.

It is reported that information has been received at our headqurters at Yorktown, that the rebels are concentrating a large force at Gordonsville, hoping to bag Gen. Banks, and it was their intention to allow Gen. McDowell to get across the Rappahannock, and then precipitate a superior force upon him.

The gunboats Seneca, Pembina and Ottawa remain off Jacksonville, Fla., to protect the loyal inhabitants.

A New Orleans, dispatch, 23d, says there was heavy and continuous bombardment of Fort Jackson all the previous night, and it was still progressing. The rebels in the fort were making repairs as best they could. Their barbette guns were still in working order, though most of them had been disabled at times. They were hoping our forces would exhaust their ammunition.

Gen. Lee commands the rebels at Yorktown, Johnston not remaining there. All the rebel stores, ammunition, baggage, &c. had been removed three miles back of Yorktown.

NARROW ESCAPE.—One day last week a person was at the station in Rockport intending to take the cars for Boston, but not getting in before they started, he ran and caught hold of the rear end. The momentum of the train threw his feet from under him, and he would have fallen bad not a person standing on the platform caught hold of his clothes and held him up. Still this person had not sufficient strength to lift him upon the platform, nor could the man assist himself; and there he hung, the strength of the person holding him fast giving out, and death certain if he dropped upon the track. Fortunately another person came out of the car to jump off, but, seeing the man in jeopardy, gave his assistance, and both together lifted him upon the platform, to the great relief of both parties.—Gloucester Telegraph.

Local.

☞ Notwithstanding the cry of dull times and the consequent reduction of rents, in most places; business generally has been good in Portsmouth, the past season, and we see nothing to prevent a fair summer's trade. Doubtless, something will be done at the Navy Yard, though perhaps not on so large a scale as during the winter. The increased Railroad facilities with the interior, we regard as particularly favorable to us; and hope these advantages will not fail to be fully improved by our merchants. Dwelling houses,—good small tenements, have been very scarce here during the winter;—and many real estate owners have been raising the rents of their stores. We think there has heretofore been but one store rented for $400 per year, but there are now several in Market street. And from this movement on the part of shrewd and sagacious property-holders, it would seem fair to infer that they don't fear a dull summer.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, April Term.—No. 182, Benj. D. Cilley v. Thomas Page; was tried on Thursday. This was an action to recover the amount of a promissory note given by Page to Cilley, and by Cilley transferred to Edward S. Sanborn of Kingston, who is pltff. in interest, and claims to have discounted the note. Defence is, that the note was not discounted by Sanborn, but transferred to him for collateral security for indebtedness of Cilley to Sanborn. Stickney for pltff., Bell and Patten for deft.

203, Charles A. Adams v. Ruth G. Adams, was next on trial; action of trover for a gold watch and ear-rings, alleged to have been taken by the deft., and belonging to the pltff.'s wife. Deft. contends the watch was once the property of the mother of the parties, and was given to a brother of the parties, who sent it to a sister, and the deft. never had the watch in her possession, nor the ear-rings, and that the whole affair occurred more than six years ago. Porter for pltff., Bartlett for deft.

POLICE COURT, Thursday.—Samuel Abbott for committing assault on Anna Messer, fined $3 and costs, $3.86.

Friday.—William Sargent, for being drunk and assaulting an officer, was fined and sentenced to pay costs and damages, amounting in all to twenty dollars.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE.—Mr. John B. Hayes, of the Massachusetts 20th regiment, who was taken prisoner at Ball's Bluff, has written a lecture describing that disastrous battle, the incidents of the long and weary march to Manassas after the battle, and the sufferings endured on the way, together with the experience of himself and comrades in the prisons of Richmond. The Boston Journal says—"Mr. Hayes has good descriptive powers, and his lecture is a graphic narrative of what he saw and experienced, including interesting facts not before made public."

Arrangements have been made for Mr. Hayes to deliver this lecture in this city, and it will be given at the Temple on Wednesday evening next, April 30. Patriotic songs, also, will be sung by a choir of children. The price of admission will be but ten cents.

☞ To-day and this evening, is your last chance to buy jewelry, silver ware, fancy goods, &c., at your own prices, at Mr. Clark's store—as the sale is to be closed to-night—and if any goods remain unsold, (as we shouldn't think there would, at the prices for which they are given away,) those who have had charge of the stock, have arranged to dispose of the balance, out of the city.

☞ We are requested to state that the reports are incorrect, which have been made public in the papers—concerning the new building to be erected on the corner of State and Mulberry streets; which, we are told, is not to be a benevolent institution, but designed for private residences.

AN AGED MINISTER DECEASED.—Died at Mott Haven, N. Y., Feb. 22, at the residence of one of his daughters, Rev. Isaac Briggs, a graduate of Brown University; in his early ministry pastor of a church in York, Me.; in 1808 settled over the church in Boxford, East parish, Mass., for about twenty-five years, until about 1834, and afterwards pastor of the church in North Rochester, Mass., where he lived until 1858, being then, and for years before, the oldest Congregational minister in the Commonwealth, in the sole charge of a church and Parish, having been in the ministry between 50 and 60 years, and always a most respectable and worthy man. He was a brother of Rev. Wm. Briggs, who was pastor at Kittery Point, and who kept the North School in Portsmouth 55 years ago.

☞ The prospectus for "a new, live daily paper, which by means of the telegraphic and strict editorial diligence will furnish the news in a readable shape, at a favorable hour and at moderate rates" has been issued at Augusta, Maine.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Tribune says that Lieut. Gov. Koerner of Illinois has been designated as Minister to Spain.

☞ Col. L. D. Campbell has tendered the Chaplaincy of his regiment—the Sixty-ninth Ohio—to Parson Brownlow. The Parson has accepted, and says he will pray and preach to the regiment till they reach Tennessee, when he intends to have a hand in any fight which they may be engaged in.

☞ Dr. C. F. Hoffendahl, one of the most learned and prominent homœopathic physicians in this country, died in Boston, on Thursday at the age of 63 years. He was a German, but has resided in Boston many years, and has enjoyed a very large practice.

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the ease at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. Try No. 2 for Worms, No. 3 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhœa, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 12 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple. Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no attention to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after trying the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have the money refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

IMMORTELLES.

TRAILING ARBUTUS.

Darlings of the forest,
Blossoming alone,
When earth's grief is sorest
For her darlings gone,
Ere the last snow drift melts, your tender buds have blown.

Tinged with colors faintly,
Like the morning sky,
Or, more pale and saintly,
Wrapped in leaver ye lie,
Even as children sleep in faith's simplicity.

There the wild wood robin
Hymns your solitude;
And the rain comes sobbing
Through the budding wood,
While the low south wind sighs, but dares not be more rude.

Were your pure lips fashioned
Out of air and dew—
Starlight unimpassioned,
Dawn's most tender hue,
And scented by the woods that gathered sweets for you?

Fairest and most lonely,
From the world apart,
Made for beauty only,
Veiled from Nature's heart,
With such unconscious grace as makes the dream of Art!

Were not mortal sorrow
An immortal shade,
Then would I to-morrow
Such a flower be made,
And live in the dear woods where my lost childhood played. —Rose Terry.

GOING TO CHURCH.

Some go to church just for a walk,
Some go there to laugh and talk,
Some go there the time to spend,
Some go there to meet a friend,
Some go to learn the parson's name,
Some go there to wound his fame,
Some go there for recreation,
Some go there for observation,
Some go there to doze and nod,
But few go there to worship God. —Anon.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—The bulk of our readers desire their papers early; and those whose premises are not open till late, run much risk of having their papers stolen, blown away, or spoiled by storms, unless they have a drop-box cut for them in some door or shutter.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock, on leaving, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers—and for information of any instances of such breach of trust, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, as attorney for Joseph Ross, of Ipswich, Mass., on the tenth day of February, A.D. 1862, made peaceable entry into and took possession of a certain lot of land, situate in Kensington, in the county of Rockingham and State of New Hampshire, bounded northerly by land of Josiah Prescott in part, and partly by land of Robert Titcomb; easterly by land of the heirs of the late Wells Healey, and partly by land of Jeremiah Poor; southerly by said Poor's land; and westerly by land of Elizabeth Dagood in part, and partly by land of the said Josiah Prescott, containing thirty acres and eighty-eight rods, conveyed to said Joseph Ross in mortgage by Francis W. Atkins, by his deed dated February 15, 1855, recorded in Rockingham registry of deeds, Lib. 355, Fol. 201, for condition broken, and for the purpose of foreclosing the right in equity of said Francis W. Atkins, or of any other person or persons whomsoever, to redeem said mortgaged real estate; and at the same time publicly declared the purpose and object of said entry and possession.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affection, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints.

Excellent Windfall for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Portugal for its wonderful and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in Kidney and Bladder Affections, Dropsy, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and as a cordial invigorator for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

Advertise!

IT IS THE
LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the conviction once between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers in the business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. It may be considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their hooks out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in ill-directed advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred of one thousand-fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The world is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so constantly increasing. No man is wise, or to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

A Change.

The subscriber having disposed of his stock, stand and the good will of the PAINTING Business so long conducted by him in Chestnut Street, to Mr. E. D. COFFIN, would respectfully recommend him to the large list of patrons who have so long favored me with their orders, as a man thoroughly skilled in the art, to give satisfaction in any department of his business.

MARCELLUS BUFFORD.
Portsmouth, Jan. 24, 1862.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,
House, Ship, Sign and Ornamental Painter,

Having taken the commodious and eligible premises,

No. 2 Chestnut Street,

as above, is better prepared than ever to fill all orders in his line of business; and while returning thanks for past liberal patronage, would respectfully solicit a continuance.

Particular personal attention given to HOUSE WORK, SIGN and CARRIAGE Painting.

All sorts of PAINTS, OILS, VARNISHES, GLASS, PUTTY, &c., for sale cheap for cash.

All persons having demands against the subscriber, are requested to present them forthwith; and all indebted, to make payment as soon.

E. D. COFFIN.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and disfigurement, the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; total prostration of the powers of the mind, Loss of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Those who have reflected on contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charged but board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases peculiar to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new, philosophical principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate cases are cured under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

Portsmouth, N. H."

MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Between $7000 and $8000 were received in Manchester, on Thursday, from members of the Fourth Regiment.

—— At the recent session of the N. H. Methodist Conference, measures were adopted to extinguish a debt of $4000 on the Conference Seminary at Northfield. Subscriptions were taken on the spot to the amount of $700 or $800. Bishop Baker gave $200.

—— The Manchester American must assume the responsibility for the following:—

A juvenile sporter belonging to a primary school in this vicinity, boasted to his playfellows the other day, that he would by and by become the fortunate possessor of an important article of youthful aspiration. "My father" said he, "has gone to the war and if he gets killed I am going to have his fish line."

—— The Hollis Association of Congregational clergymen, embracing towns of Hollis and those adjacent, propose to celebrate their first centennial anniversary, at Hollis on the 6th of May. An historical address will be given by Rev. Mr. Davis of Amherst, and biographical sketches of deceased clergymen will be read, with other interesting exercises.

—— Rev. B. M. Tillotson of Manchester, is to be tried on Tuesday by a Council of clergymen of the Universalist denomination, on quite a number of charges brought against him.

—— The Boston Courier thus narrates how a New Hampshire Union man took a short cut to prove his orthodoxy:—

Every New Hampshire man who goes to Washington knows Col. Tom Stackpole. He was made Capt. General of the White House grounds by ex-President Pierce, and is such an indispensable portion of the Presidential mansion that a Cabinet officer could be easier spared, as each new occupant soon discovers. Tom was met a short time ago by Maj. B. B. French, the Superintendent of Public Buildings, who with an air of caution informed him, that some of the politicians were after his place, and were about to report him as a "secesh," and advised Tom to be upon the lookout. A few days afterwards these worthy sons of New Hampshire again met, when Ben inquired of the Colonel, "Have you thought about that matter, Tom, of which I spoke to you?" "Yes," replied Tom; "I've thought of it, and concluded not to trouble myself about it at all." "Why don't you?" said the Major, "they'll have you out." "O," said Tom, "I've consulted a lawyer, and he tells me not to have any fears about it; they can't start me." "Consulted a lawyer?" returned Ben; "well, who the devil was it that gave you such advice as that?" "Well," said Tom, "it's one of the smartest lawyers in the city. He came here from Illinois, and his name is Lincoln. He says I needn't be afraid, they can't hurt me.' It is perhaps needless to add that the Major didn't question the soundness of the advice.

☞ A letter to the Philadelphia Inquirer says the frigate Cumberland, that so nobly defied the rebel Merrimac, is fast going to pieces. Exposed, as she is, to all the storms that sweep down from the North and East, she cannot hold together much longer. The Stars and Stripes still float proudly from her masthead, and there they will remain until the last vestige of the noble vessel has sunk beneath the wave. She was a gallant ship, and a brave man fought her.

CONGRESS, Friday.—In the Senate, Mr. Sherman presented resolutions of the Legislature of Ohio, saying that the feelings of the loyal people of Ohio are outraged by the fact that the rebel prisoners at Columbus are allowed to retain their slaves. The bill for a line of steamships from San Francisco to Shanghae, with a subsidy of a half a million annually, was passed, 26 against 16.

In the House, Mr. Dawes, of Mass., referred to attacks upon the Select Committee on government contracts, stating that Gen. Fremont had charged the committee, who came to St. Louis, with encouraging insubordination, and seeking to create such public opinion as would cause his removal. He also was very severe upon ex-Sec. Cameron, charging him with giving fat contracts to his friends to reconcile old political differences, and stating that although Mr. Cameron denied ever making it, he did make a contract, involving a million and a third, for European muskets three days before he left the Cabinet, but which amount the committee had saved.

☞ In the Prince Edward Island Legislature recently there was a very successful imitation of the Congressional style of oratory. The Hon. Mr. Pope said: "If Mr. Coles (a brother member) will say that he intended his remark to apply to me, and that I took a glass of grog with a man who had called me a coward, I will immediately slap his face." Mr. Coles wisely declined to make the application.

☞ A writer in the Oxford (Me.) Democrat says that an intelligent man, living in the settlement of Magalloway, beyond Umbagog Lake, informed him that from the population there of one hundred and twenty-four, twenty-four had died of diptheria.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. McDowell's force occupies Fredericksburg, Va., and our flotilla has cleared the Rappahannock of obstructions and reached Fredericksburg on Saturday.

At Savannah, Tenn., 25th, heavy firing was heard in the direction of Pittsburg. The cannonading was brisk and gradually growing louder. On Wednesday significant preparations had been made by Gen. Halleck for an attack. Our gunboats on the Tennessee had effected a passage over Muscle Shoal and penetrated to Huntsville, Alabama, where they captured a quantity of rebel commissary stores.

A letter from before Yorktown, dated 24th inst., gives confirmation, on the authority of deserters, of the rumored refusal to fight and the surrender of their arms by an Irish brigade in the rebel army.

A portion of the 6th N. H. Regt. were engaged in the late skirmish near Elizabeth City, N. C.

One of our gunboats shelled Yorktown, Va., on Friday, and the rebels promptly responded. The boat then fell back three miles from Yorktown, and again opened fire, the shells exploding within the enemy's works, but obtained no response. A few shot were fired during the day along the whole lines, to keep the rebels from strengthening their works.

☞ Commander John L. Worden is slowly recovering from the injuries he received during the fight with the Merrimac. A letter from one of his friends, says:—"Worden is getting on, and is regaining his strength; whether he will recover his sight or not remains (by him) to be seen." Several of Worden's friends in New York, in view of the fact that he may be obliged to retire from active service in the navy, are subscribing money toward the purchase of a farm and homestead for him.

CUMBERLAND COLLEGE, Kentucky, has been, like most Southern colleges, broken up by the war, at least for the present. Its president, Rev. Dr. Pierson, has taken an agency of the American Tract Society, and is now establishing schools among the negroes in Washington. Com. Dahlgren placed the Navy Yard Chapel as his disposal, and he has a good school there; and another on Capitol Hill. The pupils in these schools are taught from the Bible Reader and the tablets of the American Sunday School Union, and on the average they learn to read the first verse in Genesis in half an hour. Colporteurs are to establish these reading schools in every colored church in Washington, on Sundays,—so that all the congregation will read. Dr. Pierson is about to introduce similar schools at Fortress Monroe and Port Royal.

MOCK AUCTION SHOPS.—Since the 1st of January of the present year, 101 complaints have been made in New York, against mock auctioneers and the Police have recovered $2,781.19. No estimate can be made of the number of swindles perpetrated by the mock auctioneers of New York, hundreds of victims preferring to pocket their loss rather than run the risk of public exposure; but from the number of complaints it is evident the Funks have not been idle.

THE CHANNINGS, a domestic novel of real life by Mrs. Henry Wood, has been published in one volume complete, by T. B. Peterson & Brother, Philadelphia; price 50 cents.

MESSRS. Peterson & Brother have also published George Francis Train's Union speeches delivered in England during the present war; price 25 cts.; and his speeches on slavery and emancipation, and the pardoning of traitors; price 10 cts. Train is one of the best specimens of Young America extant; he handles the rebellion and the traitors without gloves, and is not afraid to tell John Bull what he thinks of him and his course. He has said a great many good things, and, in his way, is doing an exceedingly good work. The profits arising from the sale of his speeches, are to be given to the support of the United American, a newspaper published in England and devoted to cause of the Union and the Constitution.

POST OFFICE ROBBED.—The store of Messrs. Chadbourne & Greenleaf, at North Berwick village, in which the post office is kept, was broken open last Tuesday night, and goods, mostly woolen cloths, to the value of $500 stolen. The post office was robbed of nearly all the letters in it at the time.

☞ Rev. Isaac Briggs, who lately died at an advanced age in Mott Haven, N. Y.—was formerly pastor of Scotland parish in York, and kept the South School in Portsmouth between 50 and 60 years ago, as we learn from one of our citizens who was a pupil then and there.

☞ The Federals were three months preparing to attack Fort Pulaski. It seemed a long time, and the uninitiated became perhaps impatient, but when they did strike it took but thirty hours to reduce the Fort, and this was done with the loss of a single life. "Slow and sure" sometimes gives not only the safest but the quickest progress.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Capt. John Mason was among the first who entered zealously into the scheme of making a fortune by trading to New England and forming a permanent settlement there. He was a merchant of London, and afterwards engaged in a maritime life, and was concerned in the fisheries at Newfoundland, of which place he was governor. In consequence of his residence there he obtained some knowledge of the country.—On his return to England he was appointed governor of Portsmouth in Hampshire.—He was also elected a member of the council established at Plymouth in the county of Devon, by a royal charter "for the planting, ruling, ordering and governing of New England, in America;" and not long after was chosen their secretary. He was active in prosecuting the designs of the council; and on the 9th of March, 1621, obtained a grant from them "of all the land from the river Naumkeag (Salem) round Cape Ann, to the river Merrimac, and up each of those rivers to the farthest head thereof; then to cross over from the head of the one to the head of the other; with all the islands lying within three miles of the coast;" which tract he called Mariana.

On the 10th day of August, 1622, the Council granted to Mason and Sir Ferdinando Gorges jointly, "all the lands situated between the rivers Merrimac and Sagadehock, extending back to the great lakes, and the river of Canada," by the name of Laconia. Gorges and Mason admitted as associates with them, several merchants of London, Bristol, Exeter, Plymouth, Shrewsbury, and Dorchester. They styled themselves the company of Laconia.

In 1623 this company resolved to establish a plantation at the river Piscataqua, and carry on the fishery there. Accordingly in the spring they sent over David Thompson, a Scotchman, Edward Hilton and his brother William Hilton, who had been fishmongers in London, with several other persons, to commence the settlement, and furnished them with provisions, tols, and implements of every kind necessary for accomplishing the great undertaking.—These persons arrived safely in the harbor; but the precise time of their landing, and in what vessel they came is uncertain.—The two Hiltons went up the river about eight miles, and settled on a neck of land, called by the natives Winnichahannat, but which they named Northam, since included in the town of Dover, and called Dver Neck. Thompson and his party established themselves on the west side of Piscataqua river, near the mouth of the westerly branch, which they called Little Harbor. Here the first house was erected which was built on this plantation. The site of this house was on a peninsula, or point of land, ow called Odiorne's point, in Rye, which is formed by Little Harbor on the north east, and a creek on the south, with a large tract of salt marsh on the west. This place was selected with great judgment. The peninsula contains about five hundred acre of land, on which is a commanding eminence; where was an ancient fort, situated so a to be a compleete defence against the incursions of a savage enemy. The house was erected a few rods to the northward of the fort.

Three or four thousand acres of lnd were annexed to this building, with an intention of forming a manor there, according to the English custom. In the division of the property, which took place afterwards among the company of Laconia, this part of it was allotted to Capt. John Mason, who devised it by his last will, to his grandson, Robert Tufton, by the name of Mason Hall. Procuring a sufficient supply of salt for the use of the fishery was one important object, among others, which demanded the attention of these first settlers. They erected salt works here, and manufactured salt to great advantage. Trading with the natives for furs was pursued by some of the settlers; others attended to the cultivation of the earth, and raised those articles which were essentially necessary for their support and which they could not otherwise obtain.

☞ In a divorce suit, at New York, brought by Mary Ann Singer, against Isaac M. Singer, the noted sewing machine needle patentee, the Court ordered her an allowance of $8000 per annum, alimony, and her counsel a fee of $750. It was given in evidence that Singer's income was $200,000 a year.

Local.

☞ The U. S. steamer Sacramento will be launched at the Portsmouth Navy Yard this, Monday, morning, at about quarter of twelve o'clock.

☞ The lecture by Mr. John B. Hayes, to be given at the Temple on Wednesday evening next, is upon a subject which is of deep interest to all our citizens, and the singing of patriotic songs by a choir of nearly one hundred children, will be a feature that will add not a little to the pleasure of the audience.

☞ It will be seen by the advertisement, that the Portsmouth Division of the Sons of Temperance will hold a levee at Jefferson Hall on the evening of May Day.

☞ Telegraphic dispatches received in Portsmouth from Boston on Sunday, report that a special dispatch from Cairo to the Chicago Journal says that a reconnoissance was made towards Corinth on Thursday, and when nine miles out they surprised a rebel camp, and advanced to Pea Ridge within six miles of Corinth. They remained several hours, but no signs of an enemy were seen. Mr. Stevenson of Danville, Ill. who accompanied the reconnoisance, heard the constant rattle of cars and sounding of steam whistles towards Memphis, and thus got the impression that the rebels were evacuating Corinth for Memphis.

Genl. C. F. Smith is reported to have died at Savannah, Tenn. at four o'clock this afternoon shortly after the occupation of Savannah by the forces under him.

☞ Flag Officer Foote, owing to the wound received in the battle of Fort Henry, has asked to be released from the command of the Western fleet. But the Department h s it is understood, ordered Capt. Charles H. Davis to repair to the squadron as his second in command, thus relieving him of much of the physical labor of his responsible position.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer of the 22d, says the Federal troops have cut a canal between York and Warwick rivers, which gives a water front across the whole stretch of country, which must contribute materially to the strength of the Federal position. It states further, that on Saturday night last, our men were engaged in throwing up intrenchments, and at daylight on Sunday they were completed, and the guns mounted within one thousand yards of the rebel position.

☞ The N. Y. Seventh Regiment has sometimes been sneered at, as a dandy organization; but the quality of the men it has furnished to the army has been very superior. Such men as Farnham, Fitzjames O'Brien, and Theodore Winthrop, all of whom "in earth's benignant bosom sleep," must be weighed, not counted, if we would know their value; and they all belonged to the white-gloved Seventh.

☞ Mr. Francis Butler, of Long I land, owns two dogs, which he calls Prince and Bruno. Prince, although but ten months old, is already over 7 feet in length, 34 inches in height, and weighs about 160 pounds; color, black and white spotted; short hair. Bruno's color is black and tan, with long flowing hair, his weight is about 140 pounds; his height 33 inches. They are both perfectly trained and docile—lambs with their master, lions on guard.

☞ A New York broker was arrested on Wednesday, charged with usury.—The complainant states that he borrowed of the accused, at one time, $265, for the use of which for one day he paid $35; and other sums on different days, being charged at the rate of 800 per cent. per annum for the use of the sums borrowed.

SOLDIERS IN DISGRACE.—Gen. Halleck has sent the 53d, 43d, 54th, and 77th Ohio regiments, (who ran away in a panic from the field, at Pittsburg Landing,) in disgrace, to garrison Fort Donelson.

☞ It is not a little extraordinary that the mother country is compelled to rely on America for her operas singers. During the present season three American prima donnas have been the chief musical attractions for the English metropolis.

☞ It is estimated that a tax of 3 cents per pound on leaf tobacco would amount to $880,000 on the annual crop raised in Ohio, or, in other words, that the annual crop raised in Ohio amounts to 26,000,000 pounds.

☞ Several young men from Augusta, Me, are about to embark for California.—Several others of Lewiston have gone to the Golden State, and a few days since there were twenty men in Boston, all bound for the land of gold, from the State of Maine.

☞ An immense dyke or levee, to cost $200,000 or more, is suggested and favorably regarded for the protection of Hartford, Conn., from future floods.

☞ The Catholic clergy of New Orleans have sent word to Gen. Beauregard that the bells of every Catholic church in New Orleans are at his disposal to be recast into cannon. A Mississippi lady calls upon her country women to devote their brass candlesticks, doorknobs, &c., to the same "holy cause."

☞ At a recent fire in Biddeford, Me., a number of valiant ladies nobly volunteered their services in working one of the fire engines, there being a lack of men to do the work.

☞ The frigate Sabine, in addition to the 100-pounder Parrott gun, has received nine 9 inch Dahlgren guns. The latter are in place of the old-fashioned 8-inch guns which formed part of her armament.

☞ General Sickles has been renominated by the President for a Brigadier Generalship, and will probably be confirmed.

☞ A Steer, 28 months old, raised by Israel Fogg in North Hampton, was dressed last week, by Ephraim Packer, and weighed 833 lbs.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper thereto."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man: and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

☞ We always take it as a favor, if subscribers will inform us immediately, when their papers are missed, or if delivered by others than our regular authorized carriers, or not strictly in accordance with our patrons' orders or desires.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. Try No. 2 for Worms, No. 3 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhea, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 18 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. DEATHS.

In Charlestown, Mass., 23d inst., MILTON C. FROST, aged 15 years, son of Mr. George S. Frost. His funeral was attended at Newcastle, his native place, on Saturday last. This is the seventh case of decease from consumption, which has occurred in this family within the nine years past, including the mother and six children.

In Salem, Mr. NATHANIEL SWAN, aged 70 yrs and 9 mos. He lived in an ancient-looking house in North Salem, and was born and died in the same room. During his long life he slept but once out of this house. He was never afflicted with sickness of a sufficiently serious character to require the services of a physician, until the final breaking up which resulted in death. He was the last of twelve children, all born in the same house and in the same room.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.
Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:
Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice, and, since the latter has come into such general use we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.
Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to secure a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.
We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, William Parker & others
Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,
I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medical purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between Dr. New York Physicians and WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

HALBY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!
The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in breaking out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.
Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so over that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.
In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, quicker than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.
The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.
The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.
We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.
Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.
Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

EVENING MELODIES.

Ye are soon past away,
Ye vernal gales that lightly fanned our brow!
It seems but yesterday
We said, They come; and ye are absent now!

Oh! ye were beautiful
At morn's soft twilight, and at day's glad noon,
And I eve's holy lull—
But surely, surely ye were past too soon!

It was not thus of old,
At that sweet era when ye used to play
'Midst boyish locks of gold—
Ye were not then so swift to flee away!

No! when ye bade farewell,
So long the season had remain'd the same,
Our memories scarce could tell
The things that happen'd to us ere it came.

Now childhood's violets fails;
Yet there are feelings we would keep as men;—
Oh, ye pure vernal gales,
Linger among us as ye linger'd then!

"Nay, hush! our wings pursue [air.
An unchang'd course since first they tracked the
We hasten not; 'tis you
O sons of dust, that are not what ye were!

"Each morn was like a Spring,
Each noon a Summer, ere your childhood fled!
And Eve was wont to bring
A lingering Autumn, with its tints of red.

"So it seem'd then; but now,
Spring, Summer, Autumn pass so soon away,
They fade on each chang'd brow,
The Morning, Noon, and Eve of one sad day!

"The change is in your hearts!
Blame ye not us—'tis the Manhood's common doom;
With Youth real life departs;
Once pass its boundary, and behold the tomb!"

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other Foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on Reasonable Terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments Recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its branches in Washington, for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any other, and with dispatch elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, for the inventor, and SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant facilities to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense production of the country during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, enable him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, of all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

ADVERTISE!
Advertise!
IT IS THE
LIFE OF TRADE!
Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure the favorable consideration. That journal is the NEWSPAPER To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to direct upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the place in which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no success without sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says: "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their hooks out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertising for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. Such is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. Its place is occupied by others, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers when everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming the medium of all its usefulness as an advertising medium is as constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

THE NEWSPAPER
Advertising Agency
—OF—
S. R. NILES,
1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston,

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canadas, for which he is the duly appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to contract for advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, comparative value of papers and localities, are respectfully invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apri 17 S. R. NILES.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed in the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Mercurial pains and disorders in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded, such as Loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., mourning the entire loss of all energy and resolution. Before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y8aw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness or voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.

Rev. HOWAR BURNELL."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1206

RICHARDS' NEW BOOT BLACKING.

This splendid compound is truly unrivaled in this or any other country for its shining quality and nutritious elements for leather, giving the boot an elegant yet black polish, quick and clean: an oil compound, rendering the leather soft and easy to the foot; strongly tends to preserve it, will not dry in the box. Try it, Gentlemen, and you will be pleased with it.

TUESDAY, APRIL 29, 1862.

THE CONSTITUTION.—A provision of the United States Constitution, Art. 4, Sec. 4, is, "The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican form of Government, and shall protect each of them from invasion"—and—"against domestic violence."

This does not look like the "rope of sand," which the secessionists declared the Union to be,—but like a government strong enough to guarantee and protect.

Another provision in Art. 5, reads as follows:—

"This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any thing in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding."

This provision certainly makes a very strong government, and includes all subjects of legislation and jurisdiction.

We have seen and heard much about the guarantees of slavery by the constitution,—but there are no such guarantees.—One item provides that "no persons held to service or labor escaping from one state to another shall be discharged," &c.—but it does not prevent Congress from discharging him by law. And one of the Amendments made in 1789, reserves all "powers not delegated to the U. S. by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it, to the States, to the States respectively, or to the People."

Now if the reader will look back to Art. 6, above quoted, he will see that one of the powers already delegated to the United States, was that of making the supreme law of the land, binding every State, notwithstanding any thing in its own laws to the contrary! This power already given, was never recalled, and cannot be.

There is no exception here in favor of slavery, or liberty, or any thing else.

We are not now discussing the wisdom of the provision, but only showing the fact of its existence.

Gen. Washington, in his address to Congress in 1787, favoring the Constitution, says:—

"It is obviously impracticable, in the Federal Government of these States, to secure all rights of independent sovereignty to each, and yet provide for the interest and the safety of all. Individuals entering into society must give up a share of liberty, to preserve the rest."

☞ A dispatch from Washington, says "the news from New Orleans, which has come through several rebel sources, is deemed of the utmost importance. What Old England failed to do with all her power has been handsomely accomplished by New England. The manner in which the success at Forts Jackson and St. Phillip was followed up is highly commended. In thirty hours our brave men consummated their victory and appeared before the great city of the Southwest to receive its submission.

This is but a foretaste of southwestern operations. No mention is made by the rebel papers of their iron-clad turtles and rams, that were to annihilate the Yankee fleet, which leads to a suspicion that the common estimate of the rebel motive power, from their own misrepresentations, has been a mistake. It is pretty clear that on this occasion they could not stop to conceal the truth."

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Concord Statesman, in alluding to the labors of Congressmen, says:—"without in any manner detracting from the faithful labors of other members, I cannot forbear mentioning the member of the House from Concord, as a true specimen of a working Congressman."

This is emphatically true. Since Col. Marston was served in the army, the people of the First District have put a vast deal of labor upon Mr. Rollins.

No man could have proved more ready to serve the interests of the people of this District than has the member from the Second District, and his attention to the wants of Col. Marston's constituency, in addition to those of his own, has been most marked and unremitting.

Mr. Rollins is a good business man, and although it may be at the risk of imposing greater labors upon an already too hard-worked member, yet we cannot forbear saying that no man of the N. H. delegation in Congress seems to have alike the equal ability and inclination to follow up the interests of his constituents through the mazes of circumlocution which abounds at Washington.

☞ Mr. Asa Raymond and wife, of Shutisburg, Me., have celebrated their diamond wedding, having lived together 75 years! They are 97 and 96 years of age, and in pretty good health.

☞ There is a deed on file in Cambridge, which describes a piece of land as bounded by "stumps and stones, where Daniel Harrington licked William Smith."

THE REBELLION.

The Petersburg, Virginia, Express of Saturday contains the following dispatch in relation to the capture of New Orleans:

"Mobile, April 25.—The enemy passed Fort Jackson at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. When the news reached New Orleans the excitement was boundless. Martial law was put in full force and business was completely suspended. All the cotton and steamboats, excepting such as were necessary to transport coin, ammunition, &c., were destroyed. At one o'clock to-day the operator bade us good bye, saying that the enemy had appeared before the city. This is the last we know regarding the fall. Will send particulars as soon as they can be had."

The Richmond Examiner publishes a dispatch to the same effect.

Fort Jackson, six miles below Savannah, is in possession of our troops, and our pickets are within four miles of Savannah.

It is stated that Beauregard has sent a considerable portion of his force from Corinth to Memphis.

Generals Buell and Beauregard have effected an arrangement for an exchange of wounded prisoners.

Fugitives from Norfolk state that the Merrimac will come out again soon. It was rumored that Tattnall had been removed from the command of the vessel. Contrabands state that the most intense excitement exists in and around Norfolk, and great fear is felt of an attack by Gen. Burnside. Nearly all the troops have gone to South Mills to repel any advance he might make. Contrabands also state that the new prow of the Merrimac is twelve feet long, of wrought iron and steel pointed.—Many citizens are leaving Norfolk. The fall of New Orleans is conceded by every one.

Letters from Edisto Island, S. C., report a brilliant skirmish between sixty of our men and 200 of the enemy at St. John's Island. Our men had a howitzer from the gunboat Crusader. Fifty of the enemy were killed and wounded. The Federal force included thirty soldiers from the 3d N. H. Regiment.

Gen. Fremont's organized movement against the guerillas of Baxton, Webster and the adjoining counties, has been quite successful, and they are believed to be effectually disposed of. Seventeen of them were killed and nineteen taken prisoners.

SLAVERY IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial remarks:—

"Some angry feeling is manifested by the members of the 'first families' of Maryland and Virginia about the abolition of slavery in this district, a few single ladies who never owned a negro or had a white man at their feet, making the loudest complaint.—But the greater portion of the citizens of Washington are evidently thankful that the federal city is no longer to furnish Congressional disputants with a bone of contention.

A few owners of slaves sent them away before President Lincoln signed the bill, but as a list of all who were slaveholders when the census was taken, is to be published by the Senate, they may quietly have their chattels brought back, to save the mortification of an exposure."

☞ Golden weddings and silver weddings have become quite frequent, but a genuine Diamond Wedding is of rare occurrence.—The parents of E. A. Raymond, Esq., of Boston, celebrated on Wednesday last the seventy-fifth anniversary of their marriage. They are now ninety-five and ninety-six years of age, and enjoy the best of health. During this remarkable term of married life, they have never been separated for a fortnight. They were married at the age of 20 and 21. Has this ever been equalled?

HARVARD COLLEGE.—The Boston Advertiser states that at a meeting of the Corporation of Harvard College, held on Saturday last, a gentleman, whose name has not been publicly announced, was elected to the Presidency of the College by a unanimous vote.

☞ Counterfeit threes on the Thomaston Bank, Me., were circulated in New York on Monday, and about a dozen arrests have been made.

☞ It is rumored that the frigate Macedonian, now at the Charlestown Navy Yard, is to be iron plated.

Whatever is necessary to be done, can be done. Nature is too wise to yoke necessity with impossibility.

IMMORTELLES.

TWILIGHT.

The dusk sits like a bird
Up in the tree-tops, and swart, elvish shadows
Dart from the wooded pathways. Wraith of day!
Through thy transparent robes the stars are plain;
Along those swelling mounds, that look like graves
Where flowers grow thick in June, thy step falls soft
As the drop leaves; amid the faded brakes
The wind, retreating, hides, and covering there,
Whines at thy coming, like a hound afraid.
—May.

THE GROVE.

Here the gray smooth trunks
Of ash, or lime, or beech, distinctly shine,
Within the twilight of their distant shades;
There, lost behind a rising ground, the woods
Seem rank, and shortened to its topmost boughs.
No tree in all the grove but has its charms,
Though each its hue peculiar; paler some,
And of a wannish gray; the willow such,
And poplar, that with silver lines his leaf;
And ash, far spreading his umbrageous arm;
Of deeper green the elm; and deeper still,
Lord of the woods, the long-enriving oak.
Some glossy leaved, and shining in the sun;
The maple, and the beech of oily nuts
Prolific, and the lime at dewy eve
Diffusing odors: nor, unnoted pass
The sycamore, capricious in attire;
Now green, now tawny, and ere autumn yet
Have changed the woods, in scarlet honors bright.
—Cooper.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—The Statesman says the Colonelcy of the Fourth Regiment, now vacant, has been offered to Col. Mason W. Tappan, lately of the First, but declined, because of a pressure of professional engagements and private business.

—A letter in the N. Y. Herald, describing the voyage of the Fifth N. H. Regiment down the Potomac, makes the following mention of Rev. Mr. Wilkins, chaplain. "Divine service was held on board the steamer in the forenoon by the chaplain of the regiment, a good specimen of an iron-headed Cromwellian Puritan, so far as a belief in giving the rebels orthodox, and any other-dox, knocks is concerned. He is a printer preacher from Manchester, and full of piety and pugnacity. Preached a good sermon on Sunday and well oiled his Sharp's rifle and Colt's revolver on Monday, that they might be ready for an occasion any other day in the week. A well meaning man, and as fearfully in earnest as any fire eater that he may come across. He sincerely fears God and battles the rebels."

☞ A letter from St. Augustine, Fla., states that an expedition of 20 men of Co. F, 4th N. H. Regt, under Capt. Geo. F. Towle, captured a rebel schooner which had come into Matanzas Inlet, eight miles from St. Augustine. Capt. Towle's force was in three boats, and first saw the vessel about quarter of 8 o'clock on the evening of April 3d. They pulled for her at once, expecting a fight, as she looked like a heavy armed vessel. The men boarded her, and the rebels being taken by surprise made no resistance. She proved to be a schooner from Nassau, American built, with a British register, 95 tons burden, named the "British Empire," former name the "Rebecca." She had an assorted cargo suited for the Southern market, invoiced at $3,800, and worth there at least $20,000. Her clearance papers were for St. John's New Brunswick, all a sham of course. Next day the schooner was taken up to St. Augustine.

Some of the schoolmarms who went to South Carolina several weeks ago, are not so intent upon "teaching the young idea how to shoot," as upon flirting with the officers, in a manner not entirely consistent with morality. Gen. Hunter is going to send some of the misbehaving misses home. —Springfield Republican.

☞ The Augusta Journal says the city agents for mustering up citizens liable to military duty, find all the bachelors wing enough to be enrolled, but exceedingly hy as to giving their ages.

NAVAL.—The destination of frigate Sabine, 50, Lieut. Kelly, has been changed. Instead of going to the Mediterranean she will go to Hampton Roads.

☞ Horatio N. King, formerly Assistant Postmaster General, has been nominated on the emancipation commission for the District of Columbia, in place of ex-Mayor Berret, resigned.

☞ The Atlantic Works and Harrison Loring of Boston, have been awarded contracts for building iron clad vessels, under the recent law.

☞ The Knickerbocker for May is published, and its contents will please the friends of this old magazine.

A LAUNCH.—The "Launching" of the season, was that of the first class screw steam sloop-of-war "Sacramento," at Portsmouth Navy Yard, on Monday noon.—The whole scene was a beautiful one,—the weather lively; the company of ladies and gentlemen on board as she glided from her ways in the ship-house to her "natural element," was large and brilliant; the inspiring strains of music from the singing of the star spangled banner by the company, cheered and delighted each heart as they rolled o'er the waters blue; and the subsequent ceremonies of dancing, dinner, &c., were all in good keeping—of course, when under Constructor Hanscom's direction.

The Sacramento is built for a fast ship, and is pronounced to be one of the finest models ever built at this station. She was designed by Isaiah Hanscom, Esq., the naval constructor of the Yard, as have been most of the ships recently launched here, and as was also the beautiful clipper ship Nightingale, built on this river several years since, and many an other fine craft for merchant service and the navy.

The "Sacramento" was christened by Mrs. Tilton of Boston, as she glided from the ways—in the same gallant style that Miss Bleecker of New York, named the Sonoma, at her recent launch—by breaking a bottle at the bow, and calling her name.

The bountiful and excellent collation was served in a section of one of the immense rigging-lofts, which was cleared and tastefully decorated for the occasion and the spacious dancing hall was also improvised from a similar larger section.

A few brief after-dinner speeches were made by Dr. Stone, Mr. Norton, and Mr. Dunham, of Boston, Mr. Wm. H. Hackett of this city, and others—but as Mr. H. well said, the dancing was much the more interesting. Mr. Hanscom also said a word or two, very neatly, in response to Dr. S. and was greeted with three times three hearty and heart-felt cheers.

There was a large company of our citizens, and many guests from abroad, among whom we noticed Constructor Wm. L. Hanscom, of Charlestown Yard, Navy Agent Norton of Boston, representatives of the Boston, Concord and New York press, and many other gentlemen and ladies from a distance. That "bevy of beauty" was also happily in attendance. Lamprey's Band furnished the music, and dancing did not lag for a long while.

Several of the naval and yard officers were present—and Com. Pearson kept open house at his residence, for his friends, (who are not few,) with his usual cordial and bounteous hospitality.

After adjourning from the Yard, Mr. & Mrs. Hanscom received their friends, to a very large number, at their residence on Islington street—and in the evening, they were surprised by a serenade by the Cornet Band, which helped to make all the merrier, at that hospitable mansion, as also at that of their no less hospitable neighbors, A. W. Simpson, Esq., and family, whose latch-string was out on this occasion, as usual.

Altogether, it was a grand time, and not even the rain which came at last in the evening, could dampen the ardor with which all enjoyed the festivities of the day.

S. J. COURT, Exeter.—In the case Benj. D. Cilley vs. Thomas Page the jury returned a verdict for the Deft. The case of Chas. A. Adams vs. Ruth G. Adams, was also decided in favor of the Deft.

Case Elias Felch, jr. vs. Levi G. Towle, was tried by the Court, and $13.56 awarded the plf. as damages.

Action Mehitable Wiggin v. Hiram Wiggin was commenced, but was taken from the jury by consent, and transferred upon questions of law.

Clarrisa Hanson v. Alvah Wood, writ of entry for premises in Exeter, formerly owned by Samuel Moses, tried by Court, and judgment rendered for deft. Transferred.

The votes for County Officers were declared by the Clerk as follows:—

For Register of Deeds.

Scattering	14
Gilman B. Hoyt	3,809
Alonzo J. Fogg (elected)	5,139
Fogg's Majority	1,316

For County Treasurer.

Scattering	160
Bard P. Roberts	3,693
Samuel A. Haley (elected)	5,176

For County Commissioner.

Scattering	458
Samuel Hobbs	3,822
John Hodgdon, 2d (elected)	4,737

159 votes were returned for Bard B. Roberts for County Treasurer. The votes of Plaistow, Greenland and Salem were returned for John Hodgdon, and of Auburn for John Hodgman as County Commissioner.

On Saturday, Mr. Thomas Leavitt, Jr., was admitted to the Bar. On the same day the Court adjourned sine die.

☞ The Trustees of the Rockingham County Agricultural Society held a meeting in this city on Monday, and voted unanimously to hold a Fair on Wednesday and Thursday, September 17 and 18, 1862. The list of premiums will be published immediately. Place not decided upon.

MR. HAYES ON THE MASSACRE AT BALL'S BLUFF.—We wish to call attention to the announcement of Mr. Hayes' lecture at the Temple to-morrow, Wednesday, evening, when he will describe the disastrous battle of Ball's Bluff, the incidents of the long and weary march to Manassas after the battle, and the sufferings endured on the way, together with the experience of himself and comrades in the prisons of Richmond.

Mr. Hayes has good descriptive powers, and his lecture is a graphic narrative of what he saw and experienced. It was delivered in Boston last week, and was favorably received by a very large audience.

In connection with the lecture, nearly 100 children will sing patriotic songs, such as "the Star Spangled Banner," "Red, White and Blue," "The Soldier Boy," &c. Considering the low price of admission, and the double entertainment which is offered, we expect to see the Temple crowded.

☞ It will be seen by the advertisement, that the Portsmouth Division of the Sons of Temperance will hold a levee at Jefferson Hall on the evening of May Day.

☞ See a woman, in another column picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and (now that they are offered, only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which nauseous medicine cannot do. Arr No. 1 for Worms, No. 3 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhea, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 13 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians in this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a pure article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whisky, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. CUTTER, JR., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringer Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

HEART'S EASE.

Oh! Heart's Ease, dost thou lie within that flower?
How shall I draw thee thence? So much I need
The healing aid—the enshrined power,
To veil the past, and bid the time good speed.

I gather it—it withers on my breast—
The heart's ease dies, when it is laid on mine;
Methinks there is no shape by joy possessed,
Would better fare than thou, upon that shrine.

Take from me things gone by. Oh! change the past;
Renew the lost! restore me the decayed!
Bring back the days whose tide hath ebbed so fast,
Give form again to the fantastic shade.

My hope, that never grew to certainty—
My youth that perished in the vain desire—
My fond ambition, crushed ere it could be
Aught save a self-consuming, wasted pain!

Bring these anew, and set me once again
In the delusion of life's infancy—
I was not happy, but I knew not then
That happy I was never blessed to be.

Till these things are, and power divine descend,
Love, kindness, joy and hope to gild my day,
In vain the emblem beams toward me bend—
The spirit,—heart's ease—is too far away.

Never run in debt, especially with shoemakers—or you can't say your sole is your own.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to attend to business at the Seat of Government, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers for securing Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent will be sent, by enclosing One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full access to all patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in securing inventors that they cannot employ a person of more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected application SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

A D V E R T I S E!
Advertise!
IT IS THE
LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known!

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can only be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, in order to secure favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising—even the failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business throughout the year, to advertise only when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the man who has few advertisers occupy it and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but even when I have not the half of the business men in my line have taken their hooks out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and there are hundreds of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, scores-fold later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is satisfying; others interrupt advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is becoming more and more in demand. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advertisings.

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canadas, for which he is the duly appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication that shall make for me THIRTEEN offices in the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, comparative value of papers and situation, are respectful ly invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr4 tf S. R. NILES.

NATIONAL BANKRUPT LAW.

It is possible that this important question will be again delayed by Congress, but it should not be, if a proper law can be elaborated. It is a matter expressly placed within the hands of Congress by the Constitution, and, as the Boston Post truly remarks,

"The security and prosperity of our commercial interests require that a law operating equally upon all the States should be passed. The object of the laws of insolvency is, not so much to free the debtor, as to secure a just and equitable distribution of his property among his creditors. That distribution can be more equitably accomplished by a United States than by a State law; and when once accomplished, the debtor would be more free again to put his business powers into productive activity. As a national idea, there should be a national bankrupt law, as it tends to a unity of interests in all the States, and these are times when national ideas should be cherished."

Only a few years ago, we had a good National Bankrupt Law,—but it was repealed,—when, and by whom, and for what, Uncle Toby well remembers. It was repealed by one party, because another party enacted it.

When we have said, within six years, that we must have another, certain bitter partizan papers hooted at the saying.

But, now, that the old parties are dead, the Post, in a very able and earnest plea, calls upon the "black Republican" Congress to pass a Bankrupt Law, and of course expects the "black republican" president to sign the bill.

We second the motion,—but in doing so would remark that the passage of such a law would at once be turned against them as a political engine, and thousands of ignorant voters would be duped into an effort at repeal, by demagogues who would expect to get into office by the process.

A MILITIA NAVY.—It is well known that Gen. Hiram Walbridge, of New York, has long advocated the organization of a Militia of the Seas, similar to our land militia army—a fleet of merchant vessels, fitted to be readily changed to naval service. His plan is now exciting considerable attention in Congress, and is worthy the examination and consideration of the American people—since it is sure that never again will the United States attempt to get along with a small army or navy.

In a speech at Tammany Hall, New York, in 1856, on 'the re-organization of the Navy,' Gen. Walbridge closed as follows:

"All great improvement in government has hitherto sprung from the experience of the people themselves, who are usually in advance of their rulers in whatever concerns their own prosperity and welfare.—Well, my friends, it has occurred to me that the general government should hold out some inducements to our great commercial marine to aid in protecting itself.—(Applause.) That, under the sanction of law, with ample guards and restrictions, there should be organized a Militia Navy, an arm of defence corresponding to that employed by the government in the land service, under our enrolled militia system, by which a pioneers should receive encouragement and aid by law, in construction of their vessels, so as to make them capable of bearing guns, if required, in the service of the country. That the Captains and subordinate officers be commissioned in the name of the general government, upon some equitable plan that will give them rank and emolument, in proportion to the demands upon their time and service in the new capacity of representing the naval power of the Union. (Cheers) That the humblest youth who enters as a cabin boy or in the lowest capacity as a seaman, should be educated and trained in his honorable, though adventurous and dangerous profession. That not only in the navy proper, but in this new service, in which the interest of commerce and the naval power of the Union will be represented."

FORFEITED BY MILITARY USE.—It is reported that Gen. Hunter has begun to issue free papers to negroes entitled under the act of Congress to their freedom by virtue of services compulsorily rendered to the rebels. Printed forms are prepared to be filled with the name of the former slave and the signature of the General commanding who emancipates him. The following is a copy of the first:—

"It having been proven to the entire satisfaction of the General commanding the Department of the South, that the bearer, William Jenkins, heretofore held in involuntary servitude, has been directly employed to aid and assist those in rebellion against the United States of America;

"Now, be it known to all that, agreeably to the laws, I declare the said person free, and forever absolved from all claims to his services. Both he, and his wife, and his children, have full right to go north, south, east, or west, as they may decide.

"Given under my hand, at the headquarters of the Department of the South, this nineteenth day of April, A. D. 1862.

"D. HUNTER, Maj. Gen. Com."

☞ A Columbia (Tenn.) correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, repeats the statement of the Louisville Journal, that Bishop Polk is dead—but no authority is given to the statement. "He died of his wounds Sunday night," says the writer, "in an awful state of mind."

THE REBELLION.

The rebel steamer Florida has been captured by the U. S. barque Pursuit.

82 members of the Galveston Artillery, who escaped from impressment, have arrived at New York.

Forts Barrancas and McRae at Pensacola have been evacuated by the rebels.—Every port except Tampa, on the coast of Florida, has been evacuated by the rebels.

Refugees report that Gen. Villipigue is still in command at Fort Wright, and has a force of 6000 to 8000 men. The guns from Fort Randolph have been taken there. A large number of negroes are constantly at work strengthening the fortifications.—There is a report, which is deemed reliable, that the rebel gunboat fleet is coming up the river to attack our flotilla, and make a bold stroke for the possession of the Mississipi. On the reception of this report, a steamer was immediately dispatched to Island No. 10, having on board gunners sufficient to man the batteries there.

It is said Union Clubs meet nightly at Memphis, and are holding correspondence with similar clubs in nearly every large city in the South. Gen. Prentiss and the other Federal prisoners who had been at Memph's, received marked attentions from Union people. The General was taken to Tuscaloosa.

Pittsburg advices of Sunday night, say that the roads are improving, and preparations for the coming battle are progressing steadily. The pickets of the two armies were then only half a mile apart. There is much sickness among our troops, the result of fatigue and exposure and unhealthy climate.

Gen. Wool, on Monday, telegraphed to Sec. Stanton that the news of the occupation of New Orleans by our forces, was confirmed. A dispatch to the Associated Press says the telegraph operator having left New Orleans, no further news had been received from thence. The operator attempted to return, but found the city occupied by the Federal forces. It is stated that the sloops-of-war Richmond, Hartford, Brooklyn and Iroquois were plated with heavy chain cable from their ports to a point below the water line, previous to the attack on the Mississippi forts.

It is thought probable New Orleans surrendered without resistance after our fleet made its appearance. There is a report that the enemy's much boasted iron gunboat, built there as a second Merrimac, was, while on its way, destroyed by the U. S. steamer Pensacola.

Gen. McClellan, on Monday telegraphed that on the left the enemy had fired a gun, but had hurt no one, nor was the work interrupted. The weather had improved, and our forces were making good progress.

It is reported that on Monday forenoon some rebel gunboats in James river attempted to shell some of our camps this side of Warwick.

The rebels are believed to be in force not more than 12 miles from Fredericksburg, under Gen. Smith. All accounts agree in estimating the number at between 10,000 and 15,000. No young men are to be seen at Fredericksburg, all having gone with the Southern army.

The rebels, under Johnston and Jackson, are concentrating east of Blue Ridge in Western Virginia.

Col. Slough and Gen. Canby in New Mexico, formed a junction of their forces on the 11th. Maj. Duncan, in command of Gen. Canby's advance guard, encountered a large body of Texans, and routed them. The Texans, on the 12th, were in full flight from the territory. There was thought to be no doubt of the speedy capture of Sibley's command.

Prisoners taken now state that the rebel force at Corinth, Miss., is 80,000.

☞ The Committee on Ordnance and Ordnance Supplies have, it is said, rejected all foreign contracts and considerably curtailed those for the manufacture of arms in the United States.

The Ordnance Office has issued proposals for the manufacture within one year of Springfield rifled muskets, Harper's Ferry rifles, together with revolvers, carbines, sabres, swords and scabbards. The Department reserves to itself the right to reject any bid, and will consider none made through any agent, broker, or party other than the regular manufacturers.

☞ The Sec. of War, in a communication to the House, states that the President declines to furnish the reason for the evacuation of Jacksonville, Fla., as incompatible with the public interest.

☞ Dispatches from Washington mention the very doubtful rumor that "the Government is in possession of information which may possibly lead to a cessation of hostilities, by mediation and compromise."

☞ A month or two ago a captain of a steamer, of Hull, England, lost his hat overboard. A few days afterward he captured a shark eleven feet long, on opening which the lost hat was found in its maw.

☞ Go and hear Mr. Hayes this evening. 1t

THE CUMBERLAND'S MEN.—On Sunday morning, at muster roll on board the Port Royal, Brooklyn Navy Yard, orders were read notifying the crew of the Cumberland that they were discharged from service, and that their pay would be forthcoming on Monday. Commodores Paulding and Gregory were present, and Capt. Morris, who fought the Cumberland, desired that all who wished to go with him on the Port Royal should signify it, when instantly all who were present volunteered, and several others learning of their comrades' determination have already joined them under that gallant officer. The ship will probably be in readiness within a week to proceed to service.

☞ In Nashville business houses and hotels keep posted placards, inscribed—"No Southern money taken here," and Confederate notes are valued about as much as the same amount of brown paper, but the United States Treasury Notes pass at par in all transactions. Do not those two facts prove clearly, asks the Nashville Union, what our secessionists at heart believe in reference to the stability and solvency of the Federal and Confederate Governments.

"THE CHANNINGS."—This is a new novel of English life, just published by the well-known firm of T. B. Peterson & Brothers, 306 Chestnut street Philadelphia. Its authoress is the talented Mrs. Henry Wood, whose "Earl's Heirs" and "East Lynne" have won a lasting reputation as works of literary merit and genius. "The Channings" fully sustain the writer's reputation as a truthful delineator of human nature in its various phases and characters. At the present time when so many families have been suddenly deprived of their customary resources by the freaks of war, a valuable lesson may be derived by reading the noble course of "The Channings" under similar difficulties. It will prove to be one of the most popular novels ever printed, and will have an immense sale. It is complete in a large octavo volume of over three hundred pages, and sold at the low price of fifty cents a copy, and will be sent to any one to any place, free of postage, on remitting that amount to the publishers, in a letter.

CONGRESS, Monday.—In the Senate, the Secretary of War was requested to report whether it is expedient to restore the Harper's Ferry Armory, what amount was necessary, &c.

In the House, the bill to prevent the practice of polygamy, and to annul certain acts of the Legislature of Utah, establishing the same, was passed.

☞ Nashville papers report great briskness in the cotton market at that point—Buyers are scouring the country in all directions as far as the protection of the Federal lines extended, and sometimes even further. The planters are acting like men of practical sense, and are quick to trade—Good middling readily brings 16 and 17 cents in specie or U. S. Treasury Notes, and 22 and 25 in current Tennessee paper. There is no holding back on the part of the planters.

CALIFORNIA FRUITS.—Among the fruits being introduced into California, and on which the soil and climate of that State are presumed to be adapted, are the European grape vines best adapted for wine and raisins, the Mediterranean currants, be almonds of Italy, Smyrna oranges, lemons, olives, figs, Italian chestnuts and pomegranates.

SUICIDE.—A young woman named Mary Dunham, committed suicide at Union Mills, near Calais, Me., on the 19th inst., by drowning herself. She committed the act very coolly and deliberately in the presence of several persons, male and female, who would not believe she was in earnest until she took the fatal plunge, and was carried beyond the reach of human aid.

☞ Hon. Emerson Etheridge says one of the rebel officers among the "Number Ten" prisoners, with whom he conversed at Cairo, informed him that there was not a single slave-owner in his whole regiment.

☞ The Atlantic Bank of Boston has withdrawn all of its $10 bills from circulation, on account of numerous counterfeits of its issue. There are but few genuine $10 bills of this bank in the hands of the public.

☞ The Louisville Journal in remarking upon the fact that few ladies of what is called "good society" are getting married now, but that "the more humble class are pairing as rapidly as ever," says it seems that the business is less brisk in silk than in calico.

☞ Six soldiers deserted from the fort in St. Andrews, N. B., on Tuesday night of last week, and went to Calais for the purpose of enlisting in the Federal army.—There being no recruiting office at that place, they left for Bangor.

☞ Formerly in France a great foot was much esteemed, and the length of a shoe, in the fourteenth century, was a mark of distinction. The shoes of a prince were two feet and a half long; those of a baron two feet, those of a knight eighteen inches long.

☞ The body of an unknown man found in the Kennebec river a few days since, has been identified as that of Mr. John Reed, of Brunswick, who was drowned in Topsham a year ago last December. It is probable that the body has been buried in the sand, and recently exhumed by the action of the water.

An expeditious mode of getting up a row is to carry a long ladder on your shoulder in a crowded thoroughfare, and every few minutes turn round to see if any one is making faces at you.

CAUGHT BY HER MANTILLA.—In New Bedford, on Saturday, a woman moving in highly respectable circles, was caught in the act of robbing a money drawer in a store. She would have escaped detection had she not, in closing the drawer after abstracting several bills from it, shut in a portion of her mantilla.

WASHINGTON'S RAZOR.—A barber in Gloucester has in his possession a razor said to have once been the property of General Washington, which he left at his headquarters in Cambridge during the Revolution.

The tonnage of a ship of the line is 2,658 tons; of a frigate, 1,840 tons; of a sloop of war, 860 tons; of a brig, 260 tons; of a schooner 95 tons; steam frigate, (say Niagara) 4,682 tons; the other steamers vary from 3,800 to 2,450 tons.—Walbridge.

☞ Gen. Butler has issued an order confiscating intoxicating liquor, introduced into Ship Island, as more deadly in that climate than the rifle.

BUSINESS CHANGES.—Messrs. J. Dearborn & Co., hatters, furriers, &c., have removed across Market street, to No. 26, recently occupied as a shoe store by Mr. N. Mason—where they have a very nicely fitted store, and, as usual, a full stock of goods in their line.

The store recently occupied by Messrs. J. Dearborn & Co., we learn is to be opened by Mr. Wm. Downie, as a clothing establishment.

The store lately occupied by Mr. Joseph H. Clark, jeweller, we hear has been rented to Mr. H. F. Gerrish, grocer, who occupies the rest of the building.

It will be seen that Messrs. Geo. W. Tucker and A. F. Merrill advertise their association in the lumber, coal and slate business, &c., at Long Wharf. Though their connection is new, yet both are well known as active and reliable business men, and Capt. Tucker's numerous friends will rejoice that he has "left ploughing the sea," and is to remain at home among us. One most judicious movement of his, we must be allowed to commend thus publicly—his authorizing us to advertise his new business not only in our Daily and Weekly issues, but also in the Dover, Exeter, Manchester and Concord papers—thus inviting that country trade which our Portsmouth merchants ought to spare no effort to get, and ought to have. We commend our friends at Long Wharf to any of our readers in the interior, as well worthy their notice when trading in this city.

Col. Wm. S. Hadley, having thoroughly refitted the late Piscataqua House, next the Post Office, has opened it as an "Eating House"; and landlords are scarce who "can keep a hotel" better than he.

Capt. Geo. W. Towle has leased the spacious and well-adapted lower story of Mr. Thos. S. Nowell's fine building, corner of State and Pleasant streets, and fitted it for his auction and commission business—for which the location and accommodations are excellent.

Mr. Augustus W. Odiorne has removed from Mr. Nowell's building to the store long occupied by Mr. Wm. Bodge, on Congress street—where (having bought Mr. Bodge's stock,) he will carry on the provision and grocery business as heretofore—in a manner, we have no doubt, to suit customers.

We don't think of any more changes among our business men, just now; and this will do for one day—so we will close by hoping that all our traders are making more "change" than changes in their operations.

PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.—At this station are now afloat the Mahaska, steam gunboat, which will be ready for sea in a few days; the steam gunboat Sonoma, which is now receiving her machinery, and will be ready for sea in two months; the side wheel steamer Conemaugh, in the dry dock, receiving her machinery; the steamer Ossipee, which has just been taken out of dock, and will be ready for her officers by the first of June; and the steamer Sacramento, just launched. There are no vessels now in process of building—and only the old Alabama and the Franklin, in the shipbuilding houses.

Constructor Hanscom, of the Portsmouth Yard, is engaged upon a series of plans demonstrating the feasibility of converting the old line-of-battle ship Alabama, for many years lying on the stocks, into a steam ram.

It is worthy of note that the gunboat Sebago, whose construction was commenced here at the same time with others at different stations, was the first that got to sea and into an engagement, she having taken a very prominent part in the recent attack at Yorktown.

☞ The second month of Spring closes with to day; and to morrow will be May Day—usually less romantic, and "truly rural" in reality, in this region, than in the poets. In Concord, May Day is more noticed than almost any other in the year, except June "election day." In Exeter, they always have a public Breakfast and a nice time. In Portsmouth they "take no note" of the day—unless it is as well endorsed as paper usually.

☞ Don't fail to attend the lecture at the Temple this evening.

Capt. Hayes, who is to return to his regiment the coming week, is an exchanged prisoner of war, and his lecture will be very interesting. The price of admission is but 10 cents, and we are confident that all who attend will get their money's worth. It

☞ Mr. T. E. Wood, our fellow-townsman, has just arrived in town from a tour to the West Indies, where he has been spending the winter for the benefit of his health. He will be pleased to wait upon his former patrons and friends as heretofore at his store on Daniel street.

☞ Lovers of the beautiful, should not fail to visit the sale of stuffed birds, shells, &c., at Mr. Adams' auction room.

☞ See Auction sales of Real Estate, to-day and to morrow.

☞ A fine ship of 511 tons was launched in Bath, Me., on Saturday last, and five builders in that city have ships upon the stocks, in different stages of progress. Two of the firms have been compelled to stop work temporarily, from the want of timber.

☞ In connection with the lecture of Mr. Hayes at the Temple this evening, we are told about one hundred children will sing patriotic songs.

☞ The annual cost of maintaining a ship of the line, fully equipped, is $302,000; of a frigate, $195,000; of a sloop of war, $90,000; of a steam frigate, $285,000.

☞ A beggar boy applying to a lady in Boston for money to get a dose of castor-oil, was called in, and the oil was administered gratis, despite his grimaces.

☞ The number of shirt bosoms manufactured in the city of New York is estimated at 36,000 per day, or upwards of 10,000,000 annually, forming seams long enough to extend around the globe.

☞ Gen. Walbridge says the wear and tear of ships-of-war, is from one-sixth to one-tenth yearly.

☞ The Lewiston Herald says that Lewis Jones of Turner, Me., has named a son Jeff. Davis.

☞ It will be seen by the advertisement, that the Portsmouth Division of the Sons of Temperance will hold a levee at Jefferson Hall on the evening of May Day.

☞ See a woman, in another column picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may elect the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

☞ We always take it as a favor, if subscribers will inform us immediately, when their papers are missed, or if delivered by others than our regular authorized carriers, or not strictly in accordance with our patrons' orders or desires.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, are strictly cash; accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose? Have you not felt in your heart at the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOUG. GEFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble, and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Whiskey sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal more of a very inferior quality is sold, presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as our skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a suitable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c., I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

To the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, I recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medical purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the Physicians and WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and similar agreement between said Cutter and the undersigned of Boston.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibre; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without injury. It is the best, and it works the easiest; a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c.; as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest feather-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-MINUTE OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no harm can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters appertaining to the validity of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

'SAMBUCUS TREE OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

ADVERTISE!

IT IS THE
LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have been adopted by the trade at this right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. Experience proves that the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual movement, advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy to good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the time lost of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times may be. It pays me at all times, but much more far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their hooks out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is self-evidently increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

THE NEWSPAPER
Advertising Agency
—OF—
S. R. NILES,

1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston,

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canadas, for which he is the duly appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, comparative value of papers and situations, are respectfully invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr4 tf S. R. NILES.

as above, is better prepared than ever to fill all orders in his line of business; and while returning thanks for past liberal patronage, would respectfully solicit a continuance.

Particular personal attention given to HOUSE WORK, SIGN and CARRIAGE Painting.

All sorts of PAINTS, OILS, VARNISHES, GLASS, PUTTY, &c., for sale cheap for cash.

All persons having demands against the subscriber, are requested to present them forthwith; and all indebted, to make payment as soon.

E. D. COFFIN.
Portsmouth, Jan. 24, 1862.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous irritability, confusion of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Persons who should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottle, 38 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after protracted labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.

Ed. EDWIN BRADLEY."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it does not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 12w

THURSDAY, MAY 1, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The rebel strength at Fort Wright is stated by intelligent deserters at 8000 men, under Gen. Villipigue, who has not been superseded, as reported. They have seven batteries mounting twenty-six guns. A special dispatch from Fort Wright, 28th, says:—"From deserters I learn that New Orleans is now in Capt. Porter's quiet possession. The federal fleet passed Fort Jackson on Thursday, after a most desperate naval engagement, in which one vessel was sunk and several badly injured.—It is supposed that the federal loss is very heavy. The loss of the rebels was 50 killed and 184 wounded. The engagement lasted part of two days. The federals took possession of the city without a struggle. On Friday the rebel force evacuated the city, after destroying all the steamers which they had no use for. They took with them the greater part of the military stores in the city. The Union citizens were very jubilant."

The Richmond Dispatch, Monday, says Gen. Lovell, who commanded the rebel troops in New Orleans, has removed his forces to Camp Moore, on the Jackson Railroad.

Fredericksburg, Va., is held by our forces during the day, and by the rebels at night. Under cover of night, valuables, soldier's baggage, and rebel stores are carried off, the pledge of the rebel city authorities to the contrary notwithstanding. The few Union citizens having declared themselves and failing to find protection, have fled to this side of the river, leaving their families and property to rebel mercy.

Reports from Pittsburg Landing state that our whole force is moving forward slowly. Gens. Halleck, Buell and Grant have moved their headquarters to near the front of our lines, and personally superintend all details attending the advance of the whole force.

The Southern newspapers speak of the fall of New Orleans in the most dismal strain, and demand the mystery of the surrender to be explained. The Richmond Dispatch says that when the enemy's fleet arrived opposite the city and demanded its surrender, Gen. Lovell fell back to Camp Moore after destroying the cotton and stores. This camp is 78 miles from New Orleans. The iron clad gunboat Mississippi was burnt to prevent her falling into the hands of the enemy. The Louisiana, it is supposed, was scuttled. It is rumored that she was sunk at the first fire. [This is the "second Merrimac," and the N. Y. World says it is understood that the delay in attacking New Orleans was due to the fact that time was required to fit an iron prow to the Pensacola to run her down.]—There is a rumor that Fort Pike is evacuated and blown up. Unreliable.

A Mobile dispatch says:—

The forts on Lake Pontchartrain were all evacuated on the 25th. We have sustained considerable loss in supplies and dismounting, but not in destroying guns. At Fort Pike, ten buildings were burnt, including the telegraph office, and the operator has gone to the fruits of the town to open an office if possible. All the gunboats on the lake were burnt by our people. Mobile boats Whiteman, Brown, and others are running troops, stores and ordnance to Manchac, after which we fear they will be burnt. The Yankee fleet that were at Ship Island are again returning to that station.

☞ We have received a letter from Mr. Azariah L. Spinney, on board the U. S. Steamer Sebago, in York river, giving the particulars of their engagement with the rebel batteries. The steamer arrived at Fortress Monroe on the 11th. On the 15th, they engaged the rebel batteries with such good effect that several rebels were wounded, some of their guns dismounted, and they were compelled to strike their tents and retreat. Almost every day after that date, they fired on the batteries.

We have also received a letter from Mr Robt. E. Shillaber, of the N. H. Cavalry, now in Virginia, near the Rappahannock, and would be pleased to publish both of them entire, though neither gives anything particularly new, had we the room to spare.

We are also indebted to Mr. Henry W. Fernald, of Co. H, 25th Regt. Mass. Volunteers, for a copy of the Newbern (N. C.) Daily Progress,—in the office of which he is employed, as is also a son of Dr. Swett of this city, who went to the wars from this Chronicle office. We believe that they get 40 cts. per day extra pay. Mr. Fernald writes us concerning the appearance of the "Progress," which is about the size of the Chronicle, and well edited and printed, but the paper itself is brown—a fair article for grocers' use:

"As the rebels did not leave a sufficient supply of white paper on hand when they made their exit from this place, the Yankee printers were obliged to take what they could get, a sample of which I send you.—I will send you one on better paper next week."

☞ A meteor was seen to fall, in the eastern heavens, on Wednesday evening about half-past seven o'clock. It was quite light at the time, yet the meteor appeared of unusual size and brilliancy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The N. H. Battery is not at Yorktown, as has been reported, but it is said it has received orders to proceed thither.—The Manchester American states that a detachment of the Battery, with two guns, under Lieut. Robbs, participated in the battle which occurred before the rebels were driven from Fredericksburg. Our boys accompanied the force, including some companies of regular artillery, which marched about ten miles before they came in sight of the enemy. When the enemy appeared, the horses were driven towards them for about five miles with the utmost speed. They retired, however, into the woods. The next day they appeared again, and a battle ensued, during which the N. H. detachment fired their guns a number of times. Several were killed on both sides, but the battery boys escaped unharmed.

—— The N. H. Third is at Edisto Island, S. C., under command of Lieut. Col. Jackson and Maj. Bedell. Col. Moore is superseded by Col. Fellows as commander of the post, Capt. Dow's company (H) detailed for provost guard. Letters and papers to the regiment should be directed as heretofore.

—— The town of Bedford voted recently to sell their poor farm, as they had only one pauper supported upon it. E. A. Greenough, of Manchester, has purchased the farm for $5000.

—— Three ladies were riding in Manchester a few days since, and incautiously drove against the curb stone and were overthrown. Two gentlemen, whose modesty forbids a public mention of their names, assisted the unfortunate victims to regain their place in their carriage, and, when it was ascertained that no injury was done, they started off in high spirits at the escape, and had proceeded less than ten rods when they came in contact with a load of wood, again upsetting and, though escaping bruises themselves, disabled their wagon.

—— Mr. Joseph G. Edgerly and Mr. Frank T. Richardson left Manchester on Saturday afternoon for Fortress Monroe to fill situations in the Post Office there.

—— The Ladies' Soldiers Aid Society of Concord, N. H., have lately received a considerable number of subscriptions from gentlemen there; among the largest of which are Nath'l White and Joseph A. Gilmore, $50 each; H. H. & J. S. Brown, $40; Onslow Stearns, H. A. Bellows, James Peverly, Ira Perley, Franklin Pierce, B. F. & D. Holden, $25 each; L. Downing, Jr., Peter Sanborn, Geo. Hutchins, Joseph B. Walker, Wm. Walker, J. A. Abbott, E. A. Abbott, Lewis Downing, A. H. Fellows, Asa Fowler, John M. Hill, N. G. Upham, G. P. Lyon, Daniel A. Brown $10 each.

—— Mr. James Parker, of Keene, N. H., committed suicide on Sunday morning, the 27th of April, while his family were at church. He was found in his barn, hanging by his neck, and all efforts to resuscitate him proved unavailing. Fear of coming to want is supposed to have been the cause of the act. His age was about 72 years.

☞ We accidentally omitted to mention on Tuesday morning, that a squad of men arrived in this city on Monday, from Manchester, under Lieut. W. N. Haradon,—to be added to the garrison at Fort Constitution. The Manchester Mirror says:—

"Lieut. Haradon has enlisted twenty-two men in this section within a short time, showing that New Hampshire has plenty of men left who are willing to go to the wars."

☞ Contributions have been taken up in most of our Churches recently, for the benefit of the destitute families of Gloucester, Mass., and the following amounts were obtained:—

WRECKS OF HUMANITY—Why should they exist The excitement of the chase has always been supposed to have a healthful tendency; but there is a kind of chase which breaks down the constitution, debilitates the frame, and shortens life. We mean the headlong, uninterrupting hunt after "the almighty dollar," which is the great business characteristic of the present day. It begets other evils (unnecessary to name) which precipitate the fate of thousands. There is, however, a possibility of recovery from the prostration produced by these causes, long after their victim has ceased to hope for it. If we are rightly informed, the most astonishing cures of what is called general weakness and debility, which have ever been known in this country, have been effected through the agency of Doctor HOLLOWAY's inestimable remedies. Mere skeletons of men, out of whom the very principle of vitality seemed to have been drained, have been restored to health and vigor by the operations of the Pills; and of the Ointment, in cases of paralysis, rheumatism, &c., we hear an equally favorable account. If men will break down their energies by over exertion—if in their anxiety to "go ahead," they will override the most precious of God's blessings, health—it is well they should know how to repair the mischief, when they come at last to realize the fact of their premature decay. The wrecks of humanity, who without any particular disease, appear to be sinking from mere exhaustion, would find without doubt, immediate relief from Dr. Holloway's remedies.—Phil. Tribune.

Rockingham Fair, 1862.

The Rockingham County Agricultural Society will hold their ninth Exhibition on Wednesday & Thursday, Sept. 17 & 18, in such Town in the County as shall offer the greatest inducements.

POLICE COURT, Wednesday, April 30.—Robt. Huse, for being drunk, fined $3, costs $3.86: committed to the House of Correction.

Joanna Crean, for same offence, fined $2, costs $3.86.

Elizabeth Doe, same offence and same fine: committed.

John Larey, same offence, fined $3, costs $3.86.

Joanna T. Berry, for keeping disorderly house, fined $10, costs $5.45.

Cornelius Lynch, indecent exposure, fined $3, costs $3.86.

CONGRESS, Tuesday.—The President sent in to the Senate, a communication avowing his responsibility for the arrest of Gen. Stone, and stating that the General cannot be tried at present, because witnesses, whose presence would be necessary, are absent in the field.

The House resumed the consideration of the report of the Committee on Government Contracts.

☞ The Senate, in executive session on Monday, made a final disposition of the confirmation of Brig. Gen. Fitz John Porter. His nomination was confirmed several weeks ago, but for some reason a reconsideration was had. The vote was conclusive in his favor. It will gratify our citizens to know that one of "the Sons" occupies the position to which he has been deservedly raised.

☞ The recent troubles on the overland mail route were occasioned by the drivers and other employees, of the road. They seized nearly all the available stock of the Company to obtain their wages, they not having been paid for several months. The Indians are peaceably disposed and have done no injury to the mails or overland telegraph, though they have been charged with committing the injury.

P. S.—A later dispatch says the Indians did commit the injury.

☞ A dispatch from Washington the 20th, says, "the President's visit to the French frigate Cassendi this afternoon was an event of historical importance. It was the first time a President of the United States ever went on board of a foreign vessel of war that came to Washington. He was received with all the honors paid to a crowned head, being the same as are usually shown to the Emperor."

MUM IS THE WORD.—The Boston Post says an order is shortly to be promulgated at the different Navy Yards, forbidding officials to furnish information for publication by the press, particularly as to the building, armament, power or destination of vessels.

☞ By permission from Washington two large cargoes of ice have been dispatched from Boston to New Orleans; and vessels, to load there for the same port, are advertised for.

Repoits from Gen. Banks' division state that it had been learned through secession sources that the Governor of North Caralina was arrested and imprisoned at Richmond, two weeks ago, on account of his Union sentiments.

It is reported by the flag of truce that the Merrimac has her steam up and it was expected in Norfolk on Tuesday night that she would come out on Wednesday. She did not make her appearance, however.

☞ Two hundred and fifty workmen, including one hundred and twenty carpenters, were discharged at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Wednesday.

STATE FAIR.—We learn that the propriety of holding a State Fair in N.H. during the coming Fall has not yet been definitely settled, but the subject will be considered and a determination made on the 1st of June.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that I have given to my son, CHARLES H. KNOX, aged twenty years and four months, his time during the remainder of his minority, to act and trade for himself; that I shall claim none of his wages, nor pay any bills of his contracting from and after this date.—Witness, JOHN DAME.

VALUABLE WHARF PROPERTY

AT AUCTION.

By virtue of a license from the Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham, granted to the Administratrix of the estate of JOSEPH HARVEY, late of Portsmouth, deceased, will be sold at Public Auction, at Exchange Wharf, in Portsmouth,

SATURDAY, May 3, 1862, at 12 o'ck, M.

All the right, title and interest that said deceased had at the time of his decease, in and unto one undivided EIGHTH part of Exchange Wharf, Buildings and Land, situate in said Portsmouth,

AT THE FOOT OF DEER STREET.

Also one undivided THIRD part of the wooden STORE and Land, No. 98 Market Street, between Exchange Wharf and the Alley leading to Fernald's wood wharf.

Both of the above named pieces of real estate being subject to the widow's right of dower in said premises, which right of dower will be also offered for sale at the same time and place.

The deep water at the wharf, its easy approach and proximity to the Railroad depots, render it a convenient wharf for business, and the opportunity to purchase a piece of property of this description worthy of the consideration of capitalists and business men.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Notices of Probate is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

☞ We always take it as a favor, if subscribers will inform us immediately, when their papers are missed, or if delivered by others than our regular authorized carriers, or not strictly in accordance with our patrons' orders or desires.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this article supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

Drs. Valentine Mott, Willard Parker & others Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received, in accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the required purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar arrangement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Not the least attention, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no dirt can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

MAY SONG.

May, sweet May, again is come,
May, that frees the land from gloom;
Children, children, up and see
All her stores of jollity!
On the laughing hedge-row's side,
She hath spread her treasures wide;
She is in the greenwood shade,
Where the nightingale hath made
Every branch and every tree
Ring with her sweet melody;
Hill and dale are May's own treasures,
Youth, rejoice! in sportive measures.
Sing ye! join the chorus gay!
Hail this merry, merry May!

Up, then, children! we will go
Where the blossoming roses grow;
In a joyful company
We the burning flowers will see;
Up, your festal dress prepare!
Where gay hearts are met, there
May hath pleasures most inviting;
Heart and sight and ear delighting.
Listen to the bird's sweet song;
Hark! how soft it floats along!
Courtly dames, our pleasure share!
Never saw I May so fair;
Therefore, dancing with her sage,
Youth, rejoice! the flowerets blow!
Sing ye! join the chorus gay!
Hail this merry, merry May!

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the act of 1836,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and opinions given by other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

Thus, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners in this or any other land with official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them the ediest and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such uniformable success argues talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Sacramental Use, FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific. Its high merits are by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO ADVERTISE!

Advertise!

IT IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted, in the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER; for that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and to note its taste. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Cautious, persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that a temporary or great business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me in all cases, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing is not to be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him ten-fold, sometimes, indeed, in the aggregate of instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient, others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the field is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody looks for information, is, every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is as constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

THE NEWSPAPER

Advertising Agency

—OF—

S. R. NILES,

1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston.

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canada, and is the only and duly appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, comparative value of papers and situations, are respectful ly invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance tendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr4 tf S. R. NILES.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the satisfaction of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of prostration, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending the class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, wretchedness, avoidance of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3aw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield undeniably, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

The Chronicle.

☞ To our mind, one of the most pleasant of sights is to see middle-aged people—men and women whose years will allow them no longer to be called young—participating in the rational and healthy enjoyments of youth—the picnic, or other excursion, the social party, festive gathering, or dance—in that earnest manner which proves they have kept their hearts young. While to the Heraclitus class of gloomy philosophers, such conduct is always pitiable, if not blameworthy,—to those of the Democritus or cheerful school, (which we must say, we regard as altogether the most sensible, reasonable and enjoyable,) this fraternising of ages is one of the most potent saving graces of society. And to us, the fact that active men or women, who have for long years been called really to engage in the struggle of life, have preserved their hearts from growing callous and indifferent to the enjoyments of society, and kept their souls open to the influences of that beauty which is everywhere around all, to a degree which enables them to join in the innocent pleasures of youth with such cordiality and affinity,—proves that they must have steered clear of all great errors or follies in life, and retained to a great degree, the freshness and integrity of childhood.

☞ Not many weeks ago the rebels expelled the venerable Judge Catron from Nashville for persisting so firmly in his loyalty to the National Government. He is now about to return to that city to try for treason the individuals who maltreated him.

CONSIDERATE.—According to the Newburyport Herald, the Republican Committee of that city have decided not to recommend candidates for assessors and collectors of National taxes for the present.

☞ The cannon captured from the enemy in the entrenchments opposite Island No. 10 are all being removed to the island. The island is to be fortified according to plans presented by Assistant Secretary of War Scott.

A dry goods clerk knocked down one of those skeleton figures upon which dry goodsmen are wont to display their shawls and dress goods. "You needn't stop to pick it up," said the proprietor, "it will get up itself. Don't you remember the proverb, that figures won't lie?"

☞ In Buffalo, on Thursday morning, Moses Menard, a Frenchman, shot his wife under the suspicion that she was a burglar who had entered the room.

☞ Sir William Armstrong asserts that one of his guns, of twelve tons weight, charged with fifty pounds of powder, will break through the side of any iron vessel afloat.

☞ Gen. Halleck, in a dispatch to the Secretary of War, urges the promotion of Gen. Wm. T. Sherman on account of his important services at the battle of Shiloh.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the War Department has issued an order for arms and clothing for the loyal blacks to be enrolled with Gen. Hunter's division.

☞ Gen. W. S. Sherman, in accordance with the recommendation of Gen. Halleck, has been nominated for a Major General.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.
The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:—
His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt-Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.
CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Benesset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.
RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.
His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.
His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.
COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.
EXETER, March 3, 1851. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it
Ed. EDWIN BURNHAM."
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 120g

FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester Mirror states that the cylinder mill of the Bennington (this State) powder works exploded on Wednesday, tearing the building to atoms. Some 18 kegs of powder, in a half finished condition, were in three of the cylinders. Fortunately, no one was killed, or injured in any way.

——A pack of wolves are roaming about on the north side of the Androscoggin in Sherburne, and have even visited the sugar yards near the lead mines.

—— We learn from the Patriot that a new bridge was erected over Mascoma river at East Lebanon on the Northern Railroad, in seven days, under the direction of Onslow Stearns, the superintendent. It replaces the old one carried away by the late freshet. Mr. Stearns was thrown from off a pier into the swift water and came near being drowned.

—— The American states that Geo. Y. Sawyer, Jr., of the 3d N. H. Regt. has arrived home. He brings with him a bright, smart contraband eight years old.

—— Capt. Pierce L. Wiggin and Adjutant Alfred L. Hill, 3d Regt. N. H. V., have tendered their resignations. We understand that both are accepted by Col. Fellows, commandant at Edisto, and that Gen. Hunter expressed himself that he has no desire to keep any officer in his department who does not wish to stay.—Manchester Mirror.

Adj. Hill had arrived home here, and we notice he is lame.

THE REBELLION.

A steamer at Cairo, April 30th, from Pittsburg reports a serious skirmish between the advance of the Federal army, five thousand strong, and a large body of rebels, five miles from Corinth. Our troops were victorious. No mention is made of the losses on either side. The Federals took a large number of prisoners. Cannonading was still heard when the steamer left.

We have a report by way of Cairo, that heavy cannonading was heard at Tiptonville throughout Monday night and Tuesday, in the direction of Fort Wright. There having been no arrival from the fleet since Monday, it is apprehended that the rebel fleet at the fort had been reinforced by gunboats from New Orleans and had attacked our fleet. This was not unexpected. The last advices from the fleet say that Commodore Foote was fully prepared to meet the enemy.

The telegraph gives us an obscure account of an affair which appears to be of quite a serious character, but of which we have no particulars. A large foraging party, under Milroy, in Fremont's Department, not far from McDowell's advance, has been lost in consequence of being cut off from support.

In the Petersburg (Va.) Express of Monday it is stated that our gunboats at the battle of New Orleans, were encased with wet bales of hay, thus rendering them proof against hot or cold shot. The Louisiana, mounting 21 guns, was sunk by our steel-pointed conical shot.

The Wheeling Intelligencer of the 29th announces that Gen. Fremont was on that day to leave Wheeling for the interior of Western Virginia.

Dispatches to Cincinnati papers represent that Tuscumbia, Ala., was evacuated by Col. Turchin, who held the town with the 19th Illinois regiment, because 3000 rebels were approaching to attack him. Before retiring he laid the town in ashes.

Martial law has been declared in East Tennessee. The Columbus, Georgia, Works are turning out six cannon per day. Albert Pike has issued an order complimenting his Indian allies for gallantry at Pea Ridge!

☞ A St. Louis dispatch says Col. Jennison has received a letter from a Senator at Washington, stating in explicit terms that an order relieving Gens. Sturgis and Denver of their commands in Kansas has been forwarded from the War Department. Col. Jennison, on Wednesday, was relieved of his personal parole, and is now obliged to report only by letter. He intended to leave for Washington, on Thursday.

☞ Cairo dispatches, 1st, report an alarming overflow of the Mississippi. Hundreds of houses at New Madrid, Mo., and other places on the river are submerged, and thousands of cattle, sheep and hogs have been washed away. Many families are living on flat boats. The whole of Columbus, up to her fortifications, is overflowed and water is running into the windows of houses.

☞ A disgraceful outrage was committed at Amherst College, Monday night, undoubtedly by drunken students. A member of the freshman class, who had for some reason incurred the displeasure of the sophomores, was seized in the street and thrown into a pond, receiving such injuries as to require assistance to reach his room. The ringleaders in the affair have been discovered, and several will probably be expelled.

HIST. OF FORMER CONSPIRACIES

AGAINST THE U. S. GOVERNMENT.

The Conspiracy of Aaron Burr, 1806 7.—Aaron Burr came within one vote of being the Democratic President of the United States. His competitor, Jefferson, finally obtained the casting vote of Mr. Bayard, Federalist, of Delaware. He thereupon became President, and Burr Vice-President. The history of that seven days' balloting is one of the most remarkable episodes in that day of intrigues, of plots and counterplots. It shows Burr to have been a subtle, unscrupulous and perfectly immobile man—one well fitted for "stratagems, treasons and spoils." Burr served the one term with ability, plotting a stroke for the Presidency. But, the Democracy found reasons to distrust him, and named George Clinton, of New York, as their candidate for Vice-President—Mr. Jefferson standing for his second term as Chief Magistrate. Burr, not to be thwarted, and hoping to heap confusion upon his opponents, avowed himself an independent candidate. He then threw his whole power in the canvass and would have defeated opposition had he not been so thoroughly distrusted. Alexander Hamilton cast his great influence against the intriguer—preferring even that Jefferson, the arch-enemy of the Federalists, should succeed, rather than that the high office should be disgraced by one as base as Burr. That opposition defeated the ambitious aspirant, and Hamilton paid the penalty of his life for the part he had acted.—Burr challenged him to mortal combat, and by avoiding every possibility of a settlement, forced the unwilling Hamilton to place his body as a target for the unerring weapon of his implacable adversary. They met July 11th, 1804. Burr took most deliberate aim and shot his antagonist. Hamilton did not fire at all, as he proposed, though his pistol exploded from the convulsive motion of his finger on the trigger when Burr's ball struck his bosom. Burr fled, and the execrations of a nation followed him. He sought a brief residence, "until the storm should pass over," in the Southern States, where a successful duelist ever has a passport to public and private favor. From thence he journeyed back to Washington to preside over the Senate. In Virginia he had a most enthusiastic public reception. At the same time two warrants were out for his arrest as a murderer, one in New York and one in New Jersey. At Washington he was received, Parton says, with more deference than usual. The President, he says even gave one or two appointments to his (Burr's) friends—one, General Wilkinson, being made Governor of the Territory of Louisana. He sought to make good use of this appointment afterward, but eventually found a betrayer in him whom he had sought to promote.

The summer of 1805 Burr spent in the West and South, in quest of a new home where his energies might find full play. If he had conceived any definite plan of revolution, at that time, it is not known.—The summer was passed merely in observation and visiting, from Pittsburg all along the river down to New Orleans, making two visits to Nashville, Tenn. At all places he was the welcomed guest of leading men, and, profiting by their knowledge and influence, gained such information as he desired in regard to the resources and population of the country, as well as of the feeling of the people toward the Union and toward Spain, then still in the possession of country lying west of the Mississippi.—During the fall of 1805 he returned to Washington, and was well received, being dined by Mr. Jefferson. He spent the winter in Washington and Philadelphia; but, what he was doing is not fully known further than what was afterwards betrayed by Gen. Eaton, then recently returned from the Mediterranean. To him he divulged the fact of his contemplated expedition against Mexico, and thus secured a promise of his co-operation. He also developed a project for revolutionizing the Western country, establishing a monarchy, organizing a force of ten or twelve thousand volunteers, and, finally, securing the co-operation of the marine corps at Washington, and gaining over Truxton, Preble, Decatur and others; he then intended to turn Congress out of doors, assassinate the President, seize on the Treasury and Navy and declare himself the Protector of an energetic government. It is to be doubted, however, if these really were well concerted plans of Burr. He doubtless adverted to them as what might and ought to be. They prove, at most, that the fertile brain of the conspirator was meditating some grand enterprise, worthy even of his master skill.—Eaton, it is said, was satisfied that his friend was a dangerous man. He accordingly waited upon the President, and made a partial revelation of the facts, suggesting the propriety of appointing Burr to some foreign mission, to "keep him out of mischief."

In 1806 Burr again went West, making his head-quarters at Blannerhasset's Island, in the Ohio river, a few miles below Marietta. The owner of the island, a reckless and rather shiftless Irishman, had become a partner in the "enterprise" to the extent of embarking his entire fortune—in what?—He confesses he did not know, only that by floating down the Mississippi he was to float into prosperity, and Lady Blannerhasset was to become more than a lady. It was proven, on their trial in Richmond, that the too credulous Irishman never knew that he had committed or was to commit treason against the Government of the United States.

During the entire summer of 1806 the West teemed with reports of Burr's designs upon the South; but, notwithstanding many men were in his service as soldiers and assistants, and that boats lay at Marietta loaded with provisions and military stores, none knew aught of the destination of the expedition—not even the men embarked in it! Gen. Wilkinson alone appeared to be in the secret. With him Burr was in constant correspondence, in cypher; but Wilkinson in his labored defence against the charges of complicity with Burr, denied any knowledge of his real designs until at a late period, when he immediately divulged them and sided Government, by his duplicity and his fears, to arrest the adventurer.

In the fall of 1806 the "Monarch of an undefined realm" was arrested in Kentucky, by order of government; and, through the vigilance of that remarkable man, Col. Joe Davies, was brought to trial. Henry Clay acted for the defence, upon the solemn assurance of Burr that he meditated no enterprise or act contrary to the laws and the peace of the land. By hastening the trial ere important witnesses could be produced, Burr was acquitted. Joe Davies opposed the tide of public sentiment in prosecuting Burr, but his sagacity was not to be deceived—he read in the adventurer's very eyes his subtle and dangerous nature; and, though he failed to convict, and injured his own personal popularity greatly by the determined character of the prosecution—persecution it was called by Clay—he had the satisfaction of seeing all his prophecies, regarding the man, fully verified.

After acquittal, Burr hastened from Frankfort to the Ohio river, and passed down stream with his flats and companions-in-adventure—among whom were Blannerhassett and his wife. But a few days after his departure Jefferson's proclamation, denouncing the expedition, was received at Frankfort—much to Clay's mortification and Davies' regret. The boats still at Marietta were seized, and Blannerhasset's island was occupied by United States militia; but Burr had escaped down the Mississippi.

In January, 1807, the flotilla of Burr arrived at Bayou Pierre, on the Lower Mississippi. He was there seized by the Governor of Mississippi, but managed shortly after to effect his escape. A reward of two thousand dollars was offered for his apprehension, and many arrests were made of his supposed accomplices. The narrative of his arrest is as follows:—"About the 1st of Feb., late at night, a man in the garb of a boatman, with a single companion, arrived at the door of a small log cabin, in the backwoods of Alabama. Col. Nicholas Perkins, who was present, observed by the light of the fire, that the stranger, though coarsely dressed, possessed a countenance of unusual brilliancy. The tidy boot, which his vanity could not surrender with his other articles of finer clothing, attracted Perkins' attention, and led him to conclude that the mysterious stranger was none other than the famous Col. Burr. That night Perkins started for Fort Stoddard, on the Tombigbee, and communicated his suspicions to the late Gen. Edward P. Gaines, then lieutenant in command. The next day Gaines, with a file of soldiers, started in pursuit of Burr, and arrested him on his journey.—Burr attempted to intimidate his captor; but the young officer was resolute, and told him he must accompany him to his quarters, where he would be treated with all the respect due to the ex Vice President of the United States. In about three weeks Burr was sent to Richmond, Va., under a special guard selected by Col. Perkins, upon whom he could depend in any emergency. Perkins knew the fascinations of Burr, and fearing his familiarity with the men—indeed, fearing the same influences upon himself, he obtained from them the most solemn pledges that they would hold no interviews with the prisoner, nor suffer him to escape alive.

"In their journey through Alabama they always slept in the woods, and, after a hastily prepared breakfast it was their custom to remount and march on in gloomy silence. Burr was a splendid rider, and in his rough garb he bestrode his horse as elegantly, and his large dark eyes flashed as brightly, as if he were at the head of his New York Regiment."

After a number of interesting adventures Perkins and his prisoner reached Richmond where he was soon tried for treason and misdemeanor, the trial commencing May 22d, 1807. This trial was one of the most remarkable which ever transpired on this continent. Chief Justice Marshall, "the Washington of the bench," presided over the court. The legal talent embraced such names as those of Wirt, for the prosecution, and Luther Martin and Edmund Randolph for the defence. Fourteen days were exhausted in arguing the inadmissibility of indirect evidence, in which Burr's astonishing tact was too much for his opponents. The trial for treason ended August 29th. The Chief Justice charged the jury September 1st, and, in a few moments, the verdict came in, in irregular and equivocal shape, not guilty.

The trial for misdemeanor then proceeded and ended, in October, by acquittal, on the ground that the offence was committed in Ohio—therefore, that Virginia had no jurisdiction.

Thus released, Burr fled—none knew whither, except his few friends. Liable to be carried to Ohio for further trial—to be tried in New York and New Jersey for murder—he could only escape by secretly leaving the country. All the winter of 1807-8 he was kept secure from discovery, and in June, 1808, passed over to England as G. H. Edwards.

☞ Says the N. Y. World:—"When Gen. Butler took possession of Baltimore, shortly after the breaking out of the war, the New Orleans journals made merry at his expense, and declared he was an old colored barber, known as 'Picayune Butler,' who formerly kept a shop under the St. Charles Hotel in the Crescent City. As Gen. Butler has in all probability 'come to town' by this time, he will have a chance to crop the ears of some of his revilers."

GEN. GRANT.—The correspondent of the Missouri Republican says:—

"Gen. Grant is said to be coming out all right at last; the charges against him have been investigated and found frivolous.—The charge that he disobeyed orders in landing his forces at Pittsburg instead of on the opposite bank, to await the arrival of Buell's army, is explained by the fact that owing to the high stage of water a landing could not be effected at the point designated."

☞ The Richmond Examiner of the 22d says in effect, that the destiny of the Confederacy is trembling on the result at Yorktown. If successful, it will give them six months for carrying out the conscription act, and for arming and equipping a large army, and launching a fleet of Merrimacs, but if unsuccessful, Virginia is lost.

☞ The first day of May was set apart by the colored people of the District of Columbia as a day of thanksgiving for the passage of the emancipation bill.

A Yorktown correspondent of the N. Y. Express says McClellan has the plans so arranged as to throw two hundred shells every minute, after the bombardment commences.

☞ It is asserted in high quarters that New Orleans cannot be opened to trade until all the other Southern ports are opened, without breaking the blockade.

☞ General McClellan has appointed Brigadier General Fitz John Porter director of the siege of Yorktown.

☞ Several tenant storekeepers in this city have found fault with our item of last week, concerning the recent raising of rents here—on the ground that we commended the movement as "shrewd." No such thing, "not a bit of it"—we only said that these shrewd men had done this thing; not that they were shrewd for doing it. We certainly shan't volunteer to take part in any body's quarrels—and least of all in the private impressible conflict between landlords and tenants, any farther than we ourselves are concerned—and here we will say that of several landlords of whom we have hired various premises, every one has seemed desirous to do as they would be done by.

☞ The Festival of the Sons and Daughters of Temperance, at Jefferson Hall, last evening, was a very enjoyable occasion. The old hall was beautifully decorated,—[and it must have taken a deal of labor, and no little skill and good taste, (not to mention bunting and evergreen,) to make the disgraceful old barracks look so inviting. Shades of the immortal Jefferson—what a City Hall!] The Tableaux were very fine, and the music of the Cornet Band of course excellent, while with a good social company, and plenty of refreshments, no one was at a loss for fun for an hour or two. The Festival continues this evening, and also Saturday afternoon.

In Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening, the Mayor was authorized to pay the chairman of the High School Committee, one years interest on the Haven Fund.

The Mayor was authorized to empower the City Treasurer to overdraw to the amount of $2,000, in addition to the amount already overdrawn.

Ivah N. Rugg was appointed Supt. of North Burying Ground, and Josiah F. Adams of Cotton's, the Pleasant street, and Point of Graves.

☞ The well-known Cutts mansion, on North Road in this city, with four acres of land, was sold at auction by William H. Hackett, Esq., on Thursday, for the sum of $5000. Mr. E. A. Straw, of Manchester, was the purchaser—and we understand intends it as a summer residence. The house alone cost from $10,000 to $12,000 to build, and is in thorough repair, and it is one of the most sightly locations of any house in this vicinity.

☞ The blind man's brooms are made of sound, heavy broom corn, and are strongly put together for service. The industry of the blind man deserves encouragement, which he asks in the shape of "Buy a Broom"—at his house on Bridge street.

Last Chance.—The sale of elegant Shells, live and preserved Birds, &c. will be continued a day longer at Mr. Adams' store. Some beautiful articles and rich plumaged Brazilian birds will be sold very low. More beautiful mantle ornaments cannot be found.

Congress, Wednesday.—In the Senate the Committee on the Conduct of the War reported relative to the barbarous treatment of the dead bodies of Federal soldiers at Manassas. Ordered to be printed. After some discussion, a motion to refer the Confiscation Bill, was rejected, 18 against 22. [It is stated that this was regarded as a test vote between the friends and the opponents of the bill, and as a triumph of the former.]

In the House, the resolutions reported by the Committee on Government Contracts were taken up. A motion to lay them on the table was rejected, 17 against 107. The resolution requesting the Sec. of the Treasury to adjust the claim for 5000 Hall's carbines purchased through Simon Stevens by Gen. Fremont, on the basis of $12.50 each, was adopted as originally reported, 123 against 28. The resolution censuring Mr. Cameron was adopted, 79 against 45. The resolution censuring Mr. Wells was rejected, 45 against 72.

Heartless Robberies.—A wholesale theft of government stores has been detected in Cincinnati. Supplies sent to our wounded soldiers by the Ladies' Aid Society and the Sanitary Commission have been stolen on their way to Tennessee by an organized gang of plunderers. Two men named Daniels and Hinds, are under arrest. The Cincinnati papers state that at Lima, Ohio, the officers have secured ten tons of hospital and army stores, upon which there are railroad charges of five hundred dollars. The Cincinnati authorities are also in possession of similar packages. The evidence is positive that a grand thieving combination has been in successful operation for many months.

☞ Andrew Johnson has quietly notified the Directors of the State Bank of Tennessee, who handed over the assets of that institution to the rebel leaders, that they will be held individually responsible for every cent of interest the State had in it. They are very sorrowful, for many of them have great possessions.

☞ Eleven hundred dollars, collected in New York, were recently sent to John Davis, "the man who sat on the powder."

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

New York May 1, 1861.

Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

Louisville, Ky., July 31, 1861.

Drs. Valentine Mott, Willard Parker & others

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of Dr. A. MACKONE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an agreement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but the machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringer, Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of iron, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Morning Chronicle.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

☞ Much obliged to our friends of the Manchester Daily American, for that "first-rate notice" of our Chronicle. We would gladly reciprocate in kind, but that the American, like "good wine, needs no bush."

By the way, speaking of Manchester and Portsmouth—we think the two cities ought to be "introduced" to each other. We expected this would be done when the Candia Branch Railroad was opened, and it doubtless would have been, but for the all-absorbing war. But the connexion is none the less important because some folks will fight—and we hope no effort will be spared for each city to make the most of our new advantages—"the inspiration of opportunity." Why can't we have an "opening" celebration even now—and give all the live citizens of Manchester and Portsmouth a chance to know each other. It could not fail to tend to the mutual advantage of both. What say the American, and the Mirror, and the City authorities and merchants of both cities?

——Mr. John F. Patten, of Lynn, Mass., has been elected Principal of the Intermediate school in Manchester. Mr. Patten is a teacher of ten years experience, and is an excellent scholar. He is a native of Auburn, was formerly a principal of a Grammar School in Portsmouth, and has more recently been employed in Lynn.

—— There are efforts being made, with a good prospect of success, to extend the American telegraph line, by way of Lawrence, to Concord, this State, and thence to the White Mountains.

—— Thomas Herrin, an Irish boy, fell into a reservoir in Manchester last Saturday evening, and was only saved from drowning by the timely arrival of a young man.

THE MACKEREL FISHERY.—From twenty to thirty vessels belonging to Gloucester, Mass., are making preparations for proceeding to the South for the purpose of taking mackerel. They will sail about the first of May.

☞ England has built, or is building, iron vessels of an aggregate burthen of about 86,000 tons, while France, when she has all her iron vessels afloat, will only have about 50,000 tons. England has now four ironsides afloat of 19,000 tons, against four French ironsides of 12,000 tons.

☞ The Bangor Whig understands that the preliminaries have been arranged for a consolidation of the Androscoggin & Kennebec and Penobscot & Kennebec railroads in acceptance of the act of consolidation as amended by the last Legislature. A new name will be given the consolidated road.

☞ Secretary Chase has ordered Lieut. Robinson to the command of the battery E. A. Stevens, commonly but erroneously called the Naugatuck, at Fortress Monroe.

One of the recently emancipated slaves was found dying on a manure pile in Washington, on Friday, and was taken to the alms-house by the police.—Boston Post.

☞ Samuel B. Todd, brother of Mrs. Lincoln, died on the battle-field of Shiloh from wounds received in that fight.

ADVERTISE!

Advertise!

IT IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain to, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consumption of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it upon his mind day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers in all business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the dull times for advertising; I want I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially I know when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand-fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The business is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

THE NEWSPAPER

Advertising Agency

—OF—

S. R. NILES,

1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston,

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canadas, for which he is the duly authorized agent, with their orders and the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, to enable them to compare value of papers and situations, are respectfully invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr5 tf S. R. NILES.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of preventing the unfortunate victims of quackeries that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Gleets, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment, can be accommodated with BOARD, with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y8taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system, Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in Europe and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Urinals and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, also for the aged and Infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and bowel complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, places and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin cough, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this care to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.
Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1y30

SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1862.

ALABAMA.

As the Union forces now hold both ends of Alabama—Ship Island and Huntsville—without opposition, it may be a good time to recall what the Mobile Evening News said about the prospective conflict just about a year ago. Here is a specimen:—

"There are now, as nearly as can be estimated, upward of one hundred thousand organized and armed men in the seven Confederate States, under orders or anxiously awaiting them, to spring to the post of danger at the word of Jefferson Davis.—Within eight days' time at the furthest he can concentrate sixty thousand of these men, the best soldiers in the world, at any point on the Northern border, and hurl this splendid army like an avalanche upon the foe. If the battle ground be in Virginia or Maryland, as it probably will, the grand army of the Confederacy will be doubled or trebled by the rallying hosts of those States. We have reason to believe that hundreds of companies are now on the move, or will be within 24 hours—all bound somewhere. Such is our immediate war power.

"Should we move on Washington, does the enemy expect to hold it against us?—To hold it against an army of one hundred thousand men and a hostile local population? Large as the telegraphic reports from the land of the enemy read, it will be at least a month before Lincoln can muster into service and concentrate into an army a hundred thousand men. We are ready, he is not. Our people, naturally so inclined, have been making soldiers of themselves for months. His people are doing nothing of the sort, and are not naturally so inclined. Our ordinances of Secession were really the notes of our warlike preparation. Their first note of preparation was the cannonade of Charleston. We have had three months the start of them and are ready; they are not.

"Months ago, the minds of our people had settled resolvedly to meet any issue.—Now the people of the North are in all the wild panic and confusion of war's first alarms. We confront them, a cool, collected foe, that will never give them time to recover from their surprise. We are ready for action—they are getting ready to prepare to act. They may raise plenty of men—men who prefer enlisting to starvation, scurvy fellows from the back alleys of cities, whom Falstaff would not have marched through Coventry with—but these recruits are not soldiers, least of all the soldiers to meet the hot-blooded, thoroughbred, impetuous men of the South. Trencher soldiers, who enlisted to war on their rations, not on men, they are—such as marched through Baltimore—squalid, wretched, ragged, and half naked as the newspapers of that city report them. Fellows who do not know the breech of a musket from its muzzle, and had rather filch a handkerchief than fight an enemy in manly, open combat. White slaves, peddling wretches, small-change knaves and vagrants, the dregs and off scourings of the populace—those are the levied "forces" whom Lincoln suddenly arrays as candidates for the honor of being slaughtered by gentlemen—such as Mobile sent to battle yesterday. Let them come South, and we will put our negroes to the dirty work of killing them. But they will not come South. Not a wretch of them will live on this side of the Border longer than it will take us to reach the ground and drive them over.

"Mobile is sending forth to wage this war of independence the noblest and bravest of her sons. It is expensive, extravagant to put such material against the riff-raff of mercenaries whom the Abolition power has called out to war upon us. We could almost hope that a better class of men would fall into the Northern ranks, that our gentlemen might find foemen worthy of their steel, whom it would be more difficult to conquer and whose conquering would be more honorable. For the present, however, we need not expect to find any foe worth fighting, with the exception of a few regiments, for the North is just getting ready, and will likely be whipped before it is ready."

The above statements about the rebels being prepared for war, and we unprepared, are true. So while they were quarrelsome, warlike, and dictatorial, we were pacific, yielding, and almost sheepish. But they roused another feeling, viz. determined purpose to put down their rebellion at whatever cost, and this determination is much stronger to-day than it was a year ago.

We have "recovered from our surprise,"—we have held and do "hold Washington" against the rebel army, and against the "hostile local population," our recruits have become soldiers,—and quite a number of them have gone "south,"—and now "live on that side of the border."

☞ There is some dispute at Washington on the question of who first proposed the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia. The question is settled by a reference to the official record of the business of the House. It appears by that record that, on the 23d of January, 1848, Mr. Hale, of New Hampshire, submitted a resolution that the Committee on the District of Columbia be instructed to report a bill abolishing slavery in the District. The vote stood—yeas 7; nays 36. The yeas were Senators Hale, Baldwin, Clarke, Corwin, Davis, Miller, and Upham.

☞ Barnum is making arrangements for another Baby Show, when $2000 will be distributed in premiums for the finest babies, twins, triplets, quaterns, and fat babies.—The number of babies to be exhibited will be limited to one hundred, beside the twins, triplets, quaterns, and fat babies.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester American says "in the selection of building lots, in Manchester, there has recently been a tendency towards the south east part of the city, and new houses are going up in that section every week."

—— As Mr. Richard Ockington and Mr. Isaac Snow were engaged at Stratford in removing a ten-gallon demijohn of "pure spirits" from its packing case, by some means it took fire, burst, and covered them with flames. Mr. Ockington stripped off his burning garment and escaped nearly uninjured. Mr. Snow ran out doors, his clothes ablaze, help came and the fire was extinguished. He was very badly burned.

—— The Nashua Gazette says Mr. James Bradley was fatally injured last week, while shoveling gravel on the Concord Railroad, by a stone sliding down an embankment upon him.

—— A carpenter, named Parmenter, had his thigh broken and his spine injured, in Nashua on Saturday, a "patent staging" giving way and precipitating him to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet.

—— Mr. James Parker, of Keene, 72 years of age, hung himself in his barn on Sunday, 27th ult., while his family were at church. He feared coming to want.

—— A driver of a carriage ran over a little child in Manchester on Wednesday, and drove on without stopping to ascertain the extent of the injury.

The trains to Portsmouth are a great blessing to Manchester. It seems strange that the Candia Branch could have been so long deferred. Our people are making great accounts of spending their leisure time in the summer months on the seashore.—Manchester Mirror.

SURRENDER OF NEW ORLEANS.—The Richmond Enquirer publishes the correspondence between Com. Farragut and the Mayor of New Orleans. Com. Farragut demanded the unqualified surrender of the city, that the U. S. flag should be raised over the City Hall, the Mint and Custom House, and that all other flags should be removed from the public buildings. He declared that the rights of persons and property should be secure, and closes with the following reference to fiendish outrages, which it was not thought even rebels would be guilty of:—

"I shall speedily and severely punish any person or persons who shall commit such outrages as were witnessed yesterday by armed men, firing upon helpless women and children, for giving expression to their pleasure at witnessing the old flag."

The Mayor, in his reply, states that Gen. Lovell had vacated the city with his troops, out of regard for the lives of the women and children. He then continues in a haughty, impudent style, states that he cannot haul down the rebel flag, but as Com. Farragut held the city at the mercy of his gunners and mortars, he was powerless to prevent it. The whole document is a remarkable one, and is evidently intended for the Southern market, even should it not prove a hoax. Perhaps the most remarkable thing in it is the following reminder:—

"You have a gallant people to administrate during the occupancy of this city; a people sensitive to all that can in the least affect their dignity and self-respect. Pray, sir, do not fail to regard their susceptibilities."

For the Chronicle.

☞ Different reasons, in great variety, are urged by different writers and speakers, against general emancipation in the United States.—Among them the first is, that the freed negroes will not work: and the second, that they will be formidable competitors with white laborers at the north. Both cannot be true to any great extent:—but they are both greatly erroneous. Idlers and drones some of them doubtless would be,—as such characters exist every where. Smart men, too, and competitors worthy of any race may also be found among them—but there is abundant room in this great country, for all the laborers, of every color we have—and all the expressed fears of a dangerous rush here or there, are either groundless or hypocritical.

☞ Daniel Woodbury and Albert P. Woodbury, his son, late Postmaster and assistant at South Danvers, Mass., were examined on Thursday, on complaint of opening letters and taking money therefrom. The examination resulted in the discharge of Daniel Woodbury. The son was held for trial in $4000, and in default of bail was committed.

☞ Our Consul at Geneva writes that during the six months he has been there he has received no less than a thousand applications to enter our army from Italian soldiers who wish to fight for Liberty in America.

☞ By the sudden death of Governor Harvey of Wisconsin, the Lieut. Governor, Edward Solomon, becomes Governor of the State. He is the first German who has occupied the Gubernatorial chair of any State in the Union.

☞ The Senate on Thursday confirmed the nominations of Charles L. Loring, to be Collector of Customs for the District of New Orleans, La., and of W. T. Sherman, as Major General.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from Fort Wright, 30th, says there were then indications of a speedy termination of the seige. The rebels had burned all the cotton between Memphis and the Fort, which they could find—many thousand bales. The rebel gunboat fleet from New Orleans had arrived off the port, and been added to Hollins' fleet.

The Southern papers contain dispatches that Fort Macon surrendered on Friday of last week, conditionally, after a bombardment of ten and a half hours. They say the garrison was allowed to march out with the honors of war, the officers wearing their side arms.

Gen. Mitchell is now in full possession of Huntsville, Ala., and has cleared of rebels all that part of the State north of the Tennessee river.

Gen. Wool, on Thursday, reported a statement received from contrabands, that Gen. Beauregard has evacuated Corinth, and fallen back on Memphis. It is reported that Com. Tatnall, and the principal officers of the Merrimac have resigned.—The Merrimac on Thursday was off the Marine Hospital at Craney Island, fast to the buoy. She now mounts twelve guns.—There were then no other steamers there.

On the 24th inst. a company of cavalry from Forsyth, Mo., destroyed the extensive Saltpetre manufactory near Yeltville, Ark., and burned the building.

The Norfolk Day Book says:—

"The Provost Marshal has prohibited all huckstering within the military district of Norfolk, and the privilege of selling poultry, game, fish, fruit, vegetables, &c., is restricted to those who raise or catch them. Another order extends the privilege of bringing oysters from May 1 to June 1, and allows butchers to buy perk."

The Wilmington (N. C.) Journal says the fire upon Fort Macon opened at a quarter before six on Friday morning.—The engagement was kept up until seven in the evening, when the fort became wholly untenable and surrendered. All the guns inside the Fort opposite the place of attack were dismounted, and all but three of the guns bearing upon the enemy's batteries were dismounted.

A rumor was in circulation among the rebels at Suffolk, Va., on the 30th ult., of the evacuation of Memphis and Corinth, and the capture of Wilmington, N. C., by Gen. Burnside.

The Richmond Dispatch pronounces the rebel panic upon the subject of the scarcity of food as causeless. It quotes sales of butter at $1.40 per pound.

Dispatches from Fortress Monroe, 1st, say:

Mayor Monroe had accepted terms of capitulation proposed by Com. Farragut, and New Orleans at last accounts was held by a battalion of marines from the squadron. Butler's forces were within a few miles of the city, having landed from Lake Pontchartrain.

The rebels at Yorktown have received additional reinforcements. Battery No. 1, commanding the rebel water batteries at Yorktown and Gloucester, opened fire on the 30th. The rebel vessels hastily retreated out of range. The accuracy of our gunners (this being the first attempt with new siege pieces) was acknowledged by competent judges to be admirable.

Com. Hollins is on his way to Richmond. He is amazed at the fall of New Orleans. He stated that there were 100 heavy guns in position between Fort Jackson and the city, that the gunboat Louisiana was ready, that many boarding parties were organized to take the national vessels at all hazards, and that the Mississippi, though unfinished, could, if necessary, be brought into action.

The rebel Gen. Gladden has died from wounds received at Pittsburg Landing.

Adj. Gen. Thomas, in conference with the Senate Committees on Tuesday, stated that the Union army in the field now numbered seven hundred thousand effective men.

FOREIGN HUMBUG AND NATIVE HONESTY.—With all our cuteness, we are annually swindled by foreign humbugs who palm themselves on us as medical men and university-graduates. Mr. A. Speer, however, comes out flat-footed and tells us he is no doctor—but a plain, practical man, with a good property in New Jersey which he has turned to account in making his Sambuci wine, which he does not wish the public to regard as a patent medicine, but simply to give it credit for whatever medicinal virtues scientific men affirm it possesses.

Messrs. Chilton & Co., the eminent chemists of New York, "pronounce it pure and for medicinal purposes superior to other wines. Its effects upon the system being mildly stimulating, diuretic, sudorific and tonic, and beneficial in affections of the kidneys and chronic diseases, with general debility of the constitution."

Dr. Harris of the N. Y. Hospital, "finds it an excellent tonic and gentle stimulant, preferable to the commercial port and other wines, and recommends it especially for ladies." Dr. Pairt of Philadelphia "pronounces it to be a purely unadulterated juice of the grape, possessing much medicinal virtue, and uses it for its purity, fine flavor, medicinal properties, and non-intoxicative qualities, &c." Our limited space forbids any more extracts from letters of similar import from numerous physicians and clergymen, many of the latter using it as a communion wine in preference to foreign wines.—Harper's Weekly.

☞ The California Senate has rejected the law to restrict the Chinese immigration.

☞ See a woman, in another column picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

"LANE,"

WHOSE BARGAINS IN GOOD, DURABLE, AND FASHIONABLE

READY-MADE CLOTHING

ASTONISH THE WORLD!

Why is it that Lane is so popular?

WHY IS IT THAT THE GREAT MASS OF THE PEOPLE BUY THEIR GOODS AT

"L A N E'S?"

These are questions, the answers to which you will do well to remember.

1st. We do a strictly "CASH BUSINESS," buying and selling for "nett cash," thereby saving much from bad debts, and having great advantage in buying goods.

2d. We employ none but first-class artists in the cut and manufacture of our goods, thereby giving to the purchaser an elegant and tasty fit, combined with great durability.

3d. We always keep a very large stock, and you are sure to find garments suited to your taste and pocket.

4th. Our corps of salesmen are all gentlemen, and you have no fear of being abused if you do not purchase; but on the contrary, take great pleasure in showing strangers over our immense establishment.

5th. We invite strangers who are making purchases in the city, to make our store their headquarters, and send any bundle or package there for safe keeping.

Local.

☞ It will be seen by our advertising columns, that a portion of Exchange Wharf, at the foot of Deer street, is to be sold at auction at twelve o'clock to-day. The recent connection of the Railroad from the North with Rindge's Wharf, has already given an impetus to business on the wharves, and the prospect is that business of this description will materially increase on our river. We expect at no distant day to see the railroad tracks either extended to wharves south of Rindge's Wharf, or to new wharves on Noble's Island.

The sale to-day, we are told, is peremptory, being under license from the Court of Probate. We trust that some shrewd business man will be found who will purchase this property, and restore the former busy aspect it were under its late part owner and occupant.

Messrs. Editors:—A lamp-post is very much needed on the corner of Congress and Chestnut streets. Those having occasion to pass up Congress street on a dark night will readily notice it. And it is still more needed in Chestnut street. Who will make a move in the matter?

HOMO.

NEW WOOLEN MILL.—The North Berwick company are rebuilding their woolen mill at North Berwick. The old mill was burned the second day of last November.—The new mill is to be 120 feet long and 41 wide, and three stories high. The new structure will be a decided improvement upon the old. It is to be made of brick; and machinery with all the modern improvements will be put into it. The Company intend to have the mill ready for operation as soon as next October or November.

☞ The N. Y. World denies that it has passed into new hands, and declares that it never will appear as a "Democratic" or any other sort of "organ."

☞ Wednesday next is the day fixed for the launchof the iron frigate building at Philadelphia. It will carry a "ram" upon the bows.

☞ Gen. Smith, who was charged with drunkenness on the day of Lee's Mills battle, has asked for a court of inquiry, which has been granted.

☞ The Maine Evangelist has been discontinued, and the Christian Mirror is the only Orthodox Congregational paper now published in that State.

☞ By the America at Halifax, we have two days' later news. The experiments on iron plates are still going on, both in France and England.

☞ "Webster's Menagerie" is the name applied to Col. Fletcher Webster's Regiment by the soldiers.

☞ Barey is to tame horses for the amusement of the citizens of Boston, commencing on Monday evening next.

☞ Radetzski, the murderer of Sigismund Fellner, the German diamond-merchant, has been arrested at St. Louis.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, on Thursday, the confiscation bill was considered. In the House, nothing of interest was done.

IMMORTELLES.

THE RHODORA.

In May, when sea-winds pierced our solitudes,
I found the fresh Rhodora in the woods,
Spreading its leafless blooms in a stagny nook,
To please the desert and the sluggish brook.
The purple petals, fallen in the pool,
Made the black water with their beauty gay;
Here might the red-bird come his plumes to cool,
And court the flower that cheapens his array.
Rhodora! if the sages ask thee why
This charm is wasted on the earth and sky,
Tell them, dear, that if eyes were made for seeing,
Then beauty is its own excuse for being:
Why thou wert there, O rival of the rose!
I never thought to ask, I never knew;
But, in my simple ignorance suppose,
The self-same Power that brought me there bro't you.

HARMONY.

Ellsoons they heard a most melodious sound
Of all that mote delight a daintly ear,
Such as at once might not on living ground
Save in this paradise, be heard elsewhere.
Right hard was it for wight that did it hear
To read what manner music that mote be;
For all that pleasing is to living care
Was there consorted in one harmonie,
Birds, voices, instruments, winds, waters,—all agree.
The joyous birds shrouded in cheerful shade,
Their notes unto the voice attemp'red sweet,
The angel call soft trembling voyces made
To the instruments divine respondence meet:
The silver sounding instruments did meet
With the base murmurs of the water's fall;
The water's fall, with diffidence discreet,
Now soft, now loud, unto the wind did call.
The gently warbling wind lowe answering to all.

—Spenser.

EROS.

The sense of the world is short,
Long and various the report
To love and be beloved.
Men and gods have not outlearned it,
And, how oft soe'er they've turned it,
'Tis not to be improved.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 21, 1861.

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, your obedt. servt.,
WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least, and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a hankerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and shall cheerfully give up the thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Morning Chronicle.

SENSIBLE AND DIMITY.—Jane Eliza, a very pretty and interesting young lady of eighteen summers and seventeen winters—from the country—stepped into ——'s gallery a few days since, to get a dozen album cards. She was accompanied by a male cousin who "knows the ropes." After being gracefully posed, and the urbane operator took a look at her through the instrument, when Jane Eliza blushed, patted her dress down so as to make it touch the floor all round, and whispered her escort to approach. He came near, when she whispered anxiously:

"Dont let that ugly horrid man look at me through that thing; please make him stop."

"Why not?" asked 'Gus.

I dont like to tell you," she blushingly answered.

"Oh, I must insist on knowing," said he.

"Well," she replied, "if I must tell you, (lowering her voice awfully), it will turn me upside down,"

Our city friend the cousin, smiled—he couldn't help it—and told her he thought she must be mistaken.

"Oh, no," said she, Mr. M—— is an engineer, and when he surveyed the railroad last summer, he stopped at Pa's ever so long, and he told us that if you looked through one of those glasses the object—thats what he said—was turned upside down. He is a very scientific man and ought to know, you know."

Our friend assured her that he would not have her upset if he could help it, and that Mr —— 's representatives (who had been watching the mysterious conference with some interest) that the young lady thought he might now proceed to "take her" without any further preparation, and she was accordingly "took."

☞ By some chance the rebels left a saw-mill near Yorktown, in good running order. A company from one of the Maine regiments are running the mill now, and furnishing the army with large quantities of lumber, which comes very acceptable at the present time.

We have heard that Dr. Russell is thoroughly tired of his duties in America as special correspondent of the Times, and that he is to be succeded by Dr. Mackay (Charles Mackay, the poet) who sailed from Liverpool for New York a few weeks since. Dr. Russell and the American people cannot understand each other. Dr. Mackay may manage better.—European Times.

☞ It is reported that the N. Y. World has changed hands, and is to become the special organ of the pro slavery Democracy of New York City.

ADVERTISE!

Advertise!

IT IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be gained into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him there, and he has long experience between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, unnaturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever falling of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some has been unsuccessful advertising when business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business sense thus to curtail advertising at a time when it is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Other men do their best when advertisers occupy hand I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their hooks out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its proper by the manner in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the right way in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and then leave off because it is supposed advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

Advertising Agency

—OF—

S. R. NILES,

1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston,

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canada, for which he is the duly appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, comparative value of papers and districts, are respectfully invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr4 tf S. R. NILES.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting to the unfortunate the remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the region of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, (painful) Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the Digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr1—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the skill of the proprietress, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other Foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not incomparably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and the exception is with no mistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.
The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:
His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Cankers in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1 00.
CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaints, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.
RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.
His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.
His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.
COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.
EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others afflicted that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it."
Rev. EDWIN BURGESS.
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1204

RICHARDS' NEW BOOT BLACKING.
This splendid compound is truly unrivaled in this or any other country for its shining quality and nutritious elements for leather, giving the boot an elegant yet black polish, quick and clean: an oil compound, rendering the leather soft and easy to the foot; and more effectual in preserving wet than dry in the box. Try it, Gentlemen, and you will be pleased with it.

MONDAY, MAY 5, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The following are the official figures of our loss at the battle of Pittsburg Landing: Killed 1735, wounded 7882, missing 4044. The total killed, wounded and missing is 13,661. About 30 of the wounded have since died. Our burial parties report between 2500 and 3000 rebels found dead on the field.

Gen. Burnside's official dispatches confirm the report of the capture of Fort Macon. The fort surrendered on Friday evening, and all the stores and ammunition, the latter in large quantities, were captured.—The fort was garrisoned immediately by Union troops. Only one man was killed on our side. The enemy lost 7.

Memphis papers of the 29th say that at a meeting there it was concluded to burn the city in case of the approach of the Federal fleet. The papers urgently call on the people to reinforce Price at Fort Wright as the only hope and salvation of the city.

The Cairo correspondent of the Chicago Tribune telegraphs (with the approval of Gen. Strong) that the consolidated morning report of Gen. Halleck's army last Saturday, showed 166,000 effective men.

A dispatch from Cairo, April 2, says:—From the fleet we learn of the capture of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and the Confederate arsenal.

On Friday morning, at Yorktown, our No. 1 battery of 100 and 200 pounder Parrotts was brought to bear upon the only gun which has given us any trouble, our shots falling over and around it with every prospect of its being dismounted very soon, when on its 22d discharge the enemy's gun burst in pieces, tearing up the parapet and making havoc with the crowd around it.

A dispatch in the Richmond Examiner, dated Savannah, April 22, is as follows:—The post bill from Tampa, Florida, has the following announcement endorsed on it:—"The commander of the blockading fleet, within two miles of Tampa, has sent a boat here and ordered the town to surrender or be bombarded. Major Thomas replied:—Come and take it; I shall not surrender."

The report that Gen. McDowell has crossed the Rapp hannock and occupied Fredericksburg is untrue. There is now telegraphic communication with him.

Dispatches dated May 2, from Gen. Halleck, say nothing about the reported evacuation of Corinth.

☞ The court of inquiry convened by Flag Officer Farragut, has suspended Capt. DeCamp from the command of the Iroquois.

Rebel accounts give the following:—The Union forces had been reinforced and were advancing on Corinth on the 29th. There was heavy skirmishing daily. Beauregard on the 28th was moving large bodies of troops southward, some by railroad and others on foot. A few had gone West. It was generally understood that he was evacuating, though he declined answering questions, saying Davis understood his movements. Purdy, Tenn., was evacuated by the rebels on the night previous, and subsequently burned. The Federal forces were advancing in that direction.

Rebel reports say Gen. Buckner is to be exchanged for Gen. Prentiss.

The stores in New Orleans were being emptied of sugar and molasses, which were thrown into the street and river. The city was to have been formally surrendered on the 26th, but the time was extended. Some of the Federal vessels had gone up the river. Seven rebel gunboats were fired, after being overpowered by our forces.

Gen. Lawton has formally communicated to the City Council of Savannah his determination never to surrender the city, and the Council have determined to sustain the General.

Our forces have taken a small battery of two guns near White Point, 22 miles from Charleston, S. C. The rebel Gen. Evans has sent a force to look after the Yankees.

FROM NORFOLK.—Three refugees from Norfolk report that Com. Tatnall received sealed orders on Monday and sailed, but on opening them on Elizabeth river, found that he was ordered to run the blockade and proceed to York river. He thereupon returned to Norfolk, and immediately resigned his commission, together with his chief officers.

Refugees say that there are several hundred Union men in Norfolk, who are known to be such, and others who keep quiet, including many of the soldiers. Three companies at Portsmouth rebelled and stacked their arms a few days since. It is also reported that a portion of Gen. Magruder's forces had mutinied at Williamsburg. A torpedo has been constructed at Norfolk whether recently or not is not stated, to be managed under water by one man and propelled by him under the vessel to be destroyed. It is said to be five or six feet long.

☞ A Portland grocer informs the public by a placard in his window that he has "Cast steel soap" for sale.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Eighth Regiment of N. H. V., Col. Fearing, were, in a General Order issued by General Butler on the 22nd of March, assigned to a position at the right of the first brigade of the Department of the Gulf. He gave to the Regiment this place of honor on the looks of six companies, the four Cos. that sailed in the Eliza and Ella with Lieut. Col. Lull not arriving till about the 2d of April, having had a forty days' passage.

—— Mr. John F. Patten, formerly a teacher in this city, but now of Lynn, Mass., has declined the appointment he received as teacher in Manchester. He has been elected Principal of a Grammar School in Dedham, Mass., with a larger salary.

—— The Manchester American intended to mention an "elephantine bull" in Wolfborough, girting 3 1-2 feet and weighing 4000 pounds, but the compositor made a bull in stating that it was a bell.

—— Lewis Downing, Esq., a well-known coach-builder of Concord, has had in contemplation for some months a journey to California, but expressed a determination not to depart before he was satisfied the backbone of the rebellion was broken. He sailed on receipt of news that New Orleans was in Union hands. Mr. Downing is past 70 years of age.

—— A large company assembled, on Wednesday, April 23d, at the residence in Salisbury, of the mother of Hon. Joel Eastman, of Conway, to celebrate the completion of her hundredth year. There are in the same neighborhood Mrs. Moses Fellows, in her 100th year, and Mr. Daniel Fellows and wife, who are in their 95th; neither of them being able to attend the gathering.

—— The Statesman says Mr. Stephen W. Dearborn, who has been a somewhat famous Democratic politician in the region around Exeter, has embarked in the drug and paint trade in Boston.

POWDER MILL EXPLOSION.—Thursday afternoon, between five and six o'clock, an explosion took place at the Oriental powder mills, on the Presumpcot river at Gorham, and Windham, Me. The first explosion took place in the glazing mill on the Windham side. This was immediately followed by an explosion of a mill on the Gorham side of the river. Then followed in rapid succession, almost simultaneously, two more mills on the Gorham side, and four more on the Windham side, making eight mills in all, containing about 200 barrels of powder. It is impossible to account for the cause of the explosion. The glazing mill, where the first explosion took place, was considered one of the safest running mills in the Union. Fortunately, not a person was injured. About five minutes before the explosion, all the hands had left the mills to go to supper

DEATH OF A MOTHER AND CHILD.—A woman named Elizabeth Woodland, and her child, about 18 months old, were found dead in a water hogshead in the yard of her residence at the corner of Bay and Green streets, Cambridge, on Monday morning. The woman was of intemperate habits, and on Saturday evening was, with her infant, at the house of an acquaintance, in an intoxicated state, and left there about seven o'clock. Since eight o'clock nothing was known of her, and it is supposed that going to her house she fell backwards into the hogshead, with the child in her arms, and drowned in less than a foot deep of stagnant water. When found, the head of the child showed no signs of having been wet, as it lay on the body of the mother, but the other portion of it was in the water, and it undoubtedly died from exposure.

☞ The Maine Conference of the M. E. Church is being held at Portland, Bishop Butler presiding. On Thursday evening, Rev. R. W. Humphrisz, of this city, preached from 2d Corinthians, 3:18. Of his discourse the Argus says:—

"After an exposition of the chapter containing the text, the speaker announced as his first proposition: The sublime theme introduced by the Apostle, 'The glory of the Lord revealed—

"1st, in the book of Nature; 2d, in the book of Providence; 3d, in the sacred Oracles. But the particular glory here alluded to is the manifestation of it the in sacrifice made by Christ.

2d proposition—The wondrous truth affirmed, to wit: that we are changed from glory to glory—conversion—sanctification—eternal glory. The discourse was clothed in beautiful language, abounded in striking illustrations and was delivered in a very pleasing manner.

MATHEMATICAL PROBLEM. — Messrs. Editors.—I send you an extremely easy Algebraical problem which is chiefly interesting from its unexpected conditions. I have made it out of a puzzle I lately found.

A farmer who had a certain number of fowls, sent half of them to market in two lots of equal numbers, one of his best and the other of his poorest. The former he sold at two for a dollar and the latter at three for a dollar. Satisfied with the results, he sent the remainder and sold them at the same rate, that is at five for two dollars. But what was his surprise to find his returns just one dollar less than before!—How many fowls did he sell?

OTTERBANK.

REMOVAL.—Prof. I. F. Holton, correspondent, first of the Phenix, then of the Chronicle, and now of the Gazette, has removed to Alden, McHenry Co., Ill., on the Kenosha & Rockford Railway. This place is within the bounds of the congregation to which he has ministered since 1858. In the past year a Presbyterian Church has been organized at Alden, and steps are now taken for building a place of worship. Prof. Holton has relinquished and removed from the western portion of his former charge.

☞ The Gardiner, Me., Journal says that while lumbering on Dead River just before the close of the lumbering season, two men were cutting down a pine stub.—It was hollow and out came from the top a native American in the shape of a bear, and began to back down. As he came down stora foremost, plump in the snow, Mr. Rueben B. Pierce of Moscow cracked him over the head with his axe, and Bruin yielded up his life, the victim of "coe cion."

☞ Gen. Grant indignanly denies the charge that he was surprised by the enemy on their advance from Corinth to attack him at Pittsburg Landing. He asserts that if they had sent word that they were coming, the Federal army could not have been better prepared for battle. Under the new organization of Gen. Hallock's army, Gen. Grant acts as second in command.

☞ Brigham Young has just been inaugurated as Governor of the new State of Deseret, and Mr. Ashley's bill for the punishment of polygamy has passed the House of Representatives. Here is a conflict.

☞ Eleven Illnois regiments have voted on the new constitution of that State, and of the whole number of votes cast there were only sixty against it. This constitution denies the negro right of emigrating to, or citizenship in, the State.

☞ Our army in New Mexico have performed as gallant service as any the war has witnessed, and our officers and men there should be gratefully remembered. The Texans have been driven out, the forts and public property recovered, and the authority of the Government re established.

☞ In the U. S. Senate on Friday, nothing of interest was done. In the House, a bill granting additional powers in respect to the collection of duties on imports, to the Secretary of the Navy, was passed. A few private bills were acted on.

STEAM BOILER EXPLOSION.—Recent scientific experiments made in England, in reference to boiler explosions, show that if water boils gently for any considerable time, until it becomes deprived of all its air particles, and then be suddenly agitated, it will explode like gun-cotton.

☞ Stephen Girard's bequest to Philadelphia is in danger of being lost to the city. The Girard heirs have won a suit for eighty-five hundred acres of coal land in Mahoning Valley, Pa., and it is supposed that the decision in the case covers all of the property.

☞ Rev. Dr. E. H. Chapin's illness has assumed such a severe phase that he will probably cease preaching, and by the advice of his physician go to Europe, in which case it is his intention to remain abroad a year.

☞ Dr. John B. Alley of Boston, died on Tuesday last, at the age of 41 years.—He was widely known as Superintendent of the Boston Dispensary, and Secretary of the Massachusetts Medical Society.

☞ A Washington dispatch says vessels that go South, excepting in the employ of the Government, no matter what their cargo may be, will be seized and confiscated.

BOLD ROBBERY.—Between 11 and 12 o'clock on Thursday, a small trunk containing $700 cash was stolen from the desk in the office of the Parker House, Boston.

☞ The body of Gov. Harvey, of Wisconsin, who was recently drowned at Savannah, Tenn., has been found 40 miles below on the bank.

☞ The Senate has confirmed the appointment of Brigadier Generals Mitchell and Ord to be Major Generals of Volunteers.

☞ The report that a brother of Mrs. Lincoln was among the rebel slain at the battle of Pittsburg Landing, is contradicted.

☞ The Festival of the Sons of Temperance will be continued at Jefferson Hall this, Monday, evening, and will be found well worth attending. Admission 15 cents.

☞ Capt. Wilkes is quite ill at Washington.

The Best Manure.

The subscribers respectfully invite the attention of Farmers, Gardeners, and others interested in Agriculture, to a well known and widely used Fertilizer, called

POUDRETTE.

The base of this Fertilizer is night soil, deodorized by chemical agents, and prepared for use by mechanical means. The night-soil is obtained in Newburyport, from deep vaults, the accumulation in many cases of many years; so that it is highly concentrated.

Poudrette is not so concentrated as Guano and some other Fertilizers; therefore it can be used more freely, without hurtful results, as it will not prove injurious when put in direct contact with seeds. It may be used to advantage with corn, vines, around trees, at the time of hoeing, and for top dressing, in damp weather, when not exposed to the sun. It has a most excellent effect in giving a rapid start to the young plant, thus promoting a vigorous growth and an early maturity. For shrubs and potted plants it is invaluable.

A CAUTION has been thrown out in regard to buying dried stuff. This caution farmers would do well to heed. We mix no other ingredients with the night-soil but those absolutely required to remove the odor and fit it for use.

DIRECTIONS.—Put the Poudrette in the hill, in direct contact with the seed. A handful to a hill of Corn is sufficient. For Melons, Cucumbers, &c., a larger quantity will be required. Around Trees and Grape Vines, from three to four quarts may be used, to be dug into the soil.

warranted genuine. Made of the best materials, and in the most improved manner. It is commended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise; and those engaged in the manufacture and sale of it will continue their best endeavors to advance the reputation which it has already acquired, on its merit alone.

Farmers! Farmers!

Your attention is requested to the following UNSOLICITED recommendation of the

LODI MANUFACTURING CO'S

POUDRETTE.

DUNBARTON, N. H., May 1, 1862.

MR. SHORES,—Dear Sir:

Last year I sent to you for three barrels of Poudrette.

Upon two acres of land I spread about twenty loads of barn manure to the acre. Upon ten rows of corn I put hog manure, a shovel in a hill. Upon the next ten rows Poudrette, and then phosphate of lime upon ten—and thus through the field.

One load of hog manure went five rows of seventy hills;

A bag of Poudrette eighteen rows;

A bag of Phosphate of Lime sixteen rows, all of the same length.

The Corn upon which the Poudrette was spread was more in quantity and superior in quality to the other, and also proves it to be the cheapest.

I want six barrels for this year, and my neighbors want ten or fifteen barrels more.

Please write upon what terms you will furnish it. Yours, CHARLES HOLMES.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

In 1524 Thompson, the early settler at Little Harbor, having seen a very pleasant and fruitful island in the Massachusetts bay, which he preferred to his situation at Piscataqua, removed there in the spring, within a year after he began his former settlement. The General Court of the Massachusetts colony some time afterwards confirmed this island to him; and it has ever since been called after him, Thompson's island.

A ship arrived at Plymouth, which brought over three heifers and a bull.—These were the first neat cattle that were imported into New England.

Several merchants and adventurers belonging to Dorchester, in England, sent over some fishermen, with every thing necessary for carrying on the fishery, who made an establishment for that purpose: John Oldham and Roger Conant, who had left the Plymouth colony, were appointed overseers.

Captain Wollaston, with three or four persons of eminence and thirty laborers, began a settlement on Massachusetts bay, in 1625, at a place since called Braintree: the southerly part being mountainous, they called it Mount Wollaston. This year King James I. died,—and Charles I. succeeded to the English crown.

Captain Wollaston did not remain more than a year on his plantation. It did not answer his expectation, and he removed in 1626 with the greater part of his assistants and servants to Virginia. Thomas Morton and several others remained behind. In the fall, Mr. Conant removed from Cape Ann to Naumkeag (Salem) and settled on a fruitful and pleasant neck of land. A number of planters made a settlement at Winnisimmet, and several others were begun along the coast between Piscataqua and Plymouth. A neighborly intercourse was kept up among them; and the natives had remained peaceable and friendly since the Europeans arrived there.

Morton and his companions at Mount Wollaston acquired considerable property by trading with the natives; but being under no restraint, they became very dissolute; they changed the name of their residence to Merry Mount, and in 1627 erected a May pole there, around which they had indecent dances and revelings.

Thomas Morton had collected around him a number of runaway servants and disorderly persons, who were unwilling to submit to regular government. This company were formidable to their neighbors on account of their irregular conduct. They were likewise in the habit of supplying the Indians with guns and ammunition, under the pretence of employing them in hunting. The people were alarmed when they found the savages furnished with fire arms, and adroit in using them. The principal settlers at Piscataqua, Naumkeag, Winnisimmet and other places, met and agreed to solicit the colony of Plymouth, which was more powerful than all the rest, to join in suppressing Morton and his company before they did further mischief. The Governor accordingly sent a party under Captain Standish, in 1628, to put a stop to this unlawful and irregular conduct. They seized Morton and confined him; and dispersed the most disorderly of his adherents. They afterwards sent Morton a prisoner to England, by the first ship which sailed for that country.

Messrs. Editors:—I notice that a correspondent suggests the long needed want of a lamp post at corner of Chestnut and Congress streets. Would it not be a good idea to light on dark stormy nights (even if the almanac does say there is a moon,) some of the gas lights already located, or else import from Exeter some of the lightning-bugs spoken of in the News Letter as a substitute for gas.

Our whole street lighting arrangements are poorly conducted. The Gas Light Co. should for a fixed rate furnish the gas, light and extinguish it, and keep the posts, &c., in order. This may not be satisfactory to the seekers after city patronage, but it is the only reliable mode of securing light when needed, at the cheapest price to the city. S.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—One-eighth of Exchange wharf and buildings was sold at auction by Maj. William H. Hackett, on Saturday, for $605, to Mr. William Martin.

One third of wooden store at the head of the wharf and fronting on Market street, was sold to Wm. D. Fernald for the sum of $135.

☞ The wooden building at Martin's Mast Yard on Green Street, was somewhat damaged by fire early on Sunday evening, and the machinery contained in it received severe injury from the salt water thrown upon it.

MR. MEINERTH'S

SONG FOR MAY.

It is May! it is May!
And all earth is gay,
For at last old Winter is quite away;
He lingered a while in his cloak of snow,
To see the delicate primrose blow;
He saw it, and made no longer stay—
And now it is May! it is May!

It is May! it is May!
And we bless the day
When we first delightfully so can say.
April had beams amid her showers,
Yet have we her gardens, and cold her bowers;
And her frown would blight, and her smile betray—
But now it is May! it is May!

It is May! it is May!
And the slenderest spray
Holds up a few leaves to the ripening ray;
And the birds sing fearlessly out on high,
For there is no fowler to pierce the sky;
And the villagers join their roundelay—
For, O! it is May! it is May!

It is May! it is May!
And the flowers obey
The beams which alone are more bright than they;
Up they spring at the touch of the sun,
And opening their sweet eyes, one by one,
In a language of beauty they seem all to say—
And of perfume—'Tis May! it is May!

It is May! it is May!
And delights, that lay
Child'd and enchain'd beneath Winter's sway,
Break forth again o'er the kindling soul,
And soften, soothe it, and bless it whole;
Oh! thoughts more tender than words convey,
Sigh out—it is May! it is May!

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:
Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, KY., July 31, 1861.

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others:
Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of Copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,
I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and WM. T. CUTTER, JR., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

A "WORD" FROM THE FAMOUS
"LANE,"
WHOSE BARGAINS IN GOOD, DURABLE, AND FASHIONABLE
READY-MADE CLOTHING
ASTONISH THE WORLD!

Why is it that Lane is so popular?

WHY IS IT THAT THE GREAT MASS OF THE PEOPLE BUY THEIR GOODS AT "LANE'S?"

These are questions, the answers to which you will do well to remember.

1st. We do a strictly "CASH BUSINESS," buying and selling for "nett cash," thereby saving much from bad debts, and having great advantage in buying goods.

2d. We employ none but first-class artists in the cut and manufacture of our goods, thereby giving to the purchaser an elegant and tasty fit, combined with great durability.

3d. We always keep a very large stock and you are sure to find garments suited to your taste and pocket.

4th. Our corps of salesmen are all gentlemen, and you have no fear of being abused if you do not purchase; but on the contrary, take great pleasure in showing strangers over our immense establishment.

5th. We invite strangers who are making purchases in the city, to make our store their headquarters, and send any bundle or package there for safe keeping.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of twisting or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, larger than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merits; and the purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded and the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Morning Chronicle.

COMMODORE PAULDING'S DEFENCE.—Com're Paulding has published a letter explaining his failure to save the public property at Norfolk. He states that when he left Washington in the steamer Pawnee he was enjoined by the President to return with the least possible delay, as the steamer was greatly needed for the defence of Washington. When he arrived at Norfolk he found to his great surprise that the ships he had been sent to remove had been scuttled, and were so far filled with water that they could not be saved. They had been scuttled two hours after his arrival at Fortress Monroe, and the great shears of the Yard cut away—just about the time that information could have been conveyed to the Navy Yard of his arrival at Fortress Monroe, which is not the least remarkable part of the transaction.

One principal object of this visit was thus defeated. He found that the rebels were filling up the channel so that it was dangerous to remain with the Cumberland and Pawnee, and as there was no prospect of further aid from the Government, and he was under instructions to return to Washington as speedily as possible, he determined to destroy the public property, which there appeared to be no prospect of ultimately saving, and he acted accordingly. —Boston Courier.

Advertise!

IT IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all and affords the same by means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither selected the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon the statements and merits thereof. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the place at which they may be supplied, is natural and established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the business and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise. But the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that the economy of a good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to cram and push, who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me better than any thing I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no fishes are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be ferreted from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgement, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The change may be so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is as constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes business without availing himself of its advantages.

Advertising Agency

—OF—

S. R. NILES,

1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston,

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canadas, for which he is the duly appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, as well as comparative value of papers and situations, are respectfully invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon on every occasion rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr4 tf S. R. NILES.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulceration, Pimples, all traces of the pains of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new physiological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person can rejoice in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, or more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such numbers are the proof of competence, while his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIX HUNDRED APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is fully endorsed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Cankers in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1 per bottle.

COMPOUND OF Dandelion, Spikenard and Bonesset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and varieties of acute and chronic gout, lumbago, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried, or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness or voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a reliable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Not every suffering preacher take a phial and try it."
REV. EDWIN BURGESS.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to Dr. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1y20

RICHARDS' NEW BOOT BLACKING.

This splendid compound is truly unrivaled in this or any other country for its shining quality and nutritious character, for fastening, giving the boot an elegant yet black polish, quick and clean: an oil compound, rendering the leather soft and easy to the foot, and for preserving the leather, will not dry in the box. Try it, Gentlemen, and you will be pleased with it.

TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The rebel steamer Isabel has been captured, while running for Charleston, S. C. She was laden with arms, ammunition, wines, cigars, and medicine. The rebel steamer Burmuda was captured on the 27th ult. Her cargo consisted of 42,000 pounds of powder, several field carriages, cannon, small arms, shells, saltpetre, saddles, ingots of tin, &c.

Gen. Paine's division of Gen. Pope's army made a reconnoissance near Farmington, Tenn., on Saturday. They found there a force of 4500 rebels whom they drove out and took possession of the town, killing 30, wounding many, and capturing some prisoners, their tents, camp equipage, &c. At dark our cavalry was in pursuit of their artillery and baggage train beyond Farmington, in the direction of Corinth.

A part of Gen. Mitchell's army started from Bridgeport, Ala., May 1st, towards Chattanooga. The enemy were badly frightened, and began removing their property to Atalanta. Our advance burned a saltpetre factory. Another party advanced to Jasper; and on the same day a skirmish with the enemy's cavalry at Athens, drove the enemy towards Florence.

Gen Canby has again defeated the Texans in New Mexico, and as he has surrounded them, it is said their whole command will probably be taken prisoners; otherwise they must flee to the mountains, where the Indians await them.

The Merrimac appeared off Sewall's Point on Sunday soon, but made no hostile demonstration. It was thought she was intended to prevent any expedition up the James river to cut off the retreat from Yorktown. She remained out until four o'clock, and then disappeared behind Sewall's Point. Since her last appearance she has had a ram twenty feet long added to her.

A dispatch to the N. Y. Times states that 10,000 rebels were sent to reinforce an army from Richmond, to oppose Gen. McDowell's advance, a week from Thursday last.

EVACUATION OF YORKTOWN.

Yorktown was evacuated by the rebels on Saturday night. Deserters state the order was given by Gen. Johnston on Thursday, to commence the following morning. Gen. Magruder strenuously opposed the order. Gen. Robert E. Lee, the rebel Commander-in-Chief, arrived at Yorktown on Wednesday and immediately examined the works of Gen. McClellan, when he is supposed to have recommended the abandonment of the rebel works, declaring them untenable. Seventy-one pieces of heavy artillery have been left on their works, after being spiked, together with a large amount of ammunition, medical stores, camp equipage and private property of their officers. A negro who was left in the town, states that the rebels threw a large amount of ordnance stores into the river to prevent its falling into our hands. At Gloucester point, which has been occupied, the guns and ordnance stores were also left. Immediately on the fact of the evacuation becoming known, the troops were ordered under arms, and advanced. Gen. Jameson and Col. Samuel Black were the first to enter the enemy's main works.—The only casualty that occurred was the killing of two men and wounding of three by the explosion of a concealed shell within the enemy's works. They belong to Co. A, 40th N. Y. regiment. The works are very extensive and show that they were designed by scientific engineers. The gunboats also passed above Yorktown, shelling the shores on the way up.

Abundance of flour was left, also a large quantity of meat, salt and fresh. All the tents were left, but no horses or wagons.—

Reports concur that the rebel army consists of about 100,000 men, ill-fed, dirty and disheartened. The large guns of the rebels were mostly Columbiads, taken from Norfolk. Some of them were recently mounted. The fortifications, although of the roughest character, were very formidable, being surrounded by deep gorges, which it was almost impossible to pass.

Gen. McClellan telegraphed at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, that our cavalry and horse artillery came up with the enemy's rear guard in their entrenchments, two miles this side of Williamsburg. A brisk fight ensued. The enemy's rear is strong, but he had force enough there to answer all purposes. The rebel works all along the line proved most formidable, and Gen. McClellan was now fully satisfied of the correctness of the course he had pursued.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

LETTER FROM ILLINOIS.

Dear Gazette:—It may seem whimsical to you, but a loss of the use of my fountain pens, both of which happen at once to be in New York for repairs, has not only delayed sundry important epistles of my "better half," but has actually deprived the oldest newspaper this side of the Atlantic, of the little benefit they might have derived from their scratches. But now I have an errand to you, and mustering all my patience I have filled a small phial with ink, and seized on an old goose quill, and feel as if I had got back unto slow old times.

Northern Illinois has just passed through her annual crisis. Our almost only staple is spring wheat. This runs the gauntlet every year of various enemies, of which the chinch-bug is an example. Chincke is Spanish for cimex lectularius, and that fetid, long-lived, blood-thirsty enemy of nocturnal repose is called in sucker parlance the chinch. But our pest, though resembling this in smell, is of a different genus.—I conjecture its scientific name to be Anthocoprus Chincke. It is a vegetarian that survives the winter in a winged state, and as soon as warm dry weather comes on, multiplies at such a rate that the offspring of one may soon become fifty thousand.

Now if this multiplication commences when the wheat is well advanced, as in a showery summer after an early spring, they cannot become so numerous as to affect the crop. But let the rains keep a field from being sown until the middle of May, and let our annual dry season commence early and the filthy creature will populate every stalk densely and, when the wheat becomes too hard and dry, will travel root after root in an adjoining field of maize.

So the farmer seeks the earliest varieties of wheat and sows as early as he can. In autumn he plows all he can, and in spring watches eagerly the drying earth. Some succeeded in sowing this year as early as April 8th. But then came daily showers and ever-deepening mud till all faces gathered blackness. But the sky again cleared so that sowing was resumed on April 21st, but each day of delay was counted as a loss of a million to this region though we have still good grounds for a hope of a medium crop at worst, though there are other enemies of the crop that have profited by the delay just as the chinck does.

Illinois is pouring out a greater portion of its best blood for the Union than any other State, except, it may be, Kansas.—Three things we mostly count settled here: First, that the property of rebels should be held to satisfy all the expenses of the war so far as it shall go. But that their slaves seized to satisfy this claim ought not to be sold, but liberated and their appraised value drawn from the Treasury.

Second: that a seceded State is no longer a State, but is still United States territory, and ought to be governed as such.

Third: that the preservation of slavery is no part of the duty of our army and navy.

And to this I am almost disposed to add that those politicians who are resolved that such states as South Carolina shall not forfeit their electoral colleges nor their representation in Congress, are at heart traitors who would sell the dearest interests of the nation for party triumphs. I. F. H

☞ By a business circular from the chief agents for the Chronicle and Gazette, in New York city, Messrs. S. M. Pettingill & Co., (who also have an office in Boston) we learn that they have removed their New York office from Nassau Street, to the more eligible premises No. 37 Park Row, corner of Beekman Street, fronting the Park and City Hall, and have fitted up their new office with due reference to the wants of Editors, Publishers and Printers visiting the city, and desire them to consider it as their headquarters. And among other things they have improved this occasion to say:—

"The ruinous competition to which honest, responsible advertisers are subjected by a large and constantly growing class of non-paying irresponsible advertisers, who have not, for the most part, even the merit of honest intentions, threatens to annihilate your legitimate and profitable patronage from this city. It is in the power of the publishers throughout the country, to correct this abuse; they alone can do so. The remedy is simple and obvious—to utterly refuse all offers of advertisements from parties of whose responsibility you are not fully assured."

Good, so; and we have done it for years. And one thing more, and better, we have done—which is, to offer all inducement for our patrons in Boston and New York to send their favors through responsible Advertising Agents, rather than forward them direct to us themselves.

And now we shall "improve this occasion" to say again, that we have had considerable business dealings with S. M. Pettingill & Co., both in Boston and New York, for ten years, and have always found them liberal, prompt, accurate and accommodating—evidently aware that their own interests as the medium between advertisers and paper publishers, is best promoted by the strictest fair dealing and watchfulness for the interests of both.

DO YOU REMEMBER, MARY, DEAR?

BY MARIAN DOUGLAS.

Do you remember, Mary dear,
As you pass through the porch,
A good, old country couple in
The first pew of the church?

He walks on crutches, as he comes
Adown the dusty way;
His wears a queer old bonnet—he
A coat of homespun grey.

She always brings with her a sprig
Of lavender or sage;
They read the church responses in
The broken tones of age.

'Tis said their early life was like
Some strange and wild romance:
His heart the eagle's courage shared,
His eye the eagle's glance.

And she, ah! who could dream it now!
Was beautiful and fair,
With radiant eyes and ruby lips,
And sunny waves of hair.

She stood amid the maiden throng,
The lovely and the good,
As, 'mid the beauties of the East,
The Jewish Esther stood.

They love as few e'er love on earth—
(You smile, and look away;
You're thinking of her bonnet, and
His coat of homespun grey.)

They loved as few e'er love on earth,
With undivided heart;
But there are spirits stern and cold,
And they were forced to part.

The maiden sighed for him she loved,
And grew as slight, as pale,
As beautiful as shadows make
The lily of the vale.

She sighed by day and wept by night—
(You should not be so gay;
You're thinking of her bonnet, and
His coat of homespun grey.)

But, one night, when the flowery bells
Swung on each airy stalk,
A form, as noiseless as the breeze,
Passed down the garden walk.

Passed down the garden walk, but paused
Before the door of state;
She knew who, 'mid the linsen trees,
Had promised he would wait.

They hastened through the dewy fields,
And, with the rising sun,
A bridal ring gleamed on her hand;
Those two wild hearts were one!

They have known joys and griefs, since first
They were so wildly wed;
The cherished home, God gave them, all
Are numbered with the dead.

And now, they live alone, and watch
The swift years glide away.
She wears that queer old bonnet, he
That coat of home-spun gray.

And sometimes, as I watch them, in
Their wide, old-fashioned pew,
I think how time will deal with me,
How it may deal with you.

A few short years, and we no more
Shall be thus young and fair;
You'll wear some queer old bonnet; I,
Some coat of homespun grey.

But oh! whatever trials come,
Whatever sorrows fall,
Though grace and joy with youth depart,
Yet love shall live through all!

DESTITUTION AND SUICIDE.—A respectably dressed young man, supposed to be connected with wealthy relatives, registered himself at the New England Hotel, New York, as Wm. Aiken, late on Thursday night; and on Friday was found dead in his bed, having committed suicide with laudanum. The coroner's inquest on Friday evening, revealed the fact that he had paid his last cent for his lodging, and that sheer destitution led him to take his own life.

☞ In the S. J. Court at Auburn, Me., a case was given to the jury on Wednesday evening, with instructions to seal up their verdict in case of agreement. At 9 o'clock the foreman presented the officer with a sealed envelope, saying that they had agreed. Thursday morning, the foreman on being inquired of by the Court, said they had agreed not to agree, which the Court pronounced an evasion; and fined the foreman $5 and the officer $10.—The Court further ordered that the jury be dismissed from further attendance this term

FORGERY.—"A "fast" young man in East Longmeadow, Ms., forged his father's name upon the back of two promissory notes, and thus indorsed the notes were discounted in Springfield—one of $300 at the Agawam bank and one of $200 at the Chicopee bank.

☞ A lad was sent to the Post Office in Portland on Saturday, for letters from one of the Maine soldiers to his family. On his way home he was met by a larger boy, who seized the letters and ran off with them.—It is supposed they contained remittances, and that the boy knew it.

☞ The Tribune's Washington correspondent says the wealthy citizens of Richmond, Va., are packing up their furniture and sending it into the country. An apparently intoxicated person, the past week, passing by the tobacco house where our soldiers are confined, cried out to them, "Cheer up, boys; McClellan or McDowell will be here in a few days!" The sentry shot him dead.

☞ Jeff. Davis' black coachman says Davis disapproved of the evacuation of Manassas, and Mrs. Davis thinks the Confederacy about played out. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have all their books, clothing and pictures packed up and are ready to skedaddle.

☞ Secretary Chase says the expenses of the war have been exaggerated, and he estimates the July debt at not more than $500,000,000.

The reported rebel gunboats at New Orleans, instead of being floating batteries, turn out to have been boating flatteries.

☞ See a woman, in another column picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

☞ Wanted the Daily Chronicle of Wednesday, March 26, 1862, to complete files.

One of the leading merchants in New York failed the other day for the want of $500. He held property at the time that in ordinary times would have brought $80,000. But he became deeply involved.—He raised every dollar that he could. He wanted five hundred more to save him.—He could not get it, so he went under.—Boston Post.

Fresh Beef & Vegetables for the Navy.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
Bureau of Provisions and Clothing,
Washington, April 5, 1862.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until THURSDAY, the fifth day of June, 1862, at noon, for the supply of such quantities of Fresh Beef and Vegetables as may be required on the Portsmouth, N. H., station, during the fiscal year commencing on the 1st day of July next, and ending on the 30th June, 1863.

Your attention is requested to the following UNSOLICITED testimonials of the

LODI MANUFACTURING CO'S

POUDRETTE.

DUNBARTON, N. H., May 1, 1862.

MR. SHORES,—Dear Sir:—

Last year I rent to you for three barrels of Poudrette.

Upon two acres of land I spread about twenty loads of barn manure to the acre. Upon ten rows of corn I put hog manure, a shovel in a hill. Upon other rows I used Poudrette, and the difference of lime upon ten—and thus through the field.

One load of hog manure went five rows of seventy hills.

A barrel of Poudrette eighteen rows;

A bag of Phosphate of Lime sixteen rows, all of the same length.

The Corn upon which the Poudrette was spread was more in quantity and superior in quality to the other, and also proved to be the cheapest.

I want six barrels for this year, and my neighbors want ten or fifteen barrels more.

I know write upon what terms you will furnish it. Yours, CHARLES HOLMES.

The Best Manure.

The subscribers respectfully invite the attention of Farmers, Gardeners, and others interested in Agriculture, to a well known and widely used Fertilizer, called

POUDRETTE.

The base of this Fertilizer is night soil, deodorized by chemical agents, and prepared for use by mechanical means. The night-soil is obtained in Newburyport, from cesspools, the accumulation in many cases of many years, so that it is highly concentrated.

Poudrette is not so concentrated as Guano and some other Fertilizers, therefore it can be used more freely, without hurtful results, as it will not prove injurious when put in direct contact with seeds. It may be used to advantage with corn, vines, around trees, at the time of hoeing, and for top dressing, in damp weather, when not exposed to the sun. It has a most excellent effect in giving a rapid start to the young plant, thus promoting a vigorous growth and an early maturity. For shrubs and potted plants it is invaluable.

A CAUTION has been thrown out in regard to buying dried mud. This caution farmers would do well to heed. We mix no other ingredients with the night-soil but those absolutely required to remove the odor and fit it for use.

DIRECTIONS.—Put the Poudrette in the hill, in direct contact with the seed. A handful to a hill of Corn is sufficient. For Melons, Cucumbers, &c., a larger quantity will be required. Around Trees and Grape Vines, from three to four quarts may be used, to be dug into the soil.

KEEP COOL.—ICE!

The subscriber, having on hand a large stock of PURE ICE from the well-known Beverly hill farm, will still continue in the business. Thanking his old friends for their kind patronage, he solicits a continuance of the same for the coming season.

All orders left with him or at his residence, No. 30 SOUTH STREET, will be promptly attended to. apr26 LANGDON M. PERKINS.

Local.

☞ It would seem that the fire at Messrs. Martin's mast and block yard, Sunday afternoon, must have been the work of an incendiary. The proprietors are sure no one was in the building for the day, the premises being locked—and it was evident the fire was set through a hole at the bottom of a door at the end of the building, where a piece of board had long been broken off.—The damage to building, belting, &c., is about $300; and there is no insurance.—The object for any incendiary, at that daylight hour, is not apparent. Had the fire been set in the night, a loss of many thousands must have ensued.

☞ We were indebted to Mrs. Geo. W. Plumer, on Monday forenoon, for a delicious 11 o'clock lunch—sent into our office—consisting of a plate of nice cream cakes, and a most "motherly slice" or section of rich fruit cake. Of course they came from the Plumer bread and pastry Bakery, the card of which will be found on our first page—and the work and praise of which is found in many people's mouths.

☞ The meteor, which was seen in this city on Wednesday evening last was also seen in Exeter. A writer in the News Letter thus speaks of it:—

"A few minutes past seven—while it was yet quit light,—I saw a very brilliant meteor shoot downward across the sky in an easterly direction, and disappear some 23 degrees above the horizon. The ball of fire increased in brilliancy as it descended, and must have been visible through an area of 60° at least. It was the size of a large rocket and evidently very near. The singularity consisted only in its presenting itself before "the stars were out," and in the changing of the color of the stream of light from palish to glowing red."

INTRODUCTION.—The Portsmouth Chronicle thinks very properly that the cities of Portsmouth and Manchester ought to be "introduced" to each other. That's what we have been wanting. An "opening" has been promised and Col. Gilmore is not apt to be slack in fulfilling his promises. We presume he is waiting for settled roads and the summer arrangements, which will come in a week or two. If the railroad does not give the "opening," the two cities must.—It must be opened both ways; Portsmouth people must come here, and our people must go there. We will have the "introduction."—Manchester Mirror.

☞ The Junior Exhibition at Harvard College is to be held to-day. Among the speakers we notice the name of "Samuel Cushman Haven, of Portsmouth,"—a Dissertation on the "Judicial corruption of Lord Bacon."

THE GALLANT FIRST MASS. REGIMENT.—Col. Cowdin's official report describes the brilliant affair in which Co. H, Capt. Carruth; Co. I, Capt. Chas. E. Rand, (formerly of Portsmouth,) and Co. A, Capt. Wild, captured and destroyed a lunette of the enemy, in front of Yorktown, which had greatly harassed our working parties.

After making all the arrangements for the attack, Lieut. Col. Welles ordered Co. H to take the redoubt at the point of the bayonet, and accompanied the storming party, which consisted of about seventy men. Two companies of Virginia infantry defended the work.

The men pressed forward with a cheer, and reserved their fire, although their comrades were falling around them, until the ditch in front of the lunette was reached, when they, in obedience to orders, poured in a volley, and, rushing through the ditch, mounted the parapet. Only one of the enemy remained to face our brave troops.—The structure, which had cost the enemy some trouble, was speedily levelled to the ground.

Capt. Rand's company was well handled. Company A was withdrawn in a masterly manner, under a very heavy fire of artillery, without losing a man.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Rev. G. D. Blodgett, from the West, has received a call from the Congregational church in New Market, to become their pastor. He is a son of Rev. C. Blodgett, D. D., one of the former pastors of the church.

—— The 4th N. H. regiment, at St. Augustine, Fla., publish a bit of a newspaper called the Examiner, about a third as large as the Chronicle. The price is five cents a copy.

—— The Claremont Eagle learns that there is a probability of an early resumption of business in the factories there.

☞ The body of Freddie Ham, son of Mr. S. F. Ham, of Winchester, Mass., who was drowned on the 16th ult., was found Saturday morning near Medford Pond, nearly one mile from the place where he was lost. He was two years and five months old.

☞ A notice from the Suffolk Bank, Boston, April 29, states that "the Secretary of the Treasury directs the Assistant Treasurer to refuse all mutilated notes;—referring the holders thereof to the Treasurer of the United States." Torn Bank-bills, we understand, are also refused by the banks.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

Drs. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. J. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The wringing of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and tears the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringer; Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use, FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific. It is highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

A D V E R T I S E !

Advertise!

IT IS THE

L I F E O F T R A D E!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to invest upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the place at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is conceded to be the right time, it is indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising, ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the most successful business advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or more fold in the total. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient, others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is as constantly increasing. No business house, or business man, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now perfected a mode of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Nervous Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings and the long train of terrible symptoms attending this class of diseases, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases called by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; Loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, Aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Young persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system, Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new physiological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints give yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M., at home, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part needs no recommendation, but I will add, to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 7, 1862.

YORKTOWN.—Gen. McClellan reports that the rebels abandoned in their works at Yorktown, two 8-inch rifled cannon, two 4 1-2 inch rifled cannon, sixteen 32-pounders, six 42 pounders, nineteen 8-inch Columbiads, four 9-inch Dahlgrens, one 10-inch Columbiad, one 10-inch mortar, and one 8-inch siege howitzer, with carriages and implements complete, each piece supplied with 76 rounds of ammunition. On the ramparts there are also four magazines, which had not been examined. This does not include the guns left at Gloucester Point and other works.

He also reports:—The success is brilliant, and you may rest assured its effects will be of the greatest importance. There shall be no delay in following up the enemy. The rebels have been guilty of the most murderous and barbarous conduct in placing torpedoes within the abandoned works, near Mills Springs, near the flag-staffs, magazines, telegraph offices, in carpet bags, barrels of flour, &c. Fortunately we have not lost many men in this manner. Some four or five have been killed and a dozen wounded. I shall make the prisoners remove them at their own peril.

☞ The Chicago Post states that in addition to the iron-clad gunboats of Com Foote's flotilla, there have been for some time in the course of building a fleet of eight steam rams, to be added to the Mississippi fleet. Six of them are on the stocks at Pittsburg; the others at St. Louis. They were formerly used as towboats, and are the best and strongest craft on the river.—The hulls and machinery are nearly new. The hulls are to be strengthened by additional bulkheads and solid beams of immense strength. The bows will be rendered almost a solid mass of timber and iron, and provided with a projecting ram. Two or three of these formidable vessels are already launched, and nearly ready for service. What armament they are to carry is not stated.

☞ An editorial in the Richmond Examiner of the 23d ult., denounces the rebel Secretary of War for deceiving the Southern people by asserting that a great victory had been gained over the National forces in the two days' fight at Pittsburg Landing. The editor states that all the evidence collected on the subject goes to show that the Confederates were badly defeated, and, as an evidence of the fact, he quotes Beauregard's own letter to Gen. Grant, the day after the battle, asking the latter, who was in possession of the field, for permission to bury his (Beauregard's) dead.

PHANTOMS.—Some men always suspect something wrong,—and often make themselves ridiculous by expressing their suspicions. Very recently, the U. S. Senate passed a bill recognizing Liberia and Hayti, independent nations, and offering to open diplomatic relations. Senator Sumner, who introduced the bill, made a short speech in its favor, showing the benefits it would confer on our commerce and foreign relations.

Senator Davis, of Kentucky, offered a substitute for the bill, and made a speech, which began as follows:—

"Mr. President, I am weary, sick, disgusted, despondent with the introduction of the subject of slaves and slavery into the Chamber."

Senator Sumner continued the debate, and began his reply by saying,—

"The Senate will bear me witness that in presenting this important question I made no allusion to the character of the population of the two republics. I made no appeal for them on account of their color.—I did not allude to the unhappy circumstance in their history, that they had once been slaves. It is the Senator from Kentucky who has introduced this subject into debate."

This was the simple fact; no one had said a word about slaves or slavery, blacks or whites, but Mr. Davis himself. He had seen a phantom, but it disappeared, and he said no more.

HARVARD COLLEGE.—The Boston Herald states that George B. Emerson, LL. D., is the gentleman nominated by the Fellows of Harvard University as successor of the late President Felton. It is understood that Hon. Robert C. Winthrop declined to have his name used in connection with the Presidency of the institution.

☞ While the crowd was passing out of Music Hall, Boston, on Monday evening, after Mr. Barey's lecture, a bold pick-pocket made an unsuccessful attempt to relieve Rev. Dr. Kirk of his watch. He thrust his hand under that gentleman's coat, and had nearly succeeded in taking his "ticker," when Dr. Kirk, who is a muscular man withal, seized the fellow and held him fast.

TALES OF THE DAY, for May, is published with an attractive table of contents. This publication must surely work its way into the public favor, as it certainly merits it. Boston: Wm. Carter & Brother. Price 25 cents per number.

THE REBELLION.

Our advance reached a point two and a half miles from Williamsburg, Sunday P.M., when rebel cavalry opposed their progress. A brisk fight ensued between the cavalry, supported by artillery, and often it was a hand-to-hand encounter, yet none of our men were taken prisoners, while about 25 of the rebels were taken. The rebel cavalry was forced to abandon their position, but want of infantry prevented our men from advancing on the enemy's works. Gen. Hancock's brigade soon after arrived, but it was deemed advisable to defer further operations until Monday. It had been ascertained that the enemy was still on the retreat beyond Williamsburg.

A refugee from Memphis bring the news of the occupation of Baton Rouge by the Federal forces, and the passage up the river of the gunboats. Gen. Butler's army had landed at New Orleans. An immense amount of cotton, sugar and other articles had been discovered and seized. The Union citizens had held a meeting, which was attended by numbers, who indulged in the most enthusiastic demonstrations of joy.

A bridge has been thrown across the Rappahannock by means of canal boats, on which troops can cross at pleasure. Our forces now occupy Fredericksburg, and the rebel pickets have fallen back.

At the affair in Farmington on Saturday, Gen. Pope took between 200 and 300 prisoners, also tents, camp equipage, 4 pieces of artillery and several hundred muskets.

A dispatch from Fortress Monroe, May 5, says it is stated that Gen. McClellan's advance is beyond Williamsburg, and our gunboats are at West Point, having on their way captured or destroyed many rebel transports. A report was current of the capture of a large number of prisoners. A force was landed at West Point, and destroyed a Railroad bridge leading to Richmond.

On Sunday afternoon the crew of a rebel schooner, which had come down James river from Richmond, intentionally ran her ashore near Newport News, and taking to the boats reached our lines. She was laden with 60 tons of coal for the Merrimac; several of our boats were sent to tow her off, but being unable to do so, they burnt her. The Merrimac was in sight, but did not attempt to interfere.

Among the rebel prisoners taken in the pursuit at Yorktown is the Chief of Engineers on Gen. Johnston's staff. He says their army at Yorktown amounted to 85,000 men,—and will be unable to make a stand anywhere this side of Richmond.

Late accounts state that Gen. McClellans is with the advance, and was supposed to be before Williamsburg. There had been some brisk fighting there, in which Gen. Hancock had taken two redoubts, and had repulsed a rebel brigade by a brilliant bayonet charge.

Early on Monday morning, Gen. Dumont, with a cavalry force, attacked 800 of Col. Morgan's rebel cavalry at Lebanon, Tenn., and utterly routed them. Many were killed and 159 prisoners were taken, together with nearly all their horses. They fled after fighting an hour and a half. Gen. Dumont was in full pursuit, and, it is claimed, would capture their whole force. Morgan is reported killed.

☞ Ship Emily St. Pierre, captured some time since by our blockading fleet, and ordered to Philadelphia, was subsequently captured by the rebel Captain, Wilson, who by strategem made prisoners of all the prize crew and the prize master. The vessel arrived at Liverpool on the 21st, Capt. Wilson being assisted in navigating her by only three or four, who, with himself, were allowed to remain on board by the cruiser which had captured her.

☞ The Times' correspondent at Washington says:—

"The friends of Gen. McClellan are fully satisfied with the bloodless victory over Yorktown, the strongest position of the rebels in the South, and expect to see him march his great army, by easy stages, into Richmond, dispersing or capturing the Government of Jeff Davis, and ending the rebellion before the month expires.

"One of the first results of the enemy's retreat towards Richmond, will be the fall of Norfolk and the recovery of the Navy Yard. The Merrimac must now be considered a failure, as she cannot go sea, nor balk the advance of our army by water to Richmond. She will revert to the United States Government."

We have plenty of gentlemen in Bath who personally know Mayor Monroe, of New Orleans. He is, we are assured, a bull-headed, ignorant, bustering man, a stevedore by vocation, entirely incapable of writing such a communication as that addressed by him to Flag Officer Farragut. He recently had a clerk who was a Bath-born boy. We hope he did not write the insulting missive.—Bath Times.

☞ The Herald's dispatch says the Administration is fully satisfied that the road to Richmond is opened, and that the rebel army of the East is utterly routed.

——Water Gas has been introduced and is in successful operation, in Laconia.

☞ We learn that Mr. John B. Gough to lecture in this city on the 20th inst.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

LETTER FROM ILLINOIS.

[Concluded.]

But enough of this. I wish if possible never to send you a letter without some line of commendation or censure that shall be of ultimate service to the purchasers of books. I select for my present theme "Appleton's Cyclopædia."

I was at a friend's some time since, and seeing a goodly row of these octavos I mentally resolved that I would one day own a copy. My friend was professionally engaged and I thought I would spend an hour in adding to my stock of knowledge. I do not understand the Caloric Engine, and I resolved to try to study it out. It was not there. I looked further and found that there were no engravings in the whole work! Wondering how such a work could answer the demands of science, I turned to Botany. I did not read the whole article, and am confident that, since the proof-reader, no man ever has; nor will it ever be read through from any ordinary motives. But to the botanist that article furnishes grounds for amusement. Of two things I am confident: that it was written in the Astor Library, and that no botanist ever had a hand in it. Numerous and very curious blunders attested at once to good scholarship and innocence of botany. I now recollect but one of the host, but would quote no more had I the book in reach. The grass-leaved water-ferns, hydropterides, are called water wings, because the author did not happen to know that the Greek word that means wing means also a fern.

Disgusted with its science, I looked at its biography. Here it was rich indeed: far too prolix in its principal articles for a biographical dictionary or encyclopedia. Suspecting the same in the geographical articles, and a verification of this being easier, I closed my examination with this. I found such articles as Boston, London and Paris, ably written by men of competent knowledge; but all such articles were of immense length. Minor places in lands little known seemed to have been lumped off to some man who would skim off from books of travel enough to answer the turn. I turned to various places in New Granada which few or no English or American authors had ever visited. I turned to some of those mentioned in Holton's New Granada, page 513, as "unknown to us," and found most of them omitted or quite erroneously described. Those on the coast were more correctly represented, and in one instance the account proved whimsically correct where I was sure it was wrong. It is stated that two wooden bridges lead from Cartajena to the mainland. As there is hardly a decent wooden bridge in all that country, I set this down as a blunder, but on page 46 of the work above mentioned, we learn that the exit from this fortified city is by a drawbridge, and of this we may well suppose the draw to be of wood.

But enough of examples: my conclusion is that this work is not a true encyclopedia, nor any worthy successor to Rees' or the Edinburgh. Great are its literary merits no doubt, but the work we yet lack will give but one quarto page to the life of Washington or Lafayette, while no art or science shall be left without its epitome, illustrated by every engraving that the space will admit of. We need one in which all alphabetical arrangement shall be left to the index, while the body of the work shall consist of one vast series of connected essays, exhausting the whole sum of human knowledge so far as that can be done within the limits of volumes to be sold for $100. But the exact limits where details shall stop in each branch, is what some master mind shall determine and all collaborators shall observe.

By way of postscript I will add that Mr. Prince has sent back those invaluable fountain pens, each as good as new, and as the consequence I can afford you two more short articles with so little labor that I cannot refrain. But I am sorry that the first use I must make of the beautiful instrument I am now wielding, has been in the above lines a disservice to most estimable publishers to whom I owe much good will, and in pointing out deficiencies in their most favorite work.

Yours truly, I. F. H.

Alden, Ill., May 1.

☞ In a late order of Gen. McClellan, issued on approving of the condemnation by Court Martial of an officer for intoxication, he remarks that "it would be worth 50,000 men to an army, for the officers to set the example to their men of total abstinence from intoxicating drinks. No one evil agent so much obstructs this army in its progress, as the degrading vice of drunkenness."

☞ The wife of an Illinois volunteer has been commissioned a Major by the State Governor. She has followed her husband into battle after battle, and amid the flying balls attended upon the dying and wounded soldiers on the gory field.

☞ See a woman, in another column picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

☞ Hon. John M. Botts has been released from his imprisonment in Richmond, by the Court of Inquiry that examined the charge of disloyalty preferred against him, on condition that after being permitted to go to his residence in Henrico, he shall, with all convenient speed, prepare to remove to a location further South, and when the place selected as a residence is indicated by him, it must be approved by the rebel War Department.

☞ The Senate has confirmed the nomination of J. Napoleon Seirman as Brigadier General of volunteers. He was formerly on General Fremont's staff, and will now be attached to Gen. Hunter's command. He is by birth an Italian. His history is romantic and eventful, he having been in many of the principal battles of Europe for the last 50 years, and is a banished Austrian subject. Though 70 years of age he appears to be not more than 50, and is justly regarded as an efficient officer.

☞ Government is buying up all the mosquito nets, and the price went up 100 per cent last week. Probably they are for the Northern soldiers down South.

☞ Barey is taming vicious horses at the Boston Music Hall. He ought to be called anti-rear-y.

Thanks.

THE PORTSMOUTH DIVISION, No. 17, SONS OF TEMPERANCE, desire publicly to acknowledge their great obligations to the PORTSMOUTH CORNET BAND, for invaluable services volunteered at their late Festival.

Also to our Most Worthy Patriarch, Mr. HENRY W. CARTER, and his estimable lady, for their untiring exertions to render our Festival the great success it is acknowledged to have been in all respects.

Also to the other ladies and gentlemen, who took part in the Tableaux, or aided in decorating the Hall, or at the Tables, or in any other way; and to those who contributed supplies for the tables, or elsewhere, or loaned flags, (especially the Officers at the Navy Yard,) pictures, or other articles for the decoration.

And finally, to the public, for their generous patronage.

We would also announce that it is the unanimous desire of the Division, to give MR. & MRS. CARTER a Complimentary Benefit, as some recompense for their great exertions and time spent in our behalf; and we have suggested next Thursday Evening as the time for that Entertainment—which we assure the public will be in no respect inferior to our own Festival.

The Best Manure.

The subscribers respectfully invite the attention of Farmers, Gardeners, and others interested in Agriculture, to a well known and widely used Fertilizer, called

POUDRETTE.

The base of this Fertilizer is night soil, deodorized by chemical agents, and prepared for use by mechanical means. The night-soil is obtained in Newburyport, from deep vaults, the accumulation in many cases of many years, so that it is highly concentrated.

Poudrette is not so concentrated as Guano and some other Fertilizers; therefore it can be used more freely, without hurtful results, as it will not prove injurious when put in direct contact with seeds. It may be used to advantage with corn, vines, around trees, at the time of hoeing, and for top dressing, in damp weather, when not exposed to the sun. It has a most excellent effect in giving a rapid start to the young plant, thus promoting a vigorous growth and an early maturity. For shrubs and potted plants it is invaluable.

A CAUTION has been thrown out in regard to buying dried mud. This caution farmers would do well to heed. We mix no other ingredients with the night-soil but those absolutely required to remove the odor and fit it for use.

DIRECTIONS.—Put the Poudrette in the hill, in direct contact with the seed. A handful to a hill of Corn is sufficient. For Melons, Cucumbers, &c., a larger quantity will be required. Around Trees and Grape Vines, from three to four quarts may be used, to be dug into the soil.

KEEP COOL.—ICE!

The subscriber, having on hand a large stock of PURE ICE from the well-known Beverly hill farm, will still continue in the business. Thanking his old friends for their kind patronage, he solicits a continuance of the same for the coming season.

All orders left with him or at his residence, No. 30 SOUTH STREET, will be promptly attended to. apr26 LANGDON M. PERKINS.

Local.

☞ Wm. Davis, a "Contraband," or "ex-slave," from Fortress Monroe, is to address the citizens of Portsmouth, this (Wednesday) evening, in the Temple, at half past 7. He is commended as an interesting speaker, and trustworthy man, by officers, clergymen and others, especially by Rev. Messrs. Stone, Stow and others of Boston, who are well known here. In his own style, he will give some views of his experience as a slave, and as a contraband,—and exhibit the wants of his brethren at the present time;—and a collection will be taken in aid of efforts for their relief and improvement.

☞ The Sons of Temperance Festival, at Jefferson Hall, which closed on Monday evening, was very successful. A card from the Division will be seen in another column —also the announcement that a new similar entertainment will be offered on Thursday evening, for another object—and one eminently worthy. To Mr. & Mrs. Carter was due much of the merit of the late Festival—and their good taste displayed and untiring exertions for the good cause, should be substantially rewarded, and we doubt not will be.

THE NEWS.—We are often indebted to the telegraph operator in this city—also to gentlemen who receive private dispatches—for telegraphic news considerably in advance of public means of information.—These we are always very glad to receive, and we immediately make "the news" public by our bulletin, to the great satisfaction of many readers.

We should be happy to furnish the telegraphic news regularly, in extra Chronicles, but feel that under all the existing circumstances, it is very difficult if not impossible to do this to our own advantage and the satisfaction of our readers. Could we and they depend upon receiving such glorious news as the past week has brought, we should not hesitate; but as this cannot be—since there is not room in this little world for any great amount of such continued glad tidings—we must content ourselves with "doing the best we can, while we can't do just as we would." Meantime our friends will please accept our thanks for all favors.

☞ A young man, an apprentice in the employ of the Mystic River Company, was seriously injured on board the U. S. steamer Mahaska at Portsmouth Navy Yard on Tuesday. He was engaged in cleaning the machinery, when the waste which he was using for that purpose, caught and drew his hand into the machinery. His hand was torn off at the wrist, and, it is feared, he will be compelled to suffer amputation at the elbow. He was conveyed to the Hospital and, we understand, will remain under the care of Dr. Dulany until he shall have recovered from his injury. Forty dollars were contributed by the officers of the Mahaska for the benefit of the sufferer.

☞ During the thunder showers of Monday afternoon, it is said the steeple of the North Church was struck, and that traces of lightning are distinct on the bell-deck and elsewhere. At any rate, several persons in the vicinity were considerably affected by the lightning at the time.

It is also reported that the steeple of the Episcopal Church was struck. We have no positive knowledge in regard to either.

☞ "Tis none but a mad man will fling about fire." So says the old song—and we say, 'tis no sign of neatness, for storekeepers and others to sweep old paper, chips, &c., into the streets. As Punch said to the couple about to get married, "Don't"—don't do it.

☞ We had March weather in April, and now we are catching April showers in May. But our Spring is not at all backward.

☞ An improvement—that open fence, near the new American House in Market street—in place of the old high close fence which the wind blew down last winter.—We don't believe that either good taste or safety calls for high close fences.

☞ See our Auction column, for sales this week of almost all kinds of property. In fact, the reading of new advertisements is always valuable to live men, whether they appreciate it or not.

☞ The Boston Journal's Washington correspondent says the friends of the Confiscation bill fear that its defeat in the Senate is inevitable, as Senators Fessenden of Maine, Collamer of Vermont, Harris of New York, Cowan of Pennsylvania, and several Western Republicans will probably vote against it.

The same correspondent states that the value of the rebel property captured on the high seas by our cruisers is immense. The government's share of the prize money, resulting from the sale of the vessels and their cargoes, will be sufficient to pay for all the vessels purchased for the navy.—Commodores Alden and McKean will receive about one hundred thousand dollars each as their share of the spoils, and many seamen will receive over five hundred dollars each.

CONGRESS STAMPEDED.—For fear of accidents on the railroad, the stampeded Congress left yesterday in a number of the strongest and newest canal boats. These boats are drawn by mules of approved sweetness of temper. To protect the stampeders from the snakes and bull frogs that abound along the line of the canal, Gen. Winder has detailed a regiment of ladies to march in advance of the mules and clear the tow path of the pirates. The regiment is armed with pop guns of the longest range. The ladies will accompany the stampeders a secluded cave in the mountains of Hepsidam, and leave them there in charge of children of the vicinage, until McClellan thinks proper to let them come forth. The ladies return to the defense of their country —Richmond Whig, April 22.

WALL STREET IN HIGH SPIRITS.—As soon as the price of Government Sixes touched par, on Saturday, on the call at the New York Stock Brokers' Board, three rousing cheers were given, with an energy never before heard among the bulls and bears. J. F. SHORES, JR.,
No. 1 Congress Block,
—has for sale—
1900 BARRELS of the LODI MANUFACT'G CO'S
Superior Poudrette.

This article has been so long used, and with such success, in this vicinity, that a recommendation of it is hardly necessary. One word to those who have not used it—TRY IT.

TRY IT ON YOUR GARDENS!
Try it on your FIELD CROPS!! Try it on your BEANS, your CABBAGES, your Corn, Potatoes. Try it on your GRAPE VINES, your FRUIT TREES, your SHRUBBERY. Try it on your LAWNS, on your MOWING FIELDS.
TRY IT ANYWHERE and EVERYWHERE, where vegetation starts—and you will find that it pays WELL, pays FIRST RATE on the OUTLAY.

The price this year will be uniform, without regard to quantity,

One Dollar and sixty cents per barrel.

Also, for sale,
PURE PERUVIAN GUANO
—and—
Cee's Super-Phosphate of Lime,
warranted genuine. Made of the best materials, and in the most improved manner. It is commended to the public as superior to any other in its market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise; and those engaged in the manufacture and sale of it will continue their best endeavors to advance the reputation which it has already acquired, on its merits alone.

Farmers! Farmers!

Your attention is requested to the following UNSOLICITED recommendation of the LODI MANUFACTURING CO'S
POUDRETTE.

DUNBARTON, N. H., May 1, 1862.
MR. SHORES,—Dear Sir:—
Last year I sent to you for three barrels of Poudrette.

Upon two acres of land I spread about twenty loads of farm manure to the acre. Upon ten rows of corn I put hog manure, a shovel in a hill. Upon the next ten POUDRETTE, and then phosphate of lime upon ten—and thus through the field.

One load of hog manure went five rows of seventy hills.

A bag of Poudrette eighteen rows;
A bag of Phosphate of Lime sixteen rows, all of the same length.

The Corn upon which the Poudrette was spread was more in quantity and superior in quality to the other, and also proves it to be the cheapest.

I want six barrels for this year, and my neighbors want ten or fifteen barrels more.

Please write upon what terms you will furnish it. Yours, CHARLES HOLMES.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.
MR. WM. T. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky.:
Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medical purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others
Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,
I remain, very respectfully, your obt. servt.
WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes out of water breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the cloth perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS WEAR ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of cast iron, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Excellent Wine for Females.

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very medicinal in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

A D V E R T I S E!

Advertise!

IT IS THE

L I F E O F T R A D E!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all and affords the means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right means, nor the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the place at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken in their hooks out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in injudicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances double that amount one-hundred fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so constantly increasing. No man is wise, or does himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience or unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, before, he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, painful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of Seminal Cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, nervous foreboding, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. spr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases. No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A woman was arrested in Manchester last week for the larceny of ladies' wearing apparel, and was confined in the third story of the City Hall Building. The Mirror states that on Friday night she procured in some way a piece of rope four feet long, which she fastened above, and then let herself down to the end of it, and then—dropped to the pavement. She roamed at large until four o'clock Saturday morning, when she was again arrested. She will suffer severely from a badly sprained ancle and wrist, the result of the "drop."

—— Ordained, as colleague pastor with Rev. Dr. Richards, of the Olive street church, Nashua, Mr. Gustavus D. Pike, a student from Andover Institution. Sermon, by Prof. Park.

—— Merceline La Balley, a servant girl in Manchester, died in a fit on Monday morning at 4 1-2 o'clock. She was apparently in perfect health the previous evening.

—— The stockholders of the Nashua Atheneum have voted to present their library to the city "to form the basis of a public City Library, and to appropriate one hundred dollars each year to add to its volumes—to revert to the stockholders if the city fail to comply with the conditions."

—— The yearly meeting of the Free-will Baptists in New Hampshire, will be held at East Andover on Friday, June 13, continuing three days. The General, or U. S. Conference, of the same church, is to be at Hillsdale, Mich., October 1.

☞ Now that the capture of New Orleans is confirmed, we are reminded that one year ago the New Orleans Commercial Bulletin was speculating upon calculations made in the loyal States for this event.—Speaking of the preparations necessary before the Government could reassert its authority there, the Bulletin averred that:

"This tremendous force will commence its march when every requisite is prepared and supplied. As this cannot be accomplished for several years to come, there is no necessity for us to make immediate preparations for the reception of Lincoln's big army. * * * Their ridiculous schemes for our subjugation show conclusively that they are thoroughly alarmed and panic-stricken. We of the South can successfully resist an invasion from a million of such craven wretches."

☞ Minnesota has just sent a new supply of sharpshooters to Washington. They passed through Chicago last week. All of them are frontiersmen, whose "sight" is sure.

☞ The whole number of Americans killed in the war of 1812, was 2816, a less number than the rebel loss in killed at the battle of Shiloh.

THURSDAY, MAY 8, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. McClellan and staff joined the advance before Williamsburg at 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon, and immediately rode to the front, where his presence among the troops was most joyfully hailed. He at once assumed command in person. In a dispatch to Sec. Stanton on the same evening, he says:—

"I found Gen. Joseph Johnston in front of me in strong force, probably greater a great deal than my own. I learn from prisoners that they intend disputing every step to Richmond. I shall run the risk of at least holding them in check while I resume the original plan. My entire force is undoubtedly considerably inferior to that of the rebels, who will fight well, but I will do all I can with the force at my disposal."

From information from prisoners, it was supposed the enemy would make a decisive stand at Williamsburg, reinforcements having been arriving all Monday. The effect of Gen. Hancock's brilliant engagement with the rebels on Monday, however, was to turn the left of their line of works; and he being strongly reinforced, the rebels abandoned their entire position during the night, leaving all their sick and wounded, and those of our wounded whom they had captured, without medicines, rations or surgeons. Their rear guard passed through the town about 6 o'clock, and at 9 o'clock Gen. McClellan and staff entered and took possession. We have about 300 uninjured prisoners, and more than 1000 wounded. The rebel loss in killed was very heavy, and a number of their dead were left unburied. Our loss was heavy in Gen. Hooker's division, but very little on the other parts of the field.

A dispatch from Gen. McClellan, dated Williamsburg, 6th, says:—"Every hour proves our victory more complete. The enemy's loss was great, especially in officers. Have just heard of five more guns being captured. Prisoners are constantly arriving." A dispatch to the N. Y. Times says: our forces fought all day Monday. At the outset we took two rebel earthworks, and were advancing; but the exhaustion of the regiments earliest in the field and which had had no provisions during the day, compelled them to fall back. One of our batteries was lost in the mud, and its horses were shot. Gen. McClellan, on assuming command at 5 o'clock, sent back the exhausted men, filled their places with fresh troops, drove back the enemy, re-possessed the grounds and works taken in the morning, and captured another breastwork. The firing was kept up till after dark, at which time everything looked well. Tuesday, the whole army, reserves, regulars and all, was ordered up, and the battle would have been resumed had the rebels stood their ground. A strong force had been sent to West Point, to attack them in their rear.

The Savannah News has a special dispatch from Mobile, of the 1st of May, which states that forts Jackson and Philip had fallen, and that the rebel General Duncan was in New Orleans on his parole.—Also, that the Federal flag was hoisted on the Custom House at New Orleans.

Steamer Columbia, from Havana the 3d, has arrived at New York. The gunboat Daniel Smith arrived at Havana on the 30th ult., from Fort Jackson the 26th.—The attack on the rebel forts commenced the 18th. On the 23d Flag Officer Farragut, in the Hartford, with thirteen steamers, passed the forts, and Gen. Butler landed 4000 men above. The rebels lost 11 gunboats and the Hollins turtle Manassas, the latter being sunk by the steamship Mississippi. Our forces took 400 prisoners. We lost 150 men, and one gunboat, the Verona, was sunk. The rebel iron clad steamer Webster ran into the Verona and sunk her, but before going under, the Verona's crew poured in a volley of eight guns so destructive and crushing that both the Verona and Webster went down together. Twenty mortar and three gunboats were engaged against the forts, silencing them after many days incessant fighting. The chains across the river were removed by our gunboats.—The rebels sent fire rafts down the river, but they did little damage, as our forces sent small boats to the rafts, which towed them out of the way before they could do any harm. The rebel loss is unknown.—On the 24th a flag of truce was sent to Commander Porter, asking the conditions of surrender, to which Gen. Porter replied, "No conditions!" Our flag now waves over the Custom House.

On Monday, Gen. Halleck removed his camp from Pittsburg Landing to Monterey, Tenn. Rain had fallen in torrents for 30 hours, and an advance was prevented by the bad roads. Our pickets could distinctly hear the beating of drums and the whistle of locomotives at Corinth. It is stated that the enemy is receiving heavy reinforcements daily, and that, on Sunday last, Gen. Bragg made a speech to his troops, telling them that it was the intention of Beauregard and his Generals to give the Federals battle at Corinth. It was reported in Chicago, however, on Tuesday, that Corinth was evacuated on Saturday night, and the place occupied by Gen. Pope on Sunday.

Fredericksburg, Va., was occupied by our forces on Tuesday, and large quantities of ammunition and supplies were seized, together with several stands of arms.

Advices from Gen. Burnside's division state that a regiment of loyal North Carolinians had been organized. Many Union men had voluntarily come in and taken the oath, and will be armed by Gen. Burnside to defend their homes against the rebels.

By a steamer from Port Royal we learn that the Pon Pon battery, at the junction of the Dahoo and Pon Pon rivers, has been taken by the gunboat Hale. The rebels fled as soon as she came within 300 yards of the battery, leaving two 32-pounders, one of them loaded.

Gen. Steele writes, under date of Fitman's Ferry, Ark., April 26: The secession troops have all left Arkansas, except 500 or 600, and my cavalry are after them. I consider Arkansas in the Union again effectually. We have no fighting, except skirmishing. The rebels would not stand.

☞ During the thunder shower of Monday afternoon, the barn of Mr. Wm. Plaisted, at Stratham, was struck by lightning, considerably shattered, and set on fire, but it was immediately extinguished. Mr. P. was standing in the barn when the bolt came at the west corner of the building, and threw boards and timbers all about, but without harming him, or even at all causing him to feel any shock. Going out to look at the damage, he found the hay inside on fire, and having a bucket of water at hand, which his horse had just refused to drink, he was enabled by vigorous stamping also, to extinguish the flames.

The lightning passed down from the roof, crushing and tearing the whole corner of the barn, and splitting in two a rock about five inches through, and passing under the barn just where Mr. P. was, and out near the door at the other end, throwing dirt into the opening so as almost to touch him.

Another portion of the fluid struck an apple tree fifteen feet or so off, split the bark down, and made a hole in the ground as large as a rake handle.

A shoemaker at work fifty yards off or so, felt the shock so that his head was bowed down involuntarily; and a lady in a house nearer, declared that "the ball" hit her on the head, and would kill her—but strange to say, Mr. Plaisted himself, though within a few inches of the path of the electricity, felt none of its effects.

A connexion of his, at the Plains in this city, said, at the time of the thunder and lightning:—that "Mr. Plaisted's house or barn was struck," (it being eight miles off)—and sure enough it was!

☞ The Louisville Journal says that L. Pope Walker, the rebel ex-Secretary of War, who predicted that the rattlesnake flag would float over Philadelphia, New York and Boston, when Gen. Mitchell's forces advanced upon Huntsville, his place of residence, ran away at 12 o'clock at night, and has not been heard of since. Upon the same occasion, the last that was seen of John Bell he was running through a corn field. He afterwards had the effrontery to ask permission to return to Huntsville, but Gen. Mitchell replied that if he could not go to Nashville he could not come to Huntsville.

☞ In Cazenovia, N. Y., recently, a district school gave an exhibition, embracing a dramatic scene in which a deserter was to be shot. The act was performed, and the lad who acted the part—a son of Rev. L. E. Swan—fell dead upon the stage. It was found that on loading the gun, a brass ferrule on the ram-rod had slipped from its place and remained in the barrel. The ferrule struck him in the side, fracturing two ribs and coming out through the back.

REV. THOMAS SNELL, D. D., died at North Brookfield, Mass., on Sunday, 4th inst., in the 83th year of his age, and the 54th year of his ministry. He graduated at Dartmouth College in 1795, and was ordained over the small parish in Brookfield (now North Brookfield) June 27, 1798 and continued sole pastor till 1851, a period of over 53 years.

☞ The people of Memphis say they have seven thousand hogsheads of sugar and twenty thousand barrels of molasses upon their bluff, and that they will tumble the whole into the river upon the approach of the Federal forces. A contemporary says they merely mean to sweeten the Mississippi to supply what they know to be a favorate drink for the Yankees coming up from New Orleans.

THE NASHVILLE.—It is stated on authority which seems entitled to credit, that this steamer has again run the blockade, and is now at Wilmington.

☞ Gen. J. E. Johnston is in command of the rebel army recently at Yorktown.—Davis was at Richmond at last accounts.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In Pelham, on the 9th ult., Charles Newton was killed while splitting a log with powder. A wedge flew out, entering his forehead and projecting at the back part of his head. He breathed a few minutes afterward, but did not speak.

—— Mr. F. T. Richardson, who in company with J. G. Edgerly went to Fortress Monroe, from Manchester last week, to become clerk in the Post Office there, writes that there are 60,000 letters mailed every day. They work from six o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night. Guess they earn their money.

—— Wm. Chellis, of Orange, while loading spars on the cars at Grafton Depot not long since, was seriously injured by one of the spars rolling on his foot and ankle, crushing them badly. It was a heavy piece of timber and required five men to remove it.

—— Arrangements have been made for the early erection of a new building for the Post Office in Concord, to be located on the old Damon lot, corner of Main and School streets, just across the latter from the present location. The Patriot says this is undoubtedly the best location in the city, the most central and convenient.

—— The Right Reverend Bishop Chase, of the N. H. Diocese, will preach in Pawtuckaway Hall, in Epping, next Sabbath, May 11th.
